ROOSEVELT TELLS OF PERILS IN WILDS; MAN WENT INSANE

Finally Murdered a Companion and Then Fled Into Recesses of the Forest.

KERMIT NEARLY LOST LIFE

With Two Others of Party Barely Escaped When a Member Was Drowned in Stream.

COLONEL RECOVERS FROM INJURIES

PARA, Brazil, May 5.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt in an interview today on board the steamer Dunstan, on which he had just arrived from Manaos, gave many interesting details of his exploring trip through the wilds of Brazil.

The colonel said that under the strain of the trip one of his men went mad, murdered one of his companions, and fled into the wilderness. Kermit Roosevelt and two others narrowly escaped drowning when a member of the party lost his life in one of the numerous rapids of a river that was being explored.

"We saw no Indians," the colonel said, "but twice heard them. While Col. Rondon, the chief of the Brazilian mission, was out alone hunting his dog was killed by arrows. The dog's death probably saved Col. Rondon's life.

Calls Expedition Signal Success.

"I had a severe bout of fever and while working around the canoe in the rapids bruised my leg, which developed into a bad abscess, but I am now practically all right.

"The expedition has proved a signal success. It was undertaken originally for the American Museum of Natural History.

"During our trip George K. Cherry and Leo C. Miller, the naturalists, collected over 2,100 birds and mammals and a few reptiles, batrachians, and fish, chiefly from regions not hitherto traversed by any collector and many representing species hitherto unknown to science.

"The most important part of our trip was geographical. In the exploration of an unknown river we have put on the map a river nearly 1,000 miles long, the existence of which is not hinted at on published maps.

Tells of Little Known River.

"The upper part of its course was utterly unknown to anybody except the wild Indians along its banks, while the lower part was known to a few rubber men only. The river takes its rise in the high uplands of the western part of the state of Matto Grosso, just north of the thirteenth parallel of south latitude and between longitude 59 and 60 west of Greenwich.

"We embarked in latitude 12 degrees 1 minute south and longitude 60 degrees 15 minutes west.

"The river ran with many doublings and twistings almost due north into the River Madeira, where its entrance was at about 5 degrees, 30 minutes south latitude.

"We were sixty days in canoes. In latitude 7 degrees south we passed the last rapids and reached the steamer when we were but thirty-six hours from Manaos.

"In latitude 10 degrees 58 minutes south we struck the mouth of a big affluent flowing from the right, and in latitude 9 degrees 40 minutes south we came to the mouth of another big affluent flowing from the left.

Rapids Prevent Navigation.

"The Duvida river in point of volume is like the Rhone, the Elbe, or the Hudson, but it is too much broken up by rapids to be navigable except in the lower parts. In about 7 degrees 30 minutes south latitude it joins another river practically the same size flowing from the right.

"From about 11 degrees 48 minutes to 10 degrees 48 minutes south latitude the course of the Duvida is almost an unbroken series of rapids, there being no clear day's run without them. This was the hard part of our journey.

"We were during six weeks at steady labor slogging our way, on an average making not more than a couple of miles a day. The last part of this time we were living on half rations.

"Two sets of rapids were at the bottom of cañons where the river clove its way through the mountain chains.

"Of the seven canoes with which we started five were lost in the rapids."

DETAILS OF ROOSEVELT WEDDING

MADRID, May 5.—The wedding of Kermit Roosevelt and Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, daughter of Col. J. F. Willard, American ambassador to Spain, has been fixed to take place on June 11 at the British embassy chapel here.

The ceremony is to be performed by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Watson, rector of the American church of the Holy Trinity, Paris, assisted by the Rev. Herbert Brown of the British chapel, Madrid.

The maid of honor is to be the bride's sister, Elizabeth, and the bridesmaids Princess Thurn und Taxis, Katherine Page, daughter of Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador in London; Gilone Le Veneur de Tillieres of Paris, and Virgina Christian of Virginia.

As this will be the first occasion in many years that a member of the family of a foreign diplomat has been married in Madrid, the wedding is arousing the greatest interest.

LITERATURE ABSURD CAREER.

Ambassador Page Says No One Should Adopt It if There Is Any Way to Avoid It.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, May 5.—At the annual banquet tonight of the Royal Literary Fund for the Relief of Necessitous Authors Mr. Page, the American ambassador, referring to a literary career, said: "From the viewpoint of mere barnyard gumption it is absurd for anybody to start to spend his life writing. Gambling is more likely to yield a steady income. It is an absurd career and a foolish, foolhardy business. No man has a right to take it up who can avoid doing so."

BRITAIN TO TAKE PART IN FAIR.

Will Reconsider Decision and May Be Represented at San Francisco in Modified Form.

LONDON, May 5.—The British government will reconsider its decision not to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco and it probably will decide that Great Britain shall be represented officially at the fair, but in a modified form.

POLICEWOMEN BUY DRINK IN TEARNEY'S AFTER ONE O'CLOCK

Say Ex-Alderman Ejected Them When They Begged Him to Obey Law.

CLAIMED 'PULL' WITH MAYOR

'Beat It,' He Told Feminine Cops Who Report Violation, but "Al" Is Not Arrested.

FIVE OTHERS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

A reporter for THE TRIBUNE entered the notorious Auto inn, manned by ex-Ald. Al R. Tearney, at Thirty-fifth street and Calumet avenue, last night. It was about 7 o'clock. A thin man with a white necktie was "rolling one" while addressing a fat man with a red neck.

"It's them skirt cops," explained the thin party. "They got the administration in a hole when the mayor first picked 'em. Then they was pulled out f'rm under the wings of Mother Funkhouser and sent to the tall grass. What does they do? Why, they busts right into here and puts the bee on Al. Ain't it a shame?"

Here's What Had Happened.

Which is about the case in a nutshell. Two policewomen working out of Thirty-fifth street police station prepared a report, which was forwarded to First Deputy Schuettler in the afternoon. The report is sealed from the public. But the gist of it is that Tearney sold drinks to two policewomen, who were without escorts, and permitted them to remain until after 1 o'clock in the morning. This is a violation of the city ordinance which has cost more than one Chicago saloonkeeper his license.

"Al" Escapes; Five Others Arrested.

No warrant was issued for "Al." The report must go from Mr. Schuettler to James S. McInerney, city prosecutor, who, in due time, may issue a summons calling upon Mr. Tearney to appear in court. When THE TRIBUNE exposed Tearney's place as a nightly violator of the 1 o'clock closing law several months ago it was necessary for THE TRIBUNE to send its own attorneys into court before Mr. McInerney concluded to prosecute.

However, five other south side café owners were accorded different treatment last night. Warrants were issued for their arrest. They are specifically charged with permitting cabaret singers to mingle with the patrons. Again, the policewomen filed the complaints. Detectives began arresting them at 8 o'clock.

These Proprietors Taken.

The prisoners were named as proprietors of the following cafés:

Mendelsohn's, 17 East Thirty-fifth street.

Russell's, South State and Thirty-first street.

Hoskins', 3161 South State street.

Wales', Indiana avenue and East Thirty-ninth street.

The policewomen who caused all this trouble are Mabel Rockwell and Julia Cunningham. A reporter found them in the office of Police Captain Max Nootbaar last evening. Mr. Nootbaar was not disposed to permit an interview, but the women did tell the story of their experience in Tearney's—or most of it.

Buy Drinks at 1:30 A. M.

Here is their story:

"We went into the side door. It was on our rounds of all the cafés and dance halls to which we are assigned. It was about ten minutes before 1 o'clock. We sat down at a table near the door and ordered a drink. The waiter brought it to us.

"We remained there until about 1:30 o'clock. Finally the waiter wanted the money and he sent for Tearney. Tearney then recognized us as policewomen.

"'I should worry about you policewomen!' he said to us. 'I've got a pull with the mayor and the chief. That's enough. Now beat it.'

"We told him he was violating the law and then we went out."

"Was the place full?"

"Yes," Mrs. Rockwell said.

"There must have been some excitement," a reporter suggested.

"There wasn't any at all," the captain broke in. "The women were courteous."

"Did you drink the drinks?" the questioner persisted.

"Good heavens, no!" Policewoman Cunningham exclaimed. "Mrs. Rockwell almost fainted when she had to order her first drink."

Nootbaar Tells Different Story.

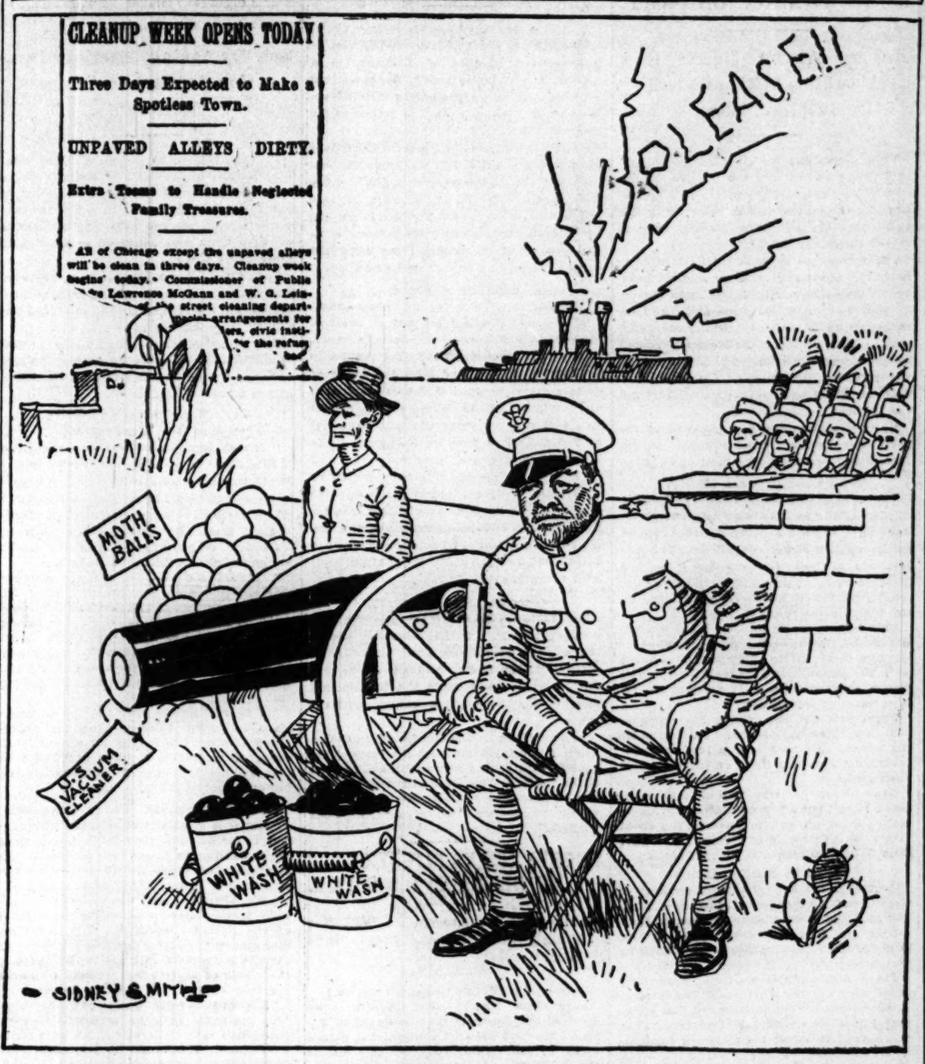

"The place also had been reported by the patrolman on the beat," interrupted Capt. Max Nootbaar, who seemed to want to keep his subordinates from talking. "The women just went in and ordered the drinks. The police regulations say a saloon must be cleared of patrons by five minutes after 1 o'clock. People can't even stay to finish their food. Tearney told them to beat it and that's the whole story."

"Al" was telephoning to some one about the case, when a reporter approached him. He was saying, "I suppose I'll get a slam in the papers in the morning. Everything else is all right. Good-by."

"Al" accorded the reporters a different reception from the last experience about a year ago. At that time a camera man for THE TRIBUNE photographed the long line of automobiles standing outside of the "Auto inn" and was attacked by Tearney, who wielded a knife, and a mob of his bouncers. A reporter who went to the photographer's aid was struck in the face with a monkey

FUNSTON—"I WISH I HAD A CLEANUP WEEK."

CAR LINES FAIL TO ADD TO SEATS

FORTY IN 100 MUST STAND.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The surface street car lines last fall promised a 30 per cent increase in the loop rush hour transportation facilities if permitted to consolidate the management of the companies. That privilege was granted by the council on Nov. 13 last.

The pledge of the companies has not been kept to date. Instead of 30 per cent increase in facilities, less than 5 per cent has been given. Five-sixths of the promise has not been fulfilled.

This information was conveyed yesterday to Chairman Block of the council local transportation committee by the board of supervising engineers.

The board has just completed a thorough investigation of the rush hour service and the report contains the data collected. It will be read at the meeting of the local transportation committee today.

As Much Crowding as a Year Ago.

The report shows there is approximately as much crowding during the rush hour as there was a year ago. In 1913 forty persons out of each 100, on the average, were forced to stand during the rush home. The proportion exists now.

The companies have not improved the traveling conditions, although they have increased their facilities. The percentage of increase in traffic has been about the same as the increase in the facilities supplied.

The companies promised 30 per cent increase in facilities. During the rush hour that means at least 835 cars. To date the companies have added only fifty-five cars.

A 30 per cent increase during the rush hour means 15,035 seats. To date the companies have added only 2,320. Eight months ago the average number of passengers to a car was seventy-five. The average is the same today. Eight months ago the number of passengers hauled in a day was 83,040. Today the number is 87,245.

Last year the companies supplied 50,116 seats. Now they provide 52,486 seats.

Passengers and Seats.

The percentage of increase in the number of passengers was 5.1, as reckoned by the board of supervising engineers. There was only 4.9 per cent increase in the number of cars or seats.

While the companies have only increased the number of cars operated in the loop rush hour by fifty-five in the last eight months, they are promising 130 more cars in the next ten days. Where these will be put is a matter for the aldermen to ascertain. If most of them are placed on the lines in the outlying districts, it follows necessarily they will not help materially the loop rush hour. Later in the year, probably by Nov. 1, it is expected the companies will add another 150 cars. Some of the aldermen may want to know why these 150 cars have not been obtained before this date. The ordinance permitting the unified operation was passed on Nov. 13. Six months have elapsed since. In that period some of the cars which are now promised might have been purchased and delivered, in the opinion of certain aldermen.

Aldermen Discuss Situation.

The aldermen were discussing the transportation situation privately yesterday in the committee rooms.

"If the surface line officials think they can delay giving the 30 per cent increase in service they are geussing wrong," said one influential alderman. "The companies have had the benefit of the unified management for some time. They have been saving money by the consolidation. I have no objection to that. But I strenuously object to the companies effecting a material saving when they have not increased the service materially.

"The surface lines will give that additional service within a reasonably short time or I will begin to protest. The only acceptable reason for not giving the service will be a written statement from the board of supervising engineers that it is not physically possible. And the board cannot make such a representation without admitting the 30 per cent promise was an incorrect estimate, against which it did not protest at the time the unification ordinance was under consideration."

Busby Explains in Letter.

L. A. Busby, president of the consolidated lines, has sent a letter to the committee telling in detail what has been done to comply with the unification ordinance. The committee may ask for a weekly statement from the railway president, in order that the aldermen may be informed regarding the progress.

"If it takes six months to fulfill one-sixth of the promise for increased facilities," commented another alderman, "it will take three years for the citizens to get all that has been promised at the rate the surface lines have been moving. I propose to get faster action."

It has been the practice to remove the small single truck cars as new double track cars have been purchased. It is estimated 125 of these small cars are still in service. These cars seat thirty-six to thirty-eight persons. The new cars, which are to be placed on the streets in ten days, have fifty-four seats. These are 25 per cent larger than the large cars now in service, according to the railway officials.

YALE ATHLETE DRAWS FINE FOR PUNCHING A CITIZEN.

Stanhope W. Nixon, Son of Wealthy New Yorker, Admits He Had Been Drinking—Remembers Nothing.

New Haven, Conn., May 5.—Stanhope W. Nixon, until recently a prominent Yale student and a son of Lewis Nixon of New York, was today found guilty in the city court of a technical charge of breach of the peace in connection with the assault upon Edward W. Everit, chief engineer of a telephone company, on Oct. 21 last. Judge O'Mears imposed a fine of $200 and costs. Notices of an appeal were filed.

Nixon took the stand in his own behalf. He said on the night in question he had been drinking with other students and his mind was a blank as to what had occurred.

Throughout the trial today the courtroom was crowded with Yale students, many sitting on the floor. Nixon, until his recent withdrawal from college, was a member of exclusive societies and a varsity oarsman. Mr. and Mrs. Nixon were in court, and were visibly affected by their son's testimony.

RESCUES BRIDGE JUMPER WHO FIGHTS FOR DEATH.

Policeman and Attempted Suicide Pulled to Shore with Rope Hurled by Another Patrolman.

Policeman W. Liller stood on the Loomis street bridge over the south branch of the Chicago river yesterday afternoon. A raw wind blew from the northeast.

A man clambered up on the rail, stood poised a second, and plunged into the river. Liller yelled, then jumped after him.

The policeman, despite his hampering clothes, swam vigorously in pursuit. Then a fight began. The man wanted to die. Spluttering and panting he tried to wrest himself from the policeman's grip. Liller continued to tread water and hold fast until John Creed, another policeman, threw a rope, pulling them to shore.

The rescued man at the Canalport station gave his name as Edward Agren, a machinist of Omaha, Neb. He said he had been unable to find work and sought death.

PICKS UP 13 MEN OF BURNED BOAT

Liner Sights One Boatload of Crew of Steamer Columbian; 19 Missing.

CONTINUES SEA SEARCH.

BULLETIN.

SABLE ISLAND, N. S., May 6, 4 a. m.—Capt. McDonald and thirteen members of the crew of the British steamer Columbian, burned at sea, were saved by the steamer Manhattan. A wireless despatch to this effect was received from the Manhattan by the Marconi station here early today.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—The identity of the steamer which burned on the Grand Banks about 300 miles east of Cape Race yesterday was established today as the Leyland liner Columbian, bound from Antwerp to New York.

Wireless messages received at Sable island, N. S., from the Cunard liner Franconia stated that the liner had picked up a boatload of thirteen survivors of the crew of the Columbian. In the boat was the body of the chief steward, Matthews.

Having learned that another boat with nineteen men, probably including Capt. McDonald, was still adrift, Capt. Miller ordered the Franconia turned about on a searching cruise.

Those aboard the Franconia are James Drohan, wireless operator; Antone Elas, carpenter; Ivar Iverson, boatswain's mate; Unguse Prinse, Jens Jansen; A. Abelnick, quartermaster; Gustav Schriborm, engineer; Thomas Connor, Juri Lel, and Arthur Brantik, able seamen; Antony Cordones and Bennett Rother, firemen, and Frank Wedekind, mess room steward.

Survivors Suffer from Exposure.

The survivors suffered terribly during forty hours' exposure in an open boat. Of their sufferings and of the death of Chief Steward Matthews during this time the men could say little when they were brought on to the decks of the Franconia.

A. MacKay Pentz, a member of the firm of Sanderson and Son, the local agents of the Phoenix line, tonight estimated the number of the Columbian's crew between forty-five and fifty.

There were no passengers, Mr. Pentz said. The steamer had a miscellaneous cargo. He estimated its value at between $200,000 and $300,000.

The Franconia stopped searching for the Columbian's missing lifeboats early tonight, and is on the way to Boston, where it expects to arrive at midnight tomorrow.

The steamships Manhattan, New York for Antwerp, and the Haverford, Philadelphia for Liverpool, are steering for position to search for the lifeboats, the message said.

Explosion Wrecks Wireless Outfit.

The Columbian caught fire Sunday night when about 300 miles south of Cape Race. A series of violent explosions followed almost immediately.

Capt. McDonald ordered the wireless operator to send out calls for assistance, but one of the explosions put the wireless apparatus out of commission, cutting off the Columbian from communication with nearby ocean liners which might have gone to the rescue.

The men left the Columbian in two boats. Chief Steward Matthews was in charge of the first. This boat put away from the steamer and hove to for a time, but in the dense smoke which surrounded the burning vessel the other boat was not visible and the steward's boat finally drifted away.

NAME MAY 18 FOR MEETING OF MEDIATORS

Niagara Falls, Canada, Will Be Scene of Their Discussion.

CARRANZA REFUSES AID

Turn Down of Armistice Gives Huerta Chance to Avoid Pledge.

HE CAN RENEW HOSTILITIES

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Secretary Bryan announced tonight that the three South American mediators in the Mexican difficulty would meet at Niagara Falls, Canada, May 18 to receive representatives of the parties to the controversy. Mr. Bryan said:

"The mediators have notified the different parties that Niagara Falls, Canada, has been selected as the place where the mediators will confer with representatives of the different parties interested in the mediation, and that the 18th of May has been fixed as the date when the conference will begin."

This place of meeting was suggested by the mediators themselves. They selected Niagara Falls instead of Havana, which was expected to be chosen.

Realize Handicap on Task.

The mediators realize that the refusal of Gen. Carranza to suspend hostilities has circumscribed their task.

Instead of arranging for the pacification of all Mexico and thus assuring a permanent peace, Huerta now can insist that the differences between himself and the United States are limited to the insults offered to the American flag and uniform and to the American seizure of Vera Cruz.

The administration is anxious that the mediators shall admit a representative of Carranza to the proposed conference, in spite of his refusal to suspend hostilities. This suggestion is declared to be out of the question.

Message Sent to Carranza.

The mediators will stand on the following communication sent to Carranza:

We have received your telegram in which you are kind enough to tell us that you deem it inconvenient for the Constitutionalist cause to suspend hostilities against Gen. Huerta, on the ground that such suspension would only accrue to the benefit of Huerta and in which you declare that the international conflict between Mexico and the United States, for the solution of which you accepted our good offices, is independent of the internal strife in that country.

We consider this unexpected statement as inconsistent with the idea which caused us to offer our good offices. We think, indeed, that all the difficulties which have contributed toward the present situation in Mexico bear either directly or indirectly on the solution of the pending conflict between Mexico and the United States.

Consequently we think that these difficulties should be made the subject of consideration in the negotiations for whose successful conduct we have deemed it indispensable to suspend hostilities.

Should you not deem it so, we would be compelled in that case to withdraw as inopportune our invitation for the appointment of representatives of the Constitutionalists in such negotiations.

We beg to assure you of our highest consideration.

Will Not Curb Carranza.

It was learned today that nothing has been done by the president or Secretary Bryan to insist that Carranza shall suspend hostilities.

They want him to take advantage of the difficulties of Huerta with the United States.

It is currently reported that within the last forty-eight hours $1,000,000 worth of arms and ammunition has been shipped across the border to the Constitutionalist forces.

Whether this is true or not, it is the fact that foodstuffs, medical supplies, and shoes have been given entry into Mexico with the approval of the government here.

In the view of Latin-Americans this material is as helpful to Carranza in his military operations as are rifles and cartridges.

Cannot Be American Allies.

Secretary Bryan knows the views of the mediators. He knows that they cannot carry on the negotiations if placed in the position of serving as the allies of the United States. They are the friends of all parties to the controversy, the partisans of none. So the mediation is proceeding badly.

The president is willing to make almost any concession except that of recognising Huerta, in order to assure peace.

He wants the negotiations to continue. If a break comes the responsibility will rest upon Huerta or Carranza. From present knowledge it would appear that this responsibility belongs to Carranza in view of his refusal to suspend hostilities or permit the internal situation of the country to be discussed.

The whole matter was considered at length at the cabinet meeting today.

Not only was the mediation situation a subject of concern but the conditions at Vera Cruz were referred to in a manner that shows that the president and his advisers are worried.

Carranza's refusal to suspend hostilities frees the hands of Huerta. He can strike at any moment that he deems opportune and can do so without violating the response he gave to the mediators. Secretary Bryan admitted this fact today.

No arrangements have been made for a truce between this country and Huerta.

Maas Has 13,000 Men.

As the situation now stands, Gen. Maas, the Mexican Federal general, with 13,000 men is facing Brig. Gen. Funston at Vera Cruz.

The war department received word this afternoon that Gen. Funston had sent a strong body of troops to defend the water plant nine miles from the city. It is also understood that practically the entire American army will be distributed at strategical points outside of Vera Cruz and that Rear Admiral Badger will be called upon to return ashore the marines and sailors he withdrew from Vera Cruz on Funston's arrival.

Funston has asked several times for more men at Vera Cruz, but President Wilson has refused to permit the embarkation of more troops.

Secretary Daniels this afternoon said Funston, as commander, can call upon Badger for every man available for shore duty without first getting orders from Washington and that Badger must furnish the men.

Transports Held at Galveston.

The situation at Vera Cruz is regarded as critical. The Federal troops are concentrating daily, and before the end of the week Gen. Maas will have a force from two to three times as large as Funston can muster, even by calling for all the marines and sailors who can be spared from the ships.

The army transports are tied up at Galveston under full steam, ready to sail on receipt of orders, but President Wilson has declined to give the orders for a further embarkation.

As the situation now stands, the refusal of Carranza to agree to an armistice relieves Gen. Maas of the necessity of notifying the American forces under Funston of the termination of the armistice. He is at liberty under The Hague rules and international law to attack whenever he sees fit.

Secretary Garrison, earnestly desiring to go into the conflict prepared, is still held back by the president. The latter does not want to make a move which Huerta can construe as warlike.

New Hostilities at Tampico.

Hostilities have broken out anew at Tampico between the Constitutionalists and Federalists, according to a report received today from Admiral Mayo. Rear Admiral Mayo was unable to get any information concerning the protection to be afforded the Tampico oil fields.

The state department today received definite word that Gen. Maas is holding a number of Americans as prisoners outside of Vera Cruz.

Word also was received that thirteen Americans have been detained at Mulaktuyes, in the state of Puebla. The British consul at Tuxpam has demanded their release.

American consular business at Progresso, Puerto Mexico, Frontera, and Carmen has been turned over to the French officials at those places.

Six hundred American refugees in Mexico City will not leave there tonight, as scheduled, but have been promised accommodations Thursday night. Gen. Huerta informed the Brazilian minister in Mexico City he could not send them to Puerto Mexico, because of lack of rolling stock.

OFFICIALS PLAN SERVICES FOR SAMUEL MEISENBERG.

Committee Meets to Arrange Details of Public Funeral Which Will Honor Chicago Marine.

The body of Private Samuel Meisenberg, who fell at Vera Cruz, is expected to reach New York on May 11, according to a message received from Washington by Meyer Meisenberg, brother of the dead marine. The body is being brought north on the Montana.

Morris Meisenberg, father of "Sammy," has said that he will go to New York to bring the body to Chicago.

A meeting of various public officials and military officers was held at the Hotel Sherman to make plans for a public funeral. The committee in charge includes Capt. Robert Y. Rhea, officer in command of the Chicago division of the marine recruiting service; Abel Davis, former county recorder; Col. Edward Romberg, a member of Gov. Dunne's staff; Col. Milton J. Foreman, First cavalry, I. N. G.; Jacob M. Loeb and Harry Lipsky of the board of education, Jacob Le Bosky, attorney for the west park board; and Col. August Miller, Second regiment, I. N. G.

The women of the Grand Army of the Republic yesterday were granted permission to place a flag on the bier. Services will be held at Anshe Kanasses Israel.

The Independent Folticener Sick Benefit society also will take part in the funeral services.

Military Police Start Cleanup of Redlight District When Private Is Found Missing.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

Vera Cruz, May 5.—Private J. B. MacDonald of the marine corps has been missing since last Saturday night and it is believed that he was killed in the local red light district. In consequence Gen. Funston's military police have begun to clean up the city of undesirables, American and Mexicans.

MEXICANS MINE ROAD TO CAPITAL

Ready to Destroy Rail Route in Case Americans Make Any Advance.

MORE CANNON ON WAY.

Refugee Asserts Huerta Goes About City Without Guard Despite Rumors.

Vera Cruz, May 5.—The Mexican Federal troops have mined the railroad tracks from Vera Cruz to Mexico City in preparation for the destruction of the road in the event that the American forces attempt a march on the capital.

The mines are reported to be located a half mile apart and Mexican soldiers have been detailed to touch off the fuses should hostilities begin. These preparations and the throwing up of defenses, which are daily making the position of the Mexican Federal troops stronger, are known to be a source of worry to Gen. Funston and it is understood that he would welcome orders to start for the Mexican capital at once.

No confirmation had been received of reports that the San Francisco bridge on the Interoceanic railroad had been damaged.

More Cannon Held Ready.

The refugee who brought the report of the mining of the railroad also says the Mexicans have shipped a dozen or more cannon to the vicinity of Paso del Macho, the headquarters of Gen. Gustavo Maas, on the Mexican railway, and a like number to Gen. Guillermo Rubio Navarrete at Jalapa, on the Interoceanic railroad.

This refugee called on Gen. Maas at Paso del Macho, having been furnished a safe conduct by Gen. Huerta. He spent some hours with the general while the train on which he was a passenger was held pending the arrangement of formalities.

From personal observation he estimated that Gen. Maas had less than 1,000 men under his orders. He saw only a few small detachments here and there on the way from the capital.

Gen. Navarrete, who is said to have entered Vera Cruz a few days after the American occupation and to have moved about freely in disguise, is now reported to have from 500 to 600 men with him at Jalapa.

Quiet in Mexico City.

Events in the capital since the taking of Vera Cruz were then narrated by the refugee. He said there were street demonstrations during the first few days, when various American business houses were stoned by the mob.

These demonstrations were apparently ended by a proclamation issued by a number of prominent merchants in the capital whose sympathies were with the revolution. They endeavored to offset the alarming falsifications published by the government press. They also tried to relate with more or less truth the state of affairs in Vera Cruz.

One of the direct results of the merchants' action was the abandonment of a gigantic demonstration projected by the Spanish colony, based upon a widely circulated report that the Americans had sunk the Spanish cruiser Emperador Carlos V., in the harbor of Vera Cruz and had declared war against Spain.

Under cover of this proposed demonstration it was reliably reported that a number of Mexicans intended to make a general attack on the Americans.

Raiders Will Be Punished.

The confiscation of arms, except those taken from the United States embassy, and of automobiles was done without official sanction, and it was stated that the automobiles would be returned to their owners and those responsible for their appropriation sent to jail where it was possible to fix the blame.

Mexico City, he said, was filled with rumors that Gen. Huerta had resigned and disappeared, but the provisional president in the meantime went about the city with his customary freedom and without a guard, lunching and dining in public restaurants and giving no outward appearance of the strain under which he was living.

Two More Americans Die.

Two of the sailors wounded during the occupation of Vera Cruz died today. They were Harry Pulliam, fireman, and Clarence R. Hirschberger, seaman, both of the battleship Utah.

Consul Canada reported today that several employés of the Reale del Monte company of Pachuca had arrived at Vera Cruz. They are: Morris Andre, M. Wibeckworth, John Bostrom, George Bridger, J. P. Broiderick, Fred Brown, Mr. and Mrs. D. Scalland, E. N. Hanson, R. P. Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Kayser, and two children, Leslie Kerry, Henry Kutler, Al Lynch, R. Montagne, Mrs. M. A. Pearson, J. E. Smith, W. B. Washington, Joseph Wilson, Mildred Wright, R. W. Young, and Kenneth Walker.

CALLS MEXICO CLASH TREASON

Congressman Madden Says Americans Should Be Punished.

PLOT ACCUSATION VOICED.

Asserts Persons in This Country Have Effected Statu Quo.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Congressman Madden of Chicago, in a speech in the house today, declared that American citizens representing the different factions in Mexico should be punished for treason.

The Chicagoan said the present conditions in Mexico are due to the plotting of Americans and certain foreigners who have made their headquarters in this country. He said a law should be passed making it treason for Americans to participate in such work and preventing foreigners from using the United States as a base for their plotting.

In Favor of Peace.

"No one is more in favor of peace than I am," he said, "but I am not in favor of peace at the expense of the nation's honor. I think our present difficulty is more due to the fact that we have been the home of plotters in the persons of American citizens and foreigners who have been allowed a domicile within our country and who have created conditions which have brought us to the verge of war.

"My thought is that if there is no law by which men who form themselves into juntas and establish headquarters in America for the purpose of advocating measures that lead the nation into war or trouble of any kind can be reached and punished, there ought to be such a law enacted.

Cites the Headquarters.

"It is treason for men of the type who have headquarters in the Hibbs building and in the city of New York and other cities throughout the United States to create conditions which have made the trouble that now prevails between this country and Mexico.

"I do not believe that any American should be permitted to go unpunished who identifies himself with such a movement, and least of all should any American citizen or any one else be permitted to make his headquarters within the confines of the nation for any such purpose."

HUERTA DENIES INTENTION OF RESIGNING HIS OFFICE.

Mexican Leader Asserts He Will Not Relinquish "What the People Gave Him."

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

Vera Cruz, May 5.—Gen. Huerta today declared emphatically that he would not resign. He was seen at the national palace today by correspondents, who told him of the conflicting reports coming from the capital. "What the people gave to me I will not relinquish," he said.

Other reports from the capital continue to tell of conspiracies to dethrone Huerta. The latest is that of Gen. Jiminez Castro, who is known to be personally ambitious. It is his purpose, so it is said, to seize the federal territory of Mexico City and then enter into an agreement with Gen. Francisco Villa as to the spoils.

The United States aeroplanes continue to scout in the vicinity of Tejera. They found Mexican troops in small numbers.

Reports from Tampico indicate that the situation continues critical. The rebels, it is said, will begin a general assault on the city as soon as Americans and other foreigners are out of the city.

FIGHTING DAILY AT TAMPICO.

Constitutionalists and Federals Continue Firing at One Another—Huerta Army Reinforced.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Firing continues daily at Tampico between Constitutionalists and Federal forces, according to a report from Admiral Mayo transmitted by Admiral Badger today. Heavy guns were heard yesterday morning. The steamer Canaguay, which has arrived at Vera Cruz from Tampico, reports that Mexican Federal forces at the latter port were reinforced by 1,500 men last week.

SEEK INFORMATION ON CONSUL

State Department Officials Have No Report of Man Said to Be in Mexican Jail.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—No official word has come to the department concerning Acting Consul Silliman, reported to be under arrest and threatened with execution by Federal authorities at San Luis Potosi. The Brazilian ambassador has been asked to make urgent representations in behalf of Mr. Silliman.

VILLA REFUSES COALITION PLEA

Rebel Commander Gives Scornful Reply to Proposal of Gen. Maas, Federal.

FOREIGN WAR PRETEXT.

Sees Cry Against American Invasion Attempt to Escape Retribution.

Torreon, Mexico, May 4, via El Paso, Tex., May 5.—The answer of Gen. Francisco Villa to a request from Gen. Maas, in command of the Saltillo garrison, that Villa join the federals in avenging the American occupation of Vera Cruz was delivered to the federal messengers today.

Gen. Villa refused absolutely to ally himself or his men with the federals and declared that the Huertistas had provoked foreign intervention for their own ends.

Gen. Maas' letter to Villa announced that in addition to occupying Vera Cruz, the port of Salina Cruz had been seized by the United States forces on April 23.

Gen. Maas' Letter to Villa.

The letter to Gen. Maas follows:

"To Gen. Francisco Villa: I have received instructions to notify the revolutionary chiefs that American intervention in Mexico is an accomplished fact. The United States of the north have committed a grave offense against Mexico by disembarking troops in Vera Cruz on April 21 and by taking similar action at Salina Cruz two days later.

"This act alone constitutes the initiation of war and this is the supreme moment to call on the patriotism of all Mexicans to present a united front and forget our differences in the intense love of country of which we are possessed. We can consider the enemy only as a foreigner who in the most unjust and ignoble manner has stepped upon the holy soil of our fatherland.

"It is well known that the North Americans, following the hypocritical and undignified conduct which they have used in all cases of intervention, have declared that they will not fight against the revolutionists, but only against the government.

Says Intervention Means Conquest.

"But it is clearly to be seen that this conduct is for no other purpose than to keep us divided and make easier their conquests. As Mexican patriots we should not permit foreign nations to mix in our internal affairs.

"We, therefore, call upon our brothers to rally to the common cause for the defense of the national integrity. You could not more nobly yield your present position than for the purpose of rallying to the cause of the whole of Mexico that we may all march together against the invading Yankees.

"I have such faith in your patriotism that I do not doubt that the forces of your command will rally to fight the invasion of the Americans. I reiterate to you assurances of my distinguished consideration.

"J. MAAS.

"General in Chief of the Division of the Bravo, Saltillo, April 28."

Gen. Villa's Reply to Federals.

Gen. Villa's answer follows:

"In answer to your letter of April 28, in which, in accordance with your instructions, you invite me to march with you against the foreign invaders of our country, I would say that I understand your actions fully and also the present diabolical machinations.

"I know that as an accomplice you took part in the infidelity and treason of February, 1913 (Madero's death). This is perfectly well understood and you should know that we cannot pardon it and also know that it will be the cause of your ruin.

"I, therefore, give you this answer only because your official request and my answer are historical documents, and I owe to posterity an explanation of my conduct.

Justifies Action of United States.

"I know that the Cientificos, by various processes, have up to this time sought to bring about North American intervention in Mexico. It is known without doubt that the coming of the Americans was desired and provoked by you. The manner in which you have excited internal troubles, and then called on all Mexicans to help fight the external troubles, is clear to all the world.

"Gen. Huerta and you did not show much wisdom when you were converted into instruments of the Cientificos and brought about the assassination of President Madero. Vice President Pino Suarez, and some other liberal democrats because you did not realize that the blood of the heroes who started the democratic movement in 1910 would cause a civil war which would lead to your ruin.

Sees Plan to Avoid Retribution.

"Now you desire to provoke a foreign war to save yourselves from the disaster coming from the civil conflict. You show even less wisdom when you pile up mountains of machinations and lies, which will crumble about your ears.

"You have sought to make this union between yourselves and the Constitutionalists who are under arms, and with the pretext of a foreign war you seek to arm many Mexicans whose sympathies are not with you, but whose patriotism you expect to exploit, without reflecting that you are about to arm a people who, in justice, would chastise your crimes.

"These same people, now they have discovered you are an assassin of democracy, you seek to win over by starting a war against a foreign nation to serve your personal interests and those of your party.

Denies Union with Invaders.

"It will soon be proven that the satanic declaration which you traitors to the fatherland have made in stating that we have formed a union with the North Americans is a stupid assertion which will cost you your existence and bring to your families an eternal shame.

"The Constitutionalists have the desire to do all possible compatible with the national dignity to avoid a foreign war, but if we are not able to avoid it we will face two enemies, the powerful stranger and the depraved compatriots.

"For constitution and reform,

"FRANCISCO VILLA, Commander in Chief."

UNIQUE ACCIDENT SMASHES TRAIN

Mail Pouch Strikes Switch, Causing Derailment on Monon at Lowell, Ind.

MANY PERSONS INJURED.

Victims Cared For by Residents of Vicinity and Then Are Brought to Chicago.

The Louisville-Chicago Monon passenger train No. 4, due in Chicago at 7:22 o'clock yesterday morning, was wrecked and many passengers were injured in a freak accident at Lowell, Ind.

A flying mail pouch, kicked from the train, struck a switch stand, which, giving way, opened a siding sufficiently to tear the train apart. Three Pullmans were hurled from the tracks on to their sides. A fourth slid along the right of way on its roof, wheels spinning in the air.

The three rear Pullmans which entered the switch, were headed for a lumber yard, while another, in front of them, was carried for several hundred feet into the clearing of the "Y" between the main track and the switch.

Engine Continues on Its Way.

A day coach and the mail and baggage cars were derailed, but remained upright. The engine uncoupled itself and continued for a city block on its way around a curve. Telegraph poles were snapped off and telegraphic communication was interrupted. All the coaches were of wood. The mail pouch which caused the wreck weighed fifty pounds.

The train was late and had been making up time. Conductor Hackett was in the rear coach. A number of passengers who were injured were returning from West Baden, where they had been for their health.

Injured Brought to Chicago.

Among those injured, all of whom were taken to Chicago, are:

MISS MARY E. HELM, East Taron, Ky.; shoulder hurt, body bruised.

MISS ANNA RAY, 1412 Walter street, Louisville, Ky.; jaw fractured, eye injured.

C. DUNSON, porter, 3411 Indiana avenue, Chicago; scalp torn, eye hurt.

R. E. PALKINSON, Eau Claire, Wis.; internal injuries.

A. P. BURLAND, Chicago, traveling man; head hurt.

J. S. GREEN, porter, 3600 Wabash avenue, Chicago; bruised.

J. I. CROOKS, 826 Main street, Racine, Wis.; bruised.

MRS. LIZZIE FLEMMING, 646 Thirty-second street, Chicago; shocked, hysteria.

JONATHAN SULLIVAN, Chicago; bruised.

MARGARET W. KELLET, 836 East Fifty-third street, Chicago; leg fractured.

E. E. AMES, Crawfordsville, Ind.; bruised.

Lowell physicians and citizens assisted in taking the injured from the overturned cars and in caring for them.

WABASH WRECK AT DECATUR.

Decatur, Ill., May 5.—Two Greek laborers are dead and H. Bergman of Litchfield, Ill., is expected to die as a result of the derailment of the diner and rear sleeping car on the Wabash Continental Limited, as it entered this city tonight. Steel coaches saved the lives of thirty or more passengers.

The laborers were at the side of the track when the accident happened. Their bodies were so mangled that it was impossible to identify them.

The engine and three cars passed the switch safely. The last two cars "sideswiped" a string of coal cars, killing the workingmen, and finally stopped, standing up.

GUEST TAKES HIS OWN LIFE IN ROOM AT HOTEL LA SALLE.

House Detective Finds Body of K. K. Nahigian on Bed with Revolver Beside It—Identified by Uncle.

A maid struggled with a locked door at a guest room in the Hotel La Salle yesterday afternoon. The door had been locked for hours. She called a house detective. He opened the door with a pass key. On the bed he found a dead man. Beside the body was a revolver. One shot had been fired through the mouth. Apparently the man had been dead several hours.

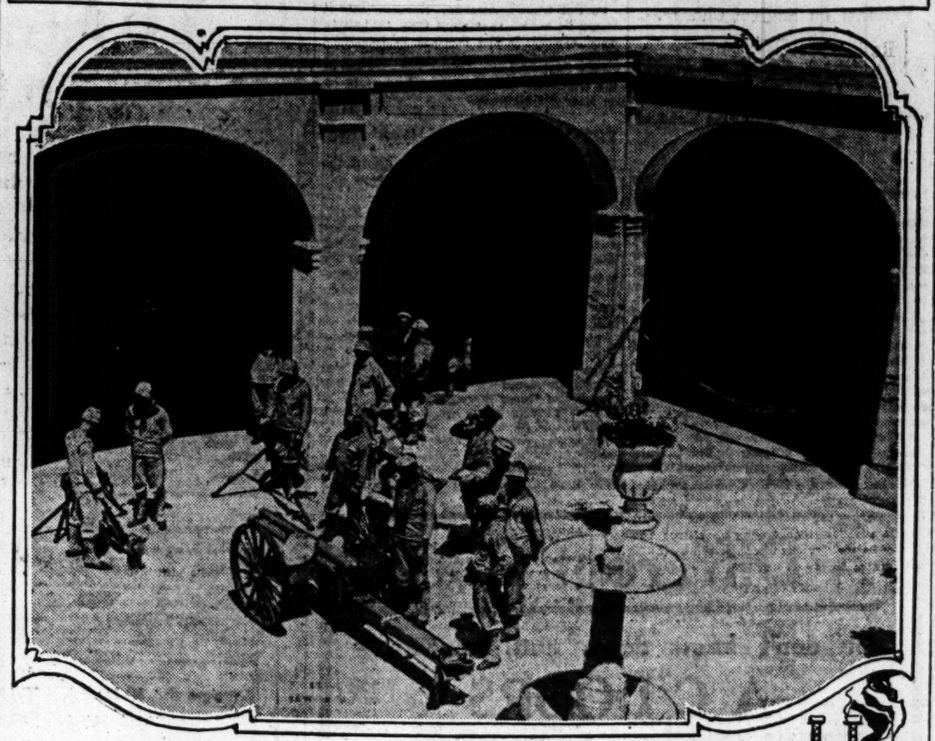

The detective consulted the register and found the room had been taken by K. K. Nahigian.

M. H. Nahigian of Nahigian Bros., dealers in oriental rugs, 122 South Wabash avenue, answered a telephone inquiry.

"That's my nephew all right," he said. "I didn't know where he was. He has been in the rug business for himself, I guess. I don't know much about him."

The dead man, according to his uncle, was unmarried and had no permanent place of abode. He was about 35 years old.

NEGRO ASKS FOR DAMAGES.

Charges False Arrest, Result of Controversy Over Flat.

Thomas W. Swann, a negro, yesterday filed suit for $50,000 damages against Clarence S. Funk and other directors of the Chicago Theological seminary. Malicious prosecution and false arrest prompted the action, according to William L. Martin, attorney for Swann. The title of the suit is Swann vs. Funk et al.

Swann, who is secretary of the commission appointed by Gov. Dunne to arrange for the celebration of fifty years of negro freedom, was involved in charges of malicious mischief and conspiracy growing out of a controversy over an apartment at 3636 Forest avenue. He was discharged by Judge Walker in the Criminal court.

The apartment was part of a building owned by the seminary, and had been leased to Jesse Binga, a negro banker of the south side. Binga sublet the apartment to Mrs. Ella B. Martin, over whose ejectment the trouble is said to have arisen. Binga also is made a defendant in Swann's suit.

Others named are Samuel E. Knecht, Clarence S. Pellet, Roy B. Guild, Archibald Hedden, Oscar C. Helming, Ozora Stearns Davis, David Fales, John R. Montgomery, Wyllys W. Baird, Truman O. Douglass, Henry H. Hilton, J. Percival Huget, William T. McElwain, M. A. Myers, Dean Edward Smith Parsons, E. H. Stickney, W. H. Thrall, Frank Newhall White, A. W. Benedict, Donold G. Cowling, John Faville, Harry Smith, John Elliott, and H. J. Mitchell.

Swann, who lives at the negro Y. M. C. A., was in Springfield yesterday.

SEEKS DIVORCE: CRUELTY.

Mrs. Bernard Semper Accuses Husband of Forcing Her from Bed and of Unfaithfulness.

Bernard Semper, owner of the Jackson Park Storage company, 6365 Dorchester avenue, is accused of kicking his wife, Mrs. Hilma Elfreda Semper, out of bed on two separate occasions, besides "staying out late at nights," in a bill for divorce filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Mrs. Semper. A woman also is named in the bill.

ARRESTED IN BANK BUILDING TRYING TO SELL $20,000 NOTE.

William J. Luthmers Accused of Forging Paper, but He Says He Got It for Patent Device.

William J. Luthmers was arrested yesterday in the lobby of the First National Bank building, where he had gone, it is said, to sell a note for $20,000 at a discount of $3,000. Samuel E. Hazel of Olney, Ill., who is living at the Kaiserhof hotel, said the note, to which his name was signed, is a forgery.

Luthmers replied Hazel had given him the note for a half interest in a patent lock-nut for a bolt. Hazel asserted he employed the Burns detective agency on learning Luthmers had such a note, and that a Burns operative offered to buy the paper "after he had seen his brother."

Luthmers was about to interview "the brother" when taken into custody. He will be arraigned before Judge Stewart this morning.

TAX BOARDS BALK SCHEME OF HOYNE

Agree State's Attorney Shall Not Be Allowed to "Run Things."

YIELD ON CONFERENCE.

Assessors and Reviewers to Meet Prosecutor and Discuss Revenue Situation.

State's Attorney Hoyne will not be permitted to run the board of assessors or board of review, the two bodies authorized to fix the tax assessments for Cook county. This, in effect, was the statement of reviewers and assessors yesterday after reading Mr. Hoyne's charges of alleged inequalities in tax collections.

The assessing officers, who assert they alone have original jurisdiction in tax assessments, agreed, however, to confer with Mr. Hoyne, as he requested. Roy O. West, president of the board of review, set the joint meeting for tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in the rooms of the reviewing body on the third floor of the county building.

It was conceded the state's attorney is entitled to confer with the assessing officials, but his right to assume their particular legal prerogatives was questioned by Republican and Democratic officers alike.

Hoyne Plans in Doubt.

Most of the officials were reluctant to comment for publication on Mr. Hoyne's position until they had an opportunity to learn just what he proposes. Veterans of both boards were not inclined to regard seriously Mr. Hoyne's assertion that political influence had enabled taxdodgers to evade payment for ten years past.

"I do not know just what Mr. Hoyne expects to do," Mr. West said, "but we have accepted his suggestion for a conference. There is no question our present tax system is sadly inadequate. The way to remedy it is to have a constitutional amendment permitting the classification of property."

Thomas J. Webb, a Democratic member of the board of review, said he had not read Mr. Hoyne's letter in its entirety, but doubted the state's attorney expected to ask the reviewers to deviate from the law as laid down in Supreme court decisions for their guidance.

Webb Cites Tax Law.

"Our duty under the law is plain," Mr. Webb said. "We sit as a sort of judicial body and pass upon the work of the assessors, hear complaints, and rectify mistakes one way or the other. We correct injustices, and the rule works sometimes against the taxpayer and sometimes in his favor. As I understand it, the duty of the state's attorney is to aid in the collection of delinquent taxes."

David M. Pfaelzer, a Democratic member of the board of assessors, said the existing law was a breeder of criticism. He said he had been fighting for fifteen months against the assessing of persons earning $25 a week or less or whose income is entirely eaten up by living expenses. Mr. Pfaelzer plainly indicated his intention to act according to his own judgment in the future.

Adam Wolf, Republican, and Michael K. Sheridan, Democrat, both said the assessors were doing as well as could be expected under existing laws.

Woman to Be Put Under Oath.

Judge Landis yesterday ordered Mrs. Aileen Christopher and John Doyle Carmody, her attorney, to appear before him next Saturday to testify under oath regarding Mrs. Christopher's petition for witness fees and expenses to the amount of $10,000 she alleges are due her for alleged services in the dismissed "brick trust" case.

SIGNS PLEDGE TO SAVE WIFE

Eugene Ely Acts When Woman Tries to Jump from Bridge.

FIGHTS HARD TO END LIFE.

Sergeant Succeeds in an Effort at Mediation.

Eugene Ely of 1028 West Jackson boulevard signed a temperance pledge last night.

Ely returned home from work early in the afternoon. His condition made his wife, Jessie, unhappy. A few hours later, still discussing their differences, they went out for a walk.

As they started across the Adams street bridge over the Chicago river Mrs. Ely ran to the railing and attempted to leap over. Her husband grabbed her in time.

Woman Fights to Die.

A few steps farther on she leaped half over the railing and scratched her husband when he sought to draw her back.

Meyer Leavitt of 2233 South Springfield avenue elbowed his way through the throng and helped Ely pull her to safety. Again she was quieted. And again she tried to reach the river.

When they were safely across the bridge Leavitt left the pair.

The Elys were passing the Union station when Mrs. Ely produced a bottle of poison and started to drink it. Ely knocked the vial from her hands before she could swallow any of the drug.

Sergeant Acts as Mediator.

The Desplaines street police were called. Ely and his wife were taken to the station, where with a desk sergeant as mediator a reconciliation was reached.

"There's only one thing I ask," Mrs. Ely said.

"I know," responded Ely sympathetically. "I'll sign."

Then they kissed and went home.

BURGLARS REFORM ON PAROLE.

Probation Officer Gives Results of Investigation on 149 Cases Under His Jurisdiction.

Probation for burglars has proved a good reformative measure, according to Adult Probation Officer John W. Houston, who has just completed an investigation of 149 cases. Results show ninety-eight cases are doing well, thirteen fairly well, seventeen are doubtful, three idlers, four absolutely no good, and six lost.

EXPERIMENTS ON SALOON IN LEVEE

Mayor Permits Reopening of Weiss' Place, Formerly Buxbaum's, as a Test.

BAR TO BE 'FOR MEN ONLY'

Women Absolutely Barred and Cafe on Second Floor Closed Tight.

Mayor Harrison yesterday consented to a saloon "experiment" on one of the most notorious corners in the old red light district. He gave permission for the reopening of Ed Weiss' saloon—formerly Buxbaum's—at State and Twenty-second streets on the condition it is to be operated "for men only."

On Feb. 2 the mayor revoked the license after Wiess—or the W. and W. Catering company, consisting of Weiss and "Jakie" Wolfsohn, which appeared as the owner—refused absolutely to pay any attention to warnings to "be good."

While the barroom was locked at 1 o'clock in the morning all the patrons there were transferred to the second floor, the door of which was opened after that hour to anybody who did not look like a morals inspector. The "regulars" were the women of the district.

Place Long Notorious.

For years the place was notorious under the ownership of Buxbaum and Frank Wing, and when the mayor closed it he announced a similar dive would not be allowed there again. He is convinced the saloon to be operated will not resemble its predecessors in its chief characteristics.

To make sure of this, the order for the restoration of the place bears across the face provisions that the second floor café is to be discontinued, and that "no women at all are to be permitted in the saloon," and that it is to be a "man's buffet." The license will be issued to Abe Simon, now a Van Buren street bartender, but it is said the McAvoy Brewing company will hold the title to the saloon.

Restores Permit to Sidias Place.

The mayor also restored the license of the saloon at 1149 Wabash avenue, formerly owned by James Sidias. It was there that Lieut. "Ben" Burns, trying to lay a mysterious trap for the men who robbed the branch bank of Montreal, was hit over the head with a piano stool. This license also is reissued on condition that the place be conducted "for men only." It will go to I. Feingold, formerly in the clothing business at 6305 Madison avenue. He is said to represent the Manhattan Brewing company.

PUBLISHER ELECTED AS MAYOR

St. Paul, Minn., Returns Indicate Success of Winn Powers Over Nash by Small Majority.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—Winn Powers, a publisher, was elected mayor of St. Paul by a small majority over Louis Nash, member of the board of county commissioners according to incomplete returns late tonight from St. Paul's first nonpartisan election and also its first election under the commission charter. Six councilmen and a controller also were elected.

wrench, and for a few minutes ran the risk of his life. Tearney was subsequently fined about $1,000 for more than 100 violations.

"Have a Drink," Al Says.

But last night Al said, "Have a drink and I'll tell you all about it.

"On Saturday night we had a full house," he continued. "People were lined up outside to get in. I noticed a strange woman standing in the outer corridor about 10:30 o'clock and I asked her what she wanted. She said 'Nothing' and went away.

"Then about half-past 12 two of them came in the side door and said they wanted a table for three. 'George will be here in a few minutes,' they said. Then they sat there and the head waiter thought it was funny. They ordered drinks.

"At 1 o'clock we ordered every one out, but they stayed. Then I asked them if they were policewomen. They started an argument, and because I know it's no use to argue with a woman, even if it's a policewoman, I held open the door and said good night."

Denies He Claimed "Pull."

"You didn't tell them to beat it, that you should worry about a policewoman?"

"That's as ridiculous as it is untrue. Have a cigar. No man in his right senses would say anything like that. And boasting about a pull with the mayor! Why, it's a joke."

"Unless you were drinking," suggested the questioner.

"I haven't taken a drop in my life, thank the Lord," Al declared. "Say, I want you fellows to come down here again. Even if you do wallop me, I don't care! I conduct a good place here. That's just the story that I'll tell in court and it's true. By the way, those women drank the cocktails and I had to sign for them."

Mayor's Tango Rule Recalled.

When Mayor Harrison promulgated the regulation forbidding cabaret singers to mingle with the guests in a restaurant he also put through a rule forbidding restaurants to permit guests to tango. The mayor wiped out the tango in such downtown cafés as Rector's, the College Inn, the Lambs' Café, and the States.

In an interview he was quoted as saying that one place, the Bismarck, had succeeded in getting a dance permit, which made it impossible for him to stop them. However, the permit would not be renewed.

At 10 o'clock last night a reporter strolled back to Al's Auto Inn.

Thirty automobiles were parked in front of the place. Within not a table was vacant. Five negro musicians in tan suits were pounding out popular music. A placard on the stage bore the inscription, "Hesitation Waltz." Guests were "trotting" at a fast clip.

How "Al Gets By."

"How do you get by with it?" was asked the ex-alderman.

"Get by with what?" he demanded.

"Violating the law by running a dance hall where drinks are served."

"That's easy," he replied. "I've got a permit. Cost me $25 a year. And, besides, the dancing is in another room.

"See that," and "Al" pointed proudly to the dance floor. "That's a separate room." Two feet of curtain suspended from the high ceiling and a brass railing rising three feet from the floor made it a "separate rom."

Veteran City Employe Honored.

Mr. Agnew lives at 40 East Delaware street.

GEN. DURYEA'S SON PUT IN HOSPITAL

Brooklyn Man Who Slew His Father, the Starch Manufacturer, Thought Insane.

TELLS 'REASON' FOR DEED

"Spiritual Message from George Washington Told Me to Do It," He Says.

New York, May 5.—Chester Bernell Duryea, chemist, who murdered his father, Gen. Hiram Duryea, millionaire starch manufacturer, in their home in Brooklyn early today, was removed in a straitjacket from jail to a city hospital tonight after he had shown what his keepers regarded as signs of insanity.

In his cell, where he was confined after arraignment in a police magistrate's court, he paced about, mumbling to himself and occasionally throwing up his hands.

Thought Mentally Irresponsible.

His relatives said earlier today that he had shown indications of mental irresponsibility in recent years. Their statements were supported by his actions after his arrest. The authorities decided upon his removal to the hospital so that he might not harm himself.

Gen. Duryea was the head of the famous Duryea Zouaves in the civil war. He was shot while in bed. He was asleep at the time, it is believed, and died without making any defense.

"Told To by George Washington."

Incoherently the son told how he committed the crime. He gave no reason for it, but said that he had received a "spiritual message from George Washington" to kill the general. The son was mild mannered when arraigned in court, and did not become violent until placed in a cell.

KILLS SELF AFTER RENT ROW.

Gets Policeman to Help Obtain Clothing, Then Slams Door in His Face and Fires Shot.

Christ Christenson, a tinner of 1645 Dayton street, quarreled with his landlady, Mrs. George Blockhon, last night. She claimed he would not pay his room rent and refused to let him take his clothing from his room. He went to the Elston avenue police station and returned a few minutes later with Policeman Henry Prendergast. He reached the house a few feet ahead of the policeman and slammed the door in Prendergast's face. There was a shot. When the policeman opened the door a moment later he found Christenson lying on the hall floor, a revolver in his hand. There was a bullet hole in his forehead. He died a few minutes later.

VOTE JUDGES' TRIAL TODAY

Come from Bartzen Manager's Precinct on Neglect Charge.

WEEK GONE GETTING JURY.

Northup Expects to Show One Hundred Ballots Altered.

Michael Hopkins, Henry Elrich, and Duncan McIntyre, judges of election in the Twenty-seventh precinct of the Nineteenth ward, will be placed on trial at 9:30 o'clock this morning before Superior Judge Charles M. Foell. The men are charged with neglect of duty in connection with the November election of 1912.

The selection of the jury was completed late yesterday when the last four men were picked. More than a week had been occupied in choosing the jury from a venire of more than 125 men. Most of those excused admitted opinions that State's Attorney Hoyne, County Commissioner Peter Bartzen, and others had profited by the vote frauds.

Although the three precinct officials are charged with only a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or jail sentence, interest attaches to the case because the precinct involved was supposed to have been controlled by former Assistant County Attorney Thomas Johnston, who was Bartzen a campaign manager.

Special State's Attorney Northup said it would be shown that more than 100 ballots were altered in the precinct in Bartzen's favor. Johnston is under indictment on a felony charge, and evidence to be offered at the trial today is expected to have a bearing on later prosecutions.

SOCIALISTS ARE NAMING MEN.

Nominating Candidates for Congress and the Legislature by Referendum Vote.

Nominations of Socialist candidates for congress and for the legislature are being made all through Chicago by means of the referendum, vote within the party organization, according to the usual custom. The direct primary nominations in September are merely perfunctory.

The candidates in the Sixth congressional district were nominated last night. F. L. Wood, 327 South Campbell avenue, was named for congress. Walter Huggins, 4323 West Van Buren street, was nominated for the state senate in the Nineteenth senatorial district. F. V. Stuchal, 4247 West Twenty-first place, was nominated for the house of representatives in the same district.

SEEK JURORS FOR KIDNAPING TRIAL

Attorneys in Mareno Case Accept Eight and Expect Remainder Today.

ACTION AFTER LONG WAIT

Nicolosi Brothers, the Defendants, Sentenced for Life Two Years Ago.

Joseph and Carmelo Nicolosi, once convicted of kidnaping 6 year old Angelo Mareno, were brought to trial again yesterday before Judge McKinley.

Mrs. Calogera Nicolosi, wife of Carmelo Nicolosi, who was also named in the indictment, sat beside her husband while the attorney questioned prospective jurors in the second trial on the charge of kidnaping.

Eight juors were accepted by the attorneys and it is expected the taking of testimony will start this afternoon. Counsel for the defense questioned veniremen on stories of the kidnaping which had appeared in the newspapers. The Nicolosis were granted a new trial two years ago by Judge Honore on the grounds the jury was influenced by reports in the newspapers.

Sentenced for Life.

The Nicolosis following their first trial were sentenced to life imprisonment. After two years and a half of freedom on bond they have been brought to trial again after numerous continuances and delays.

The only complaining witnesses against the Nicolosis in the courtroom were Antony Mareno, father of the boy who was kidnaped, and Policeman Gentile.

The mother of Angelo has died since her son was kidnaped on Aug. 5, 1911. Giovannina Rizzotta, a niece of Mareno, and the most important witness the state had in the first trial has returned to Italy.

Frederic Burnham, who had prosecuted the Nicolosis is assisting D. G. Ramsey, assistant state's attorney, in the second trial.

The Nicolosis operated a saloon two years and a half ago. It was in the center of Chicago's "Little Italy," and in the ward represented in the council by Ald. John Powers.

Powers Has Bonds Reduced.

When the Nicolosis were convicted, Ald. Powers provided the $25,000 bond for them. Then he obtained a reduction of the bond to $10,000.

Mareno will be called among the first witnesses for the state this afternoon. He will tell how the Nicolosis kidnaped his son, hid him away, and demanded $5,000 ransom from the parents.

Must Work or Go to Jail.

Moses Thomas of 2911 South Park avenue was sentenced to serve one year in the bridewell and then released on probation by Municipal Judge Uhlir yesterday on a charge of contributing to the dependency of his two children, Alfred and Julia. Thomas' wife complained that he refused to work, but on his promise again to support her he was placed on probation.

EJECTED, SLASHES 2 WAITERS.

Drunken Man Returns to Van Buren Street Saloon, Wreaks Vengeance, and Escapes.

A drunken man was ejected last night from Lipsehutz & Gordon's saloon at 64 West Van Buren street. A few minutes later he returned and attacked the two waiters who put him out. John Stone, who lives at the Fox hotel, was slashed about the face by the enraged man. Joseph Riley of 66 West Van Buren street was stabbed below the heart. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital, where it was said his wounds were serious. His assailant escaped.

Dies from Bullet Wound.

Sanda Labruzzo of 1116 Cambridge avenue died yesterday from a bullet wound caused by one of three men who awoke and shot him on April 19, according to a coroner's verdict returned yesterday. The men escaped.

BURNS DETECTIVE UNDER ARREST

Southern Agent of Sleuth Company Taken Into Custody in the Frank Case.

POISON PLOT ASSERTED.

Negress Says Effort Was Made to Put Negro Conley Out of Way While in Jail.

Atlanta, Ga., May 5.—[Special.]—The arrest of Dan Lehon, southern agent of the W. J. Burns Detective agency; numerous affidavits charging bribery, attempts to bribe, and intimidation to agents or Frank's attorneys, the introduction of evidence that friends of Frank plotted to have Jim Conley poisoned, and the beginning of rebuttal testimony by the defense featured today's hearing on the extraordinary motion for a new trial filed in behalf of Leo M. Frank, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Mary Phagan.

Judge Hill ordered Lehon held for the grand jury to answer for his methods in procuring evidence for Frank's attorneys.

The poison plot affidavit was the most sensational of the day. The charge was made by Annie Maude Carter, the negress who recently made an affidavit for the defense in which she declared Conley had confessed the Phagan murder to her.

Carter Woman's Testimony.

The Carter woman, who recently was in jail on her conviction of robbery, swore in the affidavit, made public Tuesday, that she was allowed considerable liberty at the jail, and that she one day was walking past Frank's cell block when one of Frank's friends came to her and asked her if she wanted to get rich right quickly.

The Carter woman said that the man asked her if she ever visited Jim Conley's cell. She said she was going there then. Thereupon, according to the witness, the friend of Frank said in effect:

Take this vial and be mighty careful of it. Don't get any of it on you, it is dangerous. Just put one drop in the food that is given Conley.

Chicago in Story.

The affidavit of Aaron Allen, colored, told of the alleged efforts on the part of Detective Burns and his agents in Chicago to get him (Allen) to swear he had heard Conley confess to the murder of Mary Phagan. He told a story about being left alone in a room of the Burns agency in Chicago with a great pile of money in silver and greenbacks spread on the table, and which he swore he never touched.

Interesting affidavits also were read by Solicitor Dorsey from Charles Isom, who claimed he was employed by the Burns agency to go to Chicago and get a statement out of Allen. Some twenty other affidavits were offered by the state, alleging bribery and attempts to bribe on the part of the defense.

Affidavits for Burns.

Capt. C. W. Burke, the target for the greater share of Dorsey's charges of attempted bribery, replied in a sheaf of affidavits that required an hour for reading. Burke denied specifically every accusation of intimidation, attempted bribery, the improper use of influence, or the forgery of affidavits.

There were also affidavits from W. J. Burns, Dan Lehon, Rabbi David Marx, and others denying the use of improper methods in procuring evidence for Frank.

Rabbi Marx branded the charge of the Rich negress against himself and Mrs. Frank "a deliberate falsehood."

In the affidavit of James I. Innis, a banker and handwriting expert of Chicago, the defense brought forward its strongest proof that the letters written to Annie Maude Carter, and accredited to Jim Conley, are in the negro's handwriting.

The Chicago Tribune.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

FOUNDED JUNE 10, 1847.

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER JUNE 8, 1906, AT THE POSTOFFICE AT CHICAGO, ILL., UNDER ACT OF MARCH 3, 1870.

SWORN CIRCULATION.

Net paid circulation of "The Chicago Tribune," as reported under oath to the United States government under section 4677½ of the postal laws and regulations, being the average from Oct. 1, 1913, to March 31, 1914:

Daily 261,278
Sunday 406,556

The above figures are exclusive of all papers which have been wasted, spoiled, returned, duplicated, delivered as complimentary, in exchange, as samples, which were missed or lost, or were late in arriving at their destination, or that remain unsold. They also are exclusive of papers, paid for but on which money so paid has been refunded.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, 1914.

THE GREATER PURPOSE.

Chicago's new "charter commission," regardless of its present purpose and apparent object, is in fact an organization of value yet to be proved for the promotion of the constitutional convention propaganda. There is no half way house for permanent occupancy. The state needs a revision of organic law before the city can obtain relief by charter enactment. This will become apparent.

CHAMPION OF ECONOMY.

Mr. Maclay Hoyne's anxious care lest the county overpay the Illinois training school for nurses strikingly illustrates the noble championship of economy offered by the H.-H. school of public service.

Mr. Hoyne has not yet taken over control of all the county institutions and has not yet secured the right to appoint nurses to the county hospital, therefore he protests against wasteful expenditure in this direction. As a pillar of the public service, a bulwark of economy and efficiency, Mr. Maclay Hoyne will go down in the history of Cook—along with "Honest Pete" Bartzen.

THE PINK PERSEUS.

Our gracile and aurorean friend, the greatest living Democratic United States senator from the state of Illinois, the Hon. James Hamilton Lewis, the thrush tongued bird of paradise, sends to the ever admiring freemen of this commonwealth copies of a

DEBATE Between
Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge,
Hon. John W. Weeks,
Hon. William E. Borah,
Hon. Jacob H. Gallinger,
Hon. Albert D. Fall,
Hon. William Alden Smith,
With
Hon. James Hamilton Lewis.

At first the observer, noting this arrangement, which we trust was our senator's, has suggested to him an extraordinary announcement of a colossal Uncle Tom's cabin troupe "with Two Topsies," but it is evident that the six senators were not supporting our aurorean friend, but were debating between and with him—an unfair prepositional advantage to take of any casuist, but one which Col. Lewis scorned to protest. Let the horde come at, on, in, with, among, or between him, and our friend will have a rose for each enemy's nose and a sword point for his fifth rib.

In the young days of the gods such things were done; when the grass was green on Olympus and the stars were new. Now if a hero arise and offer to face such odds, the neighbors call the police—if the hero be other than aurorean James, the pink Perseus, with the Medusa shield and the lightning-like sword play of rhetoric.

THE RESERVE BOARD.

The central reserve board, if made up as announced, should command, we believe, the respect of the banking and business world. It may not contain as many distinguished figures as was hoped and sought, but, so far as THE TRIBUNE can judge, it represents a highly satisfactory standard of character and competence.

Mr. Olney's declination leaves the principal place on the board as yet unfilled, but it may be assumed that no one will be invited to occupy this important place who does not command high respect throughout the country.

Mr. Wheeler, the member from the middle west, is one of the ablest of the younger bankers, a thorough student of American banking and business conditions. He will be an industrious, well informed, and intelligent member of the board, a strong representative of the middle west. Mr. Harding, who represents the south, is well spoken of, and Dr. Adolph C. Miller of San Francisco is an economist of note who had much to do with the formulation and perfecting of the currency law and is a well informed scientific student of American finance and economics.

Against Mr. Warburg, whose selection has been rumored for some time, it is urged that his training in German banking, supplemented by his association with a Wall street private international banking house, has not laid the basis for a very sympathetic treatment of American conditions.

But if Mr. Warburg waives the notion charged to him—namely: that the system of credits in this country should be changed to conform to German standards—he should be a useful member of the board. His prime usefulness might be found in urging upon the reserve banks the advisability of investing much of their secondary reserves in foreign bills, thus enabling this country in times of stress to draw gold and credit from abroad. This particular avenue of usefulness must appeal to all bankers as one of the opportunities afforded by the new law to contribute stability to our new money system.

In any case, it is hoped, the new board will be given the public spirited and generous support of the banking and business world, at least until it has shown that it does not deserve it. Confidence and a reasonable optimism are most desirable at this time.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO.

If in consequence of mediation peace is brought about, at least for the time being, in Mexico, Americans will do well to understand one very unpleasant fact.

Throughout Mexico and among the masses of the people of all Latin America no credit will be given us for magnanimity. On the contrary, it will be assumed by the Latin mind that the Yankees were afraid to fight and had to be helped out of their predicament by Latin-American statesmen.

Let us have no sentimental illusions about this. The American flag has been dragged through the streets of Mexican cities, American official representatives have been arrested and locked up, American citizens have been maltreated, robbed, insulted, and a considerable number have been killed. Reversing the high pride of the Roman, who, wherever he went, declared, Civis Romanus sum, the American often has been compelled to deny his nationality to save himself from assault.

How long would Argentina put up with such treatment from Paraguay, or Chile from Bolivia, or Brazil from Ecuador? Yet though we have withheld punishment, has the press of Latin America given us credit for patience and magnanimity? On the contrary, it has pretty generally expressed more or less openly the belief that we have been all along bent upon selfish conquest. That we have waited long after we had ample excuse for intervention has not been credited to us. That we have acted moderately even when driven to extremities by dangerous insolence has not been credited to us, and what by the press and educated classes of Latin America is thought to be guile concealing selfish ambition, is and will be interpreted by the more ignorant classes, who do not know the power of the United States, as cowardice and weakness.

This means that rights acquired by Americans in Latin America, property possessed by them, and even their persons will be less secure than they have been.

This unpleasant fact will not determine our policy, but it should be most carefully considered in the formulation of our relations with Latin America and in the negotiation of a settlement with Mexico. United States citizenship should mean something even among our neighbors of Latin America. We may not have their good will. We have a right, at least, to the immunity from insult and injury granted peaceful aliens in every country not barbarous.

RURAL TORIES.

We do not despair of seeing William Howard Taft, Nicholas Murray Butler, Willum Barnes, and many other notables who adhere to the safe and sound theory of sedentary locomotion, fleeing to the Socialist party as to a refuge from dangers which impend.

As a conservative prop of government the Socialist movement is just coming to appreciation. The I. W. W. is doing this service for it. Mr. Taft and many other statesmen have been accustomed to use the word "socialistic" as sufficiently condemnatory of any radicalism, a word which was a warning finger pointed towards the abyss and the chasm.

Thus it was a convenient word. No particulars were needed. If a thing were "socialistic" it smelled of brimstone. The I. W. W. leaders knew differently. They knew what a rural tory organization the Socialist party is; how close akin Victor Berger and John D. Rockefeller actually are. If Mr. Rockefeller has not sufficient imagination to see that Socialism would establish the tightest kind of government and has not confidence enough to know that no manner of laws can keep the stronger from getting the upper hand of the weaker, that's Mr. Rockefeller's fault. The I. W. W. leaders know it and they attack Socialists as they attack monopolists. The Socialists see their danger. They know the difference between logic and brickbats. As a nonrevolutionary, calm, conservative, standpat, rural tory organization of men they present an alarmed front of defense to radicalism and call upon the sober minded citizens of the republic for help.

Therefore, in the course of time, we expect to have an announcement of Mr. Taft's candidacy as head of the national Socialist ticket.

The Best Editorial of the Day.

PRISON RIGORS AND DYING BANKERS.

[From the New York World.]

Report that one of the most prominent of our imprisoned bankers is suffering from prison rigors and is slowly dying causes no surprise. It is the usual thing. The very day a banker enters prison in this country he begins to die. Nor is he permitted to die in peace. On the contrary, bulletins of his health are given out with increasing frequency until the distressed public can endure no more and is easily induced to petition for pardon.

The peculiar effect of prison life upon bankers is the more notable because as a rule its discipline is physically beneficial. The hours of sleep are regular, the exercise good, the food simple, and the work not of a kind to cause worry or weariness. Generally, therefore, the inmate of a prison is healthful enough. It is a peculiarity of bankers that they suffer from such modes of living, and that while they eat well and sleep well, they fall inevitably into slow but sure movements toward the grave. They die a little every day.

It is easy to see in the sad case of Mr. Morse, who patiently and pathetically went on dying week after week until he was released, and then at once recovered. The present sufferer has now been in prison for as much as six weeks, and his weeping friends say he cannot stand it for six months. Society must either condone his offense and let him go or else it must face the fact that it is keeping in prison a man who will some day die.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

IMMUNITY.

PEOPLE differ in the power they possess to resist disease. Some are more susceptible than others, and the susceptibility of the same individual is greater sometimes than at others. One may be in contact with contagion many times and escape its effects, but finally succumb.

Children are more susceptible to all infectious diseases than are adults. Certain diseases are called children's diseases, although any of them may occur at any period in life. Children differ in their susceptibility to disease, as do adults.

Another reason why certain diseases are diseases of childhood is because one attack furnishes immunity to the disease for life. Were it not for this provision of nature the race would be in danger of extinction.

One of the problems of medicine is to provide the immunity without the disease and its dangers. The problem was solved completely for one disease more than a hundred years ago, when vaccination was discovered as a preventive of smallpox. The patient is inoculated with cowpox, and, when it is properly done, it makes little discomfort, but furnishes immunity, sometimes for life.

Vaccination is the best example we have of artificial immunity. Antitoxins that are used in the treatment of such diseases as diphtheria furnish immunity for a time.

Natural immunity is found at its best in those of perfect health and normal development, but such persons are not free from attack. All things considered, they are less likely to be attacked and bear disease better than the weakly ones.

An outdoor life both night and day is the condition that furnishes the best guarantee of immunity. The pure air keeps the blood enriched and dilutes and attenuates the germs of disease at once, and, in time, access to outdoor air destroys all contagion. All cannot live out of doors all the time. Many can only be out of doors a small part of the time.

The thing to do then is to bring the outer air into the dwelling and the office all the time. Have the temperature of the air comfortable, if possible, but have the air, anyway.

Every living adult has doubtless inhaled or swallowed the germs of disease, tuberculosis, for instance, but all have not contracted the disease. Those of us who have escaped so far are immune to tuberculosis. In other words, there is some power in our tissues that prevents the bacillus from multiplying. We have the power of destroying the bacillus when it seeks to destroy us.

A knowledge of the law of immunity teaches us that, when our health is at its best, our resisting power is at its best, and hence we are immune to disease. It is wise and necessary to avoid, control, and destroy disease producing germs whenever found, but it is necessary to render the body as nearly immune as possible and to keep it so.

INDICATIONS OF DIABETES.

L. H. writes: "Sixteen years ago an examination of my urine showed twelve grams of sugar per ounce. I dieted for some months, but then went back to my former diet and have used no care at all since that time. I had examinations made occasionally and always found a little sugar. A recent examination showed two grains per ounce, forty-six one hundredths of 1 per cent. What does this indicate? I am 65 years old and strong and vigorous."

REPLY.

These symptoms indicate you have diabetes of a chronic type. There is no immediate danger. Nevertheless, you should have an examination for acidosis. You should regulate your diet on the basis of conditions found at the examination.

It is not unusual for diabetes in people past middle life to last for ten to twenty years.

LIQUID WITH MEALS.

W. A. W. writes: "Should children take water, milk, or other drinks while eating? Should solid foods like toast, doughnuts, etc., be eaten while eating cereals with milk and cream? Is sugar harmful in any quantity with cereals? What effect does the mingling of solid food with liquids have on the child's stomach and digestion?"

REPLY.

One of the objections to the softer foods so much used at the present time is that they do not require much chewing, and, in consequence, they are not mixed with saliva. Therefore, it is a good idea to encourage people, and especially children, to take as little fluid as possible with meals.

For digestion and assimilation, fluid is required; therefore, fluids should be taken at or towards the end of the meal and again an hour or two later.

It is well to make the cereal a separate course. The habit of taking a mouthful of toast and a swallow of liquid in quick succession is a bad one.

Sugar runs largely to energy. Children, therefore, need a good deal of sugar.

BOTHERED WITH PINWORMS.

Troubled writes: "In the case of an adult beyond middle life is there any way of getting rid of pinworms? Must one take an occasional salt water enema as they become troublesome? What causes them?"

REPLY.

Of course pinworms beget pinworms. I judge, however, you mean to ask why you find it difficult to get rid of them. In intractable cases there is usually a good deal of mucus, and the worms and eggs are somewhat protected by this.

It is always possible to be rid of pinworms. If simple remedies have failed, consult your physician. He will direct some changes in your diet; then a thorough preliminary cleansing of the tract, and then suitable vermifuges.

FISTULA SHOULD BE CURED.

Mrs. C. T. K. writes: "I have a fistula by the side of the lower bowel. I have had it for three years. I have had a good doctor treat it with bismuth paste, but it did no good. He said the only thing was an operation. I would not consent to one, and he told me it would do no harm to leave it alone. I do nothing for it. It seldom annoys me. Would you say I was neglecting it? Can any serious condition of the bowel come from it? Is there any way to care for it?"

REPLY.

1, 2, 3. Yes.

Practically all rectal fistulæ can and should be cured. Yours seems to be comparatively simple and should be cured. It may never do you any great harm, but you are taking a chance. Should the outer opening become closed and the infection escape into the surrounding tissues, you would have another abscess, with an extension of your fistula. Under these conditions, an operation might become absolutely necessary, and your chances of a good result would be greatly lessened.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1914: By the Brentwood Company.]

ENGLAND'S government, on the recommendation contained in a recent report of the royal commission on the civil service of the crown, has decided to maintain the present rule, according to which any woman's governmental service is terminated, ipse facto, by her marriage.

This recommendation bears the signature of Lord Macdonnell, the chairman of the commission, of the Duke of Devonshire, of Sir Kenneth Muir Mackenzie, of Sir Henry Primrose, one of the most experienced members of the civil service; of Miss Haldane, the clever sister of the lord high chancellor, and Mrs. Streatfield.

If I call attention to it, it is because of the controversy constantly raging in the big cities on this side of the Atlantic as to the alleged hardship of depriving a woman of her employment in the public service on her marriage, or on her becoming a mother.

Further recommendations of the commission are to the effect that, "where the character and conditions of work performed by women approach those of work by men, the pay of women should approximate that of men, but, in so far as the efficiency of men is higher, the salaries of the men should remain higher."

It is also recommended "that women should not be admitted to examination for the higher grades of civil service, but that, when specially and preëminently qualified, they should be eligible for promotion to particular posts of the higher class." These recommendations have also been adopted by the English government.

Among the sources of worry of Emperor William just at present is the awkward problem connected with the large military mission of German army officers at Constantinople.

Its chief, Gen. Liman von Sanders, who shortly after his arrival at Stamboul was created a field marshal of the Ottoman army in order to endow him with the necessary prestige and authority in the eyes of the Turkish troops, has proved so complete a failure that his position and also that of the large delegation of major generals, colonels, majors, and captains of the German army who accompanied him to the shores of the Bosphorus, have become well nigh impossible.

One of the first things that the kaiser did on arriving at Corfu was to summon from Constantinople Baron Wagenheim, his ambassador to the sublime porte, in order to confer with him about the matter, and it is a foregone conclusion that Gen. Liman von Sanders and his mission will be either recalled in the near future or superseded by other German officers.

The trouble seems to be largely a lack of tact, diplomacy, and patience on the part of Gen. von Sanders, which is all the more astonishing as he was accounted one of the most brilliant of the younger generation of commanders of the German army.

He had not been long at Constantinople before he became involved in so bitter a quarrel with Col. von Strempel, former military attaché of the German embassy in Turkey, organizer of the mission and appointed its deputy chief, that the colonel severed his connection therewith and returned to Germany.

Next Gen. von Sanders fell out with Alfred Detrez, representative at Constantinople of the Agence Havas, as well as correspondent of the Matin and of other leading Paris papers, and one of the most respected leaders of the French colony in Constantinople.

It seems that one morning the general, in Turkish uniform and accompanied by a couple of German officers, appeared in the offices of the agency, forced his way into the room of M. Detrez, an elderly man, assailed him with all sorts of insulting epithets and reproaches, and finally threatened him with a loaded revolver.

The general was beside himself with rage, owing to a story which had appeared in a Paris newspaper concerning a robbery to which his daughters had been subjected, and it was only by furnishing proof that he had had nothing to do with the story in question and that it had not been dispatched from his office that M. Detrez was able to escape personal violence.

M. Detrez immediately reported the matter to the French ambassador, and on the following day the German officers who had accompanied Gen. von Sanders, as well as Col. von Thouvenet, his second in command after the departure of Col. von Strempel, called on M. Detrez to express their deep regret and that of the general for what had taken place. The German ambassador, Baron Wangenheim, made a call upon the French ambassador to offer official apologies for the incident.

Then Gen. von Sanders quarreled with Enver Pasha, the minister of war, who has become more authoritative and overbearing than ever since by marrying the sultan's niece, he has become a damad, that is to say, a consort of a member of the imperial family.

Enver and Gen. von Sanders, it seems, are no longer on speaking terms, and everything has been done by the pasha to deprive Gen. von Sanders, and in a lesser degree the members of his mission, of all influence, authority, and prestige.

The result of this attitude on the part of Enver is gradually becoming apparent in all ranks of the Ottoman army where there is a tendency to ignore the German officers.

Emperor William is all the more annoyed about the matter since the dispatch of the Von Sanders mission was bitterly resented at St. Petersburg and tended to envenom greatly the already somewhat delicate relations between the Russian and German governments.

When immediately on his arrival at Constantinople Gen. von Sanders was appointed commander of the First Army corps, which is intrusted with the duty of garrisoning the capital and of manning the defenses of the Dardanelles, the czar's government raised such a storm of protest that the nomination had to be canceled.

Gen. von Sanders was created instead one of the inspectors general of the Ottoman army and was advanced to the rank of Turkish marshal by way of consolation.

That the appointment should have been canceled at the instance of Russia, which insisted that for a German general to be in supreme military command of the Dardanelles and of Constantinople would disturb the balance of power in the southeast of Europe, was a damaging blow to Germany in the eyes of the Turks, and it naturally impaired the status of the mission.

On the other hand, it is only natural that Russia should have raised objections to the arrangement that the entrance and exit from the Black sea, on which some of its richest ports are situated, notably Odessa and Batoum, should be under the direct control and command of German officers, that is to say, of officers of a power which is its chief rival in Turkey, and with which it expects to be at war before many years.

If Uncle Sam assimilates (we may approve the plan)
The strip from burning Yuma down to blazing Yucatan,
We ought to try (I mean, of course, when troops are through with quelling),
We ought to try to simplify that most atrocious spelling.
The map of Mex, which tapers down from Texas like a Y,
Is cluttered up, Mark Twain once said, with "names like printers' pi."
The vowels, long and short, are mixed with consonants galore;
This riot in the alphabet must make Brand Mathus roar.
Not far from Mex metropolis rise two majestic peaks;
Each snowy crown, immaculate, the cloudless ether seeks.
The higher one is called "Po-po" (it ends at length in I),
The lesser mountain bears a name that looks and sounds— Oh well,
As I was saying at the start, if Uncle Sam decides
To push his southern boundary way down to tropic tides,
He'll need a man to take the flag up where Balboa stood;
Not ev'ry soldier 'd do the job, but gallant Leonard Wood. ANDY.

WE doubt that Funston is "complaining bitterly" because the Mex in his vicinity outnumber his force two to one. He wants more men, and will need more men if anything of importance is to be done; but he is safe where he is.

BACK in the thirties and forties the Americans scorned to pick on the Mex unless the Greasers outnumbered them at least two to one, and ten to one was not considered bad odds. They would wait until enough Mex had accumulated to make a scrimmage worth while, and then they chased the Greasers over the horizon. Following is an example:

From Bancroft's History of Mexico.

Soon after the council was dismissed, Houston dispatched Deaf Smith with some others to destroy Vince's bridge, about eight miles off, the accomplishment of which would prevent the arrival of additional reinforcements and cut off all means of escape for Santa Anna in case of his defeat. Under cover of the islands of timber in front the battle array was formed unseen by the enemy. There was no noise, but along the ranks a low whispering might be heard, and a keen listener might have caught the word Alamo! . . . Not a shot was fired by the Texans till they were within point-blank range. Then, with deafening shout of "Remember the Alamo!" they poured in their volley and rushed to the charge.

The conflict, even at the breastwork, lasted only a few moments. In the short hand-to-hand conflict engaged in the Texans clubbed their rifles, and the Mexican bayonet proved a useless weapon against the superior strength and fierce valor of their antagonists. In less than twenty minutes after the Texans burst into camp the trained soldiers of Mexico were in headlong flight, a panic-stricken herd.

In this engagement the aggregate force of the Texans was 783 men, that of the Mexicans double the number. The enemy's loss, according to Houston's report, was: 630 killed, 208 wounded, and 730 prisoners. The loss of the Texans was 6 killed and 25 wounded.

It is much better to have pride in an adequate and highly efficient military establishment. But pride in efficiency is a rare commodity in any business, private or public.

At the Sign of the Goat.

Some good people believe that the Col is my mutton,
Just because an occasional verse makes the Line;
That I get there because you can't duck such a glutton,
Or the goat can't digest a zodiacal sign.

When the stars read aright, with the signs all auspicious,
Shall the sign of the Ram stay for Capricorn's sign?
By the horns of them both—they're both supposititious—
Though I now and then make it the fault isn't mine.

And the fact is, the Ram's 'mongst the Col's chiefest debtors;
Nor would he, ungrateful, his gratitude blink;
For the Line has oft freed him from flesh-wearing fetters;
Its smiles compelled his, and its thoughts made him think.

Then his thinks 'gan to jingle; he wrote and was happy;
Then he figured th' effect from ye Ed's point of view.
And then once in a while, when you had nothing snappy,
He's been tickled to death that his jingle got through. ARIES.

BERTEAU AVENUE PAVED THIS SUMMER.

Chicago, May 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please tell if Berteau avenue, west of Western avenue, is to be paved this summer. E. C. HACKETT, 2455 Berteau avenue.

Berteau avenue, between Western and Campbell avenues, is included in a system of streets for which contract was recently let to pave with granite-asphaltic concrete. The street will be paved during the summer. EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary.

NOT TO BE WIDENED.

Chicago, May 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please inform me why the Northwestern railroad purchased the corners on Lawrence and Forty-eighth street (Kilpatrick). Is there an ordinance allowing the widening of Forty-eighth street? CHRIST STAUFFER, 5050 Kenmore avenue.

We presume this refers to the corner of Lawrence and North Cicero avenues. North Cicero avenue formerly was known as North Forty-eighth avenue, while North Kilpatrick avenue formerly was known as North Forty-seventh avenue. There is nothing on our books at this time for widening or opening North Cicero avenue in the vicinity of Lawrence avenue. EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary.

DISCHARGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

An employer may discharge an employé at the end of any term of employment, unless when the employé went to work there was a definite agreement for notice, or a custom in the business which was known to the employer and the employé at the time the employment began. So far as we can judge from your statement, the employer is not liable where this employé was discharged at the end of the month. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TROUBLES OF OUR OWN.

Elgin, Ill., May 1.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—If Mexico represents a sixteenth century civilization and the United States the twentieth century civilization, is it fitting on the part of the latter to adopt a sixteenth century method to "civilize" the Mexicans?

Can you tell us from the pages of history how much civilization has been done by the sword and how those nations fared who adopted that method? This nation was engaged in an internecine strife for four long years and the condition of the country could fittingly be described as "hell." There is not a single valid reason why the United States should be in Mexico at this time except the reason which any bully can advance for lording it over his weaker neighbor. Each nation must work out its own salvation.

Your talk of the permanent occupation of Mexico may appeal to a certain type of "patriotism," but we have plenty of anarchy to clear up at our own doors before we "butt in" to the neighbor south of us.

The conditions in Colorado represent a civilization farther back than the sixteenth century, and with over twelve millions of negroes in our country whose social position has not yet been fixed, along with an average of a million immigrants who are coming to our shores every year, we have plenty of "civilizing" work to do right here at home. A. H. RITTENHOUSE.

FRENCH PEOPLE AND MUSIC.

Chicago, May 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—When a man like Mr. Damrosch makes himself prominent in print to the effect that there is no music in the French people, I must reply that of all the operas played in his native Germany, "Carmen" has secured the greatest number of performances. And Bizet, its composer, was, if memory serves me, a full blooded Frenchman, minus the slightest admixture of Teutonic blood.

That Gounod, Berlios, Debussy, and others prove nothing to the contrary would be to admit that flowers are found in May that had neither leaves nor roots—an impossible and preposterous proposition. It takes a musical people to flower in musical genius!

TROUBLES OF A DAIRYMAN.

St. Charles, Ill., May 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The board of health insists that the milk furnished Chicago shall be from healthy cows, properly fed and cared for by persons who are neat in their habits, and who will cool and place the milk in the can for transportation in the best possible condition. We are in full accord with them.

A milk house should be a refrigerator, and used for no other purpose than to cool and protect the milk. The door is thrown wide open three times each day, twice to receive the milk and once to load in the wagon to take to the station. The pump is outside, and pours the water, 48 to 50 degrees temperature, into the cooling tank. It passes around and past the cans and then into the watering trough outside.

Our great trouble is with flies, but I have learned how to circumvent them. I make a dark, tight room, like a refrigerator. The water makes it cool, and the darkness keeps the flies out. It works perfectly, but the milk inspector came and said, "Put in a window and ventilator, or your milk will not be received in Chicago," and now the flies are made comfortable and the milk house is a nice place for hired men in rainy days to smoke and expectorate. TIMELY BRITISH AID.

Chicago, May 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I don't doubt for one moment that THE TRIBUNE stands for all that is patriotic and for the good of the country, therefore perhaps you would undertake to see that some recognition is made of the way one English officer held a howling mob of Mexicans at bay, armed and ready to kill a helpless lot of American women with babes, and men, and also how another lot of Americans would certainly have been butchered to death by Mexicans at Tampico had it not been for another English officer and a handful of British marines.

If President Wilson desired Brazil to look after American interests, why did not the Brazilian minister intercede to get Americans out of Mexico? Brazil lacks the influence. No foreign power wields so much influence abroad as England. READER.

SULLIVAN LOSES FIGHT FOR JOBS

Wilson Ignores Candidates for Chicago and Peoria Revenue Posts.

DUNNE'S WORD PREVAILS

Appointment of J. F. Smietanka and E. D. McCabe Sent to the Senate.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Roger Sullivan and Democratic National Committeeman Boeschenstein have lost their fight to name the internal revenue collectors at Chicago and Peoria. President Wilson sent to the senate today these nominations:

Julius F. Smietanka for collector of the First district of Illinois, headquarters Chicago.

Edward D. McCabe for collector of the Fifth district of Illinois, headquarters Peoria.

Mr. Smietanka is a Pole and a follower of Mayor Harrison, by whom he was appointed a member of the Chicago board of education. He owes his appointment as collector to the indorsement of Gov. Dunne.

Mr. McCabe is a stockholder and director of the Lake View State bank in Chicago. His selection represents a personal triumph for Congressman Stone of Peoria, who has fought the Sullivan organization practically single handed for several months on the disposition of this place.

Appointments Anger Sullivan Men.

Sullivan adherents here are incensed by the action of the administration in rejecting the candidates for these positions recommended by their chief and by Mr. Boeschenstein as the titular head of the Illinois Democratic organization.

The Sullivan men blame Secretary Bryan for the outcome of these contests. The secretary is openly endeavoring to defeat Mr. Sullivan for the Democratic nomination and is cooperating politically with Gov. Dunne, who supported both Mr. McCabe and Mr. Smietanka.

The explanation of the appointments given at the White House is that in view of the dissension of the factions the administration accepted the recommendations of the governor. The Sullivan men say that is an insult to National Committeeman Boeschenstein, who is entitled to recognition under such circumstances.

Lewis Objected to Furlong.

For collector at Chicago Mr. Sullivan submitted the names of three men, one of whom is J. J. Furlong, his relative by marriage. It is reported that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo recommended Mr. Furlong last week. When this became known Senator Lewis informed the president that he would block the confirmation of any nominee except Mr. Smietanka.

At this point Mr. Bryan took a hand in the matter in behalf of Gov. Dunne.

F. E. J. Lloyd Jr., son o fa Progressive member of the legislature from Chicago, has been appointed vice-consul at Fort William, Ont. Dr. Stefano and Robert Stenson, son of an officer of the Stenson Brewing company, both of Chicago, have been named consular agents, the former to be assigned to France or Spain, and the latter to Ireland.

NO STIR IN CHICAGO.

Democratic politicians in Chicago were not greatly excited over the news from Washington that Julius F. Smietanka had been nominated for collector of internal revenue at Chicago. If confirmed, he will succeed Samuel M. Fitch, former Illinois Central railroad conductor, who was appointed by President Taft to succeed former Collector Henry L. Herts.

Roger C. Sullivan said that he had no comment to make concerning the nominations either of Smietanka in Chicago or of E. D. McCabe for collector of internal revenue at Peoria. Mr. Sullivan said he had withdrawn the name of James Furlong for the appointment as collector of internal revenue in Chicago several days ago.

Fitch Makes Good Record.

According to federal officials, Samuel M. Fitch, retiring collector of internal revenue, has shown marked executive and administrative ability in the conduct of the office. He was appointed by President Taft and assumed office on Aug. 1, 1910. During his incumbency Mr. Fitch has handled the income tax schedules required under the new law. Close to 30,000 income tax returns were received and checked by Collector Fitch and his deputies up to March 2. This was among the largest number of returns in any collection district in the country. All the additional work resulting from the income tax rush was handled with only a few additional deputies.

La Follette Calls Roads' Campaign Conspiracy to Influence Commission.

URGES PREVENTIVE LAW.

Offers Newspaper Clippings in Senate to Support His Accusations.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Senator La Follette laid before the senate today what he declared was evidence of a widespread conspiracy to intimidate, coerce, and control the interstate commerce commission to grant eastern railroads the 5 per cent increase in freight rates for which application is pending.

The senator spoke on his bill to make it a criminal offense to seek to influence decisions of the commission. He talked for more than two hours and produced a mass of newspaper clippings, copies of letters, and telegrams which found their way to the commission, in which the authors urged favorable action on the railroad plea.

He declared that "the conspiracy" had made use of newspaper articles, editorials, and advertising; that manufacturers and bankers had addressed communications favoring an increase, and that the propaganda had been in evidence for months before the railroads made their application.

Sees Impropriety in Campaign.

Under the law, Senator La Follette said, the commission must reach its decision on the evidence and testimony taken by it and not upon the arguments advanced through such a campaign.

In the course of his speech the senator declared that in Washington newspapers President Wilson frequently had been made to appear in favor of the rate increase. He said he could not believe that the president sought to influence the commission, but expressed surprise that these published reports of his attitude had never been denied.

When Senator Stone pointed out later that there had been denials from the president, Senator La Follette said that he was glad to hear this statement and hoped that the denial would appear in the Congressional Record.

Urges Safeguarding Commission.

Senator La Follette said congress could not excuse itself for constituting a tribunal like the commission, turning over to it cases of such vast importance as the one in question and leaving it "exposed to every conceivable form of attack."

More than 2,000 communications have been received by the commission, Senator La Follette asserted, including 700 petitions, resolutions, and letters specifically urging the increase.

"There is no mistaking what has been done," said the Senator. "The wayfaring man, though a fool, knows that there has been an organized conspiracy to coerce the commission to compliance with the demands of the railroads that $50,000,000 be taken from the public, handed over to them, and no questions asked."

The company had been employing an endless chain system in selling agency contracts for exclusive rights to vend washing machines.

A representative of the company agreed to reforms demanded and the fraud order proceedings were closed.

Is your home electrically-lighted? Unless it is, you are not enjoying life fully. For, most of the comfort you get out of life consists in your comfort at home. Once Electric Light comes in, you will notice the difference immediately. This bright, sunlike, healthful illuminant adds immeasurably to home enjoyment.

The Use of Tungsten (Mazda) Lamps Makes Electric Light Economical

Not only are Electric Light rates now very low, but you can effect still further economy by using Tungsten (Mazda) Lamps—giving three times as much light as carbon filament lamps for the same amount of electricity. If you own your home and it is located on one of our distributing lines, we will wire it and allow you two years' time for payment—equal monthly installments. The crowded street-car's twice-breathed air—

IF in the very streets, open and wide-swept, we cannot help inhaling myriads of germs, how much more danger must there be in the crowds such as we mingle with in stuffy street-cars and other crowded places?

Crowds mean germ dangers. The throat is the germs' easiest route into the system. Throat protection, therefore, is of vital importance. And science has supplied a trustworthy means of protection in FORMAMINT, the germ-killing throat tablet.

It is a little tablet—handy to have with you at all times—pleasant in taste. Sucked like candy, it frees in the saliva an efficient yet harmless germicide and so disinfects every nook and corner of the mouth and throat. A tablet taken occasionally not only soothes away irritation but insures that throat "cleanliness" so necessary to health. Endorsed by over 10,000 physicians. 50 tablets for 50 cents—at all druggists.

Enrico Caruso, The world's greatest tenor, writes: "I have found Formamint Tablets very pleasant to the taste and beneficial to the throat."

Dr. Wm. Lee Howard, The well-known medical author, writes: "I have no hesitation in stating that in Formamint we have a remedy that is invaluable in keeping the mouth and air passages free from germ infection."

CLEAR TRAIN CREW; HOLD UP VERDICT

Coroner's Jurors Would Force Installing Flagman and Bells at Crossing.

SHAKES ENGINEER'S HAND

Peter Hoffman, Whose Cousins Were Killed, and Railroader Weep at Hearing.

After conducting an inquest over the bodies of two young cousins yesterday, Coroner Peter M. Hoffman grasped the hand of the engineer whose train had caused their deaths.

Tears came to the eyes of both men. Neither spoke. The engineer, Thomas Dwyer of the Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul railroad, and the fireman, Paul J. Geary, had been exonerated by the coroner's jury.

Vehicle Shut from View.

They were the crew of the train which last Sunday crashed into the buggy of Mrs. Bessie Hoffman, injured her, and killed her two children. They testified they had not seen the vehicle because it was shut off from view by an oncoming train.

The verdict was entered, but will be held for thirty days to insure that the railroad places a flagman or warning bells at the grade crossing, and widens the grades at both sides of the road, and fill in the ditches.

Frank Carter, investigating agent for the road, said bells had been ordered six months ago, but had not been placed because of the weather.

Officials Indorse Action.

Morrison Koerner, assistant secretary of the public safety commission, and A. R. Layman of the Illinois public utilities commission, were present, and indorsed the action of the jury.

The verdict recommended that in the event of the railroad company failing to follow the safety suggestions of the jury the officials be held to the grand jury in connection with the deaths.

It was further recommended that a special committee be appointed by the public safety commission of Chicago and Cook county for the purpose of making an inspection of railroad grade crossings.

COL. LOUIS SCHAFFNER DIES; WAS ACTIVE IN CIVIL WAR.

Pioneer Chicago Tobacco Merchant and Alderman of Fourteenth Ward in 1871.

Col. Louis Schaffner, an old resident of Chicago, died yesterday at 610 Fullerton parkway. He was 87 years old. He was born in Alsace on July 25, 1827, and came to America when 9 years old. He served in the civil war and later was lieutenant colonel of the One Hundred and Fifty-third Illinois Volunteer infantry.

He came to Chicago after the war and was for many years a tobacco merchant. He served as alderman of the old Fourteenth ward in 1871.

The funeral will be at 1 o'clock tomorrow. Burial will be at Rosehill.

DEATH TAKES A. V. HARTWELL

Long Prominent in Coal and Railroad Circles in Chicago.

FALL CAUSES BREAKDOWN.

During Thirty-seven Years Connected with Chicago and Alton.

Abraham Vedder Hartwell, a prominent figure in coal and railroad circles of Chicago, is dead. A breakdown followed a fall five weeks ago, and death came at the family residence, 4953 Lake Park avenue, early yesterday.

Mr. Hartwell was 86 years old. He was connected with the Chicago and Alton railroad for thirty-seven years, resigning in 1900 to become president of the F. G. Hartwell company.

He was born in Denmark, N. Y., in 1828. He received his education at the Gouverneur Technical school, Gouverneur, N. Y., and shortly afterwards married Margaret A. Bates of Utica, N. Y. He supervised the construction of a section of the Erie canal, and came west in 1858.

Since his retirement from railroad work he had been active in the affairs of the coal company. The offices are in the Peoples Gas building.

Mrs. Hartwell died last September. Fred G. Hartwell and Morris Hartwell are sons living in Chicago, and Mrs. Alfred B. Emery of Cleveland, O., is a daughter.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from the late residence.

NEGROES PAY HONOR TO WOMAN

Fifteen Hundred Attend Funeral of Mrs. Mamie E. Burr of Ebenezer Congregation.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mamie E. Burr, negro woman church worker, were held yesterday in Ebenezer Baptist church at South Dearborn and West Thirty-fifth streets. Fifteen hundred men and women of her race attended. The decedent was 51 years old.

OBITUARY.

DR. DANIEL EGAN, brother of James J. Egan, 1008 Rush street, and the late Rev. P. A. L. Egan of St. Leo's Roman Catholic church, died yesterday morning after an illness of a week. Dr. Egan came to Chicago more than thirty-four years ago and lived at 2906 Archer avenue. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at Holy Name cathedral. Burial will be at Calvary.

THOMAS NELSON PARKS, 60 years old, 1710 Orrington avenue, Evanston, a member of the faculty of the Illinois College of Law, died last evening after a long illness. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Frances P. Parks, who is corresponding secretary of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union, and two daughters. Funeral private.

SAMUEL BAKER, 70 years old, a pioneer tobacco merchant of Chicago, died on Monday in Baltimore, where he had lived for the last ten years. Mrs. Ellen A. Medbury of the Palmer house is a cousin of the decedent.

JOHN FORREST DILLON, former judge of the Supreme court of Iowa, and more recently general counsel for the Missouri Pacific railway and the Western Union Telegraph company, died yesterday in New York after a protracted illness. He was 83 years old.

FATHER PATRICK FITZPATRICK, for thirty-five years a member of the Trappist order, residing at the monastery near Dubuque, Ia., died yesterday in a hospital. He was born in Mount Mellery, Ireland, and was 66 years old.

MRS. LUCY REID MILNER, wife of the Rev. D. C. Milner, died yesterday at 4332 North Hermitage avenue. She was 69 years old. She was a sister of the late W. H. Reid of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank.

AMEDEE GASQUET, the Byzantine historian, died yesterday in Paris aged 62 years. He was the author of books on historical, political, and social subjects.

Inter Ocean Sale Delayed.

Sale of the Inter Ocean Newspaper company again was postponed by Judge Carpenter of the United States District court yesterday. The continuance until tomorrow at 3 p. m. was taken at the request of Attorney Levy Mayer, who said it was desirable to give all who considered presenting bids every opportunity to do so.

The Power of $20

TWENTY DOLLARS have more real purchasing power at The Hub than any other clothing store in America. When we tell you that $20 will buy you as classy a suit as any merchant tailor can produce at $40 you probably will smile indulgently and cry "bunk." All right—if you are so skeptical, bear in mind that "seeing is believing." Take the time to see these $20 suits and keep your comments till you do see them. If the style and the class of these suits don't prove this assertion, then you're not out anything. But don't ridicule the statement until you know what you're saying.

PARTIAL description—all-wool, hand-tailored, silk-mixed worsteds in all colors—check, pencil and needle stripes, overplaids, club checks and shepherd plaids. Every style that appeals to men and young men of taste. All sizes for young men 32 to 40—and other men from 34 to 54.

Why the Indian was "light on his feet"

The Indian, before he was "civilized," could walk or run all day and dance half the night. He hardly seemed to touch the ground; he was tireless; he had no "nerves."

But suppose he had fastened hard leather and iron nails on those soft, springy heels nature gave him—and then pounded along on hard pavements?

He would have been exhausted at night—nervous and worn out—just the way you are.

You can go back to nature, so far as walking is concerned, and secure the effect of light, springy turf under your feet by wearing O'Sullivan's Heels of new live rubber on your shoes.

Wear them on the shoes you work in, walk in or dance in. They will save you the jar and strain which cause weary muscles and fatigued nerves. They will add to your efficiency, your earning power, your comfort and your pleasure.

O'Sullivan's Heels cost but 50c a pair, attached. All shoemakers and shoe dealers will attach them to your shoes when you buy them, or at any other time. If you prefer, send us 35c and a tracing of your heel, and we will mail you a pair. O'Sullivan Rubber Co., 131 Hudson St., New York City.

VIOLET DALE, pretty, youthful, and inexperienced, lingered uncertainly by the stage entrance after her no uncertain rejection by the manager. She wanted that job and she hated to go away. As she stood there up drove Stanley Hilton, a wealthy, idling patron of things theatrical, particularly girls. Something about Violet's attitude pleased him, so he assumed a paternally friendly air and asked her trouble. Though she held aloof from strangers as a rule, there was something invitingly consoling in this man's manner, and she felt the need of consolation so keenly that she told him of her rebuff. At that, Hilton laughed with a condescending friendliness, while looking at her searchingly. He assured that she had nothing to worry about, for she could easily be fixed up, and he scribbled a small note for her to give the manager.

Violet entered the theater in the midst of a disjointed, ramshackle rehearsal, approached the manager, shooting incessant instructions powerlike, and hesitatingly gave him the note. He stopped long enough after reading it, to tell the girl she could have a place in the chorus—such was the strength of Hilton's intervention. Violet made good in her job.

For some time Hilton watched her approvingly, but let her alone after confiding her to the interest of Clara Delane, the star, to whom he was particularly devoted. Clara had her good points, and one of them was her kindliness toward the youngsters in the profession, and for Violet her friendliness grew into affection. One other person whom she interested greatly was Frank Gordon, house electrician. In fact, before many days had gone he found himself in love with the small chorus girl, and, though diffidence kept him from saying anything to her, he watched over her jealously and was particularly alert in regard to Stanley Hilton.

It happened that when Clara Delane was hurt by a bit of falling scenery Violet was the only person knowing her lines, and to the little ingenue was given the star rôle for the rest of the performance. She handled it well, and won much praise, attracting again the errant attention of Hilton. He began to haunt the theater more than before, seeking interviews with her, which she tried to avoid. One night she remained after every one had left, hoping to elude him.

Gordon, who watched her closely all of the time, waited until she should leave. So he was on hand when fire broke out. In a few seconds the theater was thick with smoke. As he hurried to Violet's dressing room he stumbled over the watchman, already partially overcome with the fumes. He caught Violet up and ran with her to the open air, where he found Hilton with his automobile. Putting the girl in the man's arms, Gordon hastened back to rescue the watchman, and when he emerged with him Hilton and the girl had disappeared.

The next morning the papers announced in large type the heroism of Stanley Hilton, who had rescued a chorus girl from the burning theater. Gordon read this item grimly and let it stand. At the hospital, where Violet was recovering from the nervous exhaustion induced by her experience, she was told that Hilton was her rescuer, that her expenses were paid by an anonymous friend, and she received flowers and unsigned notes. After her recovery she returned to the theater feeling that she owed Hilton her life, her recovery, and her job, but in her heart she hated him.

It was the last night of the engagement. Before the performers came to prepare for the play Gordon slipped into the dressing room with a bouquet of wild violets for his lady, accompanied by a little unsigned note of farewell. On her dressing table he found a huge bunch of roses, and tucked among them a note from Hilton, requesting that she show her assent to his proposal by wearing them. Enraged by this, Gordon rushed out of the room, stopped to conclude his official duties by pinning on the bulletin board a notice in regard to the dressing table lights, and then disappeared from the stage world. But he was present at the play. Crouched in the aisle commanding Hilton's box, he waited with a pistol in his hand, prepared to save the girl at any cost, if she allowed herself to make that choice. Meanwhile in the dressing room Violet examined both her bouquets and read her notes. She pondered over them, and compared them with the notes she had received in the hospital. She found that these and the violet note tallied, and a sudden impulse sent her to the bulletin board, where she read again the electrician's order in regard to the lights. She found agreement again. Thankfully she went back to her dressing room. Then the watchman came to her. "Say, Hilton didn't save you from the fire. It was Gordon who done it," he explained briefly, and disappeared.

When the curtain rolled up for her entrance Gordon, lurking in the dim shadows, leveled his cocked pistol on Hilton, leaning forward tensely to read the flower message. The chorus danced on the stage, and among the number of tripping, twirling flower garlanded girls two men saw one of them wearing a bouquet of wild violets. Gordon slipped his revolver back in his pocket, and retreated behind the footlights. After the curtain went down for the last time he was conscious of a small figure standing beside him extending her hands to him.

"I don't think there is a nicer flower in the world than the wild violet," she said, "and I want to thank you for these, along with all of the others you have sent me, and also——"

But she didn't finish her enumeration, or if she did it was lost in the electrician's coat sleeve.

Miss Lottie Briscoe, popular Lubin star, is entitled to description as petite, for her 121 pounds of weight are divided between her sixty-one inches of height. Her love for stagecraft dates from babyhood. When only 4 years old she saw her first play, "Romeo and Juliet," which so impressed her that immediately after the performance she gave an imitation that revealed her histrionic tendencies. All through her childhood she took boy rôles in big plays, and as she grew older was given ingenue parts. Three years ago in the summer she became interested in moving pictures and has found that work a pleasant niche for the display of her talents.

"Getting Rid of Algy."
—Thankhouses.

Algy, a perfectly inoffensive English chap, aspiring to the favor of May, star of the chorus, incurred thereby the enmity of Jim, a less favored suitor, who was not above the ignoble step of calling in a gang of toughs to dispose of him. They found their chance one day, supposedly, when Algy sat down in front of a shop on a large trunk. Into the trunk they thrust him and then dashed off for an express wagon. In the meantime the trunk, which May had purchased, was delivered to her apartment, and the proprietor of the shop replaced it with another. This was the one the gang gathered up, drove off with, and dropped carefully in the river, while May was tenderly unpacking Algy and leading him off to the altar, so she could take care of him all of the time and keep him safely.

"Making Him Over—For Minnie."
—Essanay.

Ruth, beauty parlor manicurist, loves her swain, Jimmie, an inventive young mechanic, but when her hair dresser colleague, Minnie, picks flaws in the ungroomed appearance of Jimmie she is able to see his defects. With knowledge comes dissatisfaction and she leads the devoted Jimmie quite a life until he happens to get a thousand dollars from an invention. This, at Ruth's pleas, he devotes to personal beautification, until he is such a grand young man as to incite the desire for possession in Minnie, who had begun the trouble not because she wanted Jimmie but simply because she liked to stir things up. Minnie is an effective young woman herself and she has no difficulty in catching the susceptible youth in the meshes of her hair, to speak in appropriate figure. Then Ruth awakens to the disastrous thing she has brought about by beautifying Jimmie just for Minnie's benefit, as well as the danger of having him beautified at all, and by the exercise of amazonian force she drags him away from Minnie, reduces him to the proper state of humiliation, and divests him forever of dandified desires and accompaniments. Home is happier without applied beauty, is the theory she lives on.

South American Takes Chicago Girl as Bride.

SURPRISE will be occasioned by the announcement of the marriage of Miss Florence Mercedes Jettner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jettner of 6641 Ingleside avenue, and Frederick H. Walton of Buenos Aires, which took place on last Thursday afternoon.

The betrothal of Miss Jettner and Mr. Walton was announced shortly after the holidays. At that time the marriage was planned for next year. Mr. Walton had engaged passage for his return journey to South America for early April and went on to New York for the sailing. Instead of sailing, however, he returned to Chicago in the hope of persuading his fiancée to consent to immediate marriage and return to South America with him. The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock on Thursday at the family residence, Father McDonald officiating.

Back of the short engagement and hurriedly arranged wedding is an interesting bit of a romance. Mr. Walton, who is foreign representative for a large St. Louis concern, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. T. Walton of San Salvador, Paraguay, but formerly of Chicago. He and his bride were playmates in their kindergarten days. Some sixteen years ago, however, he left the city to remain away until last winter, when he was brought to America on business for the firm with which he is connected. During this absence the two school friends corresponded intermittently, and the members of the Jettner family were among the first friends sought by Mr. Walton on his arrival in Chicago. Before he had been here many days he had laid siege to the affections of his former playmate, and the betrothal followed during the holidays.

The plans for his return journey, which had been arranged as a business trip and has been converted into a honeymoon, have been altered. Yesterday morning early Mr. and Mrs. Walton sailed from New York for three months of European visiting. From Paris they will leave for Brazil and will visit some of the interesting spots of the region before taking up their residence in Buenos Aires.

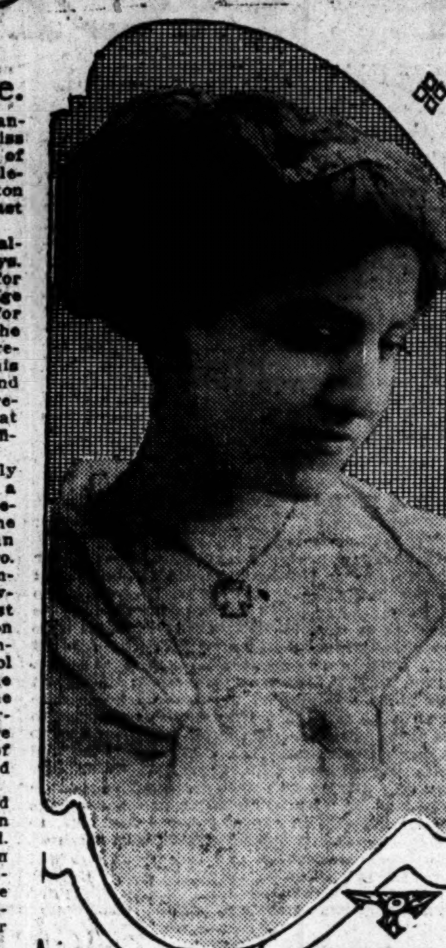

Mrs. Charles L. Krum, 5000 Harper avenue, will give a reception on Saturday afternoon and evening in compliment to Miss Lillian White and Heinrich Josef Freyn, whose marriage is to take place on June 1 at Antigo, Wis., where the bride was reared. A group of the close friends of Miss White will assist at the reception, this company to include Mrs. Alfred Alschuler, Miss Helen Austin, Mrs. Frank Dudley, Mrs. Walter Hudson, Miss Erma Karpen, Miss Agnes Lapham, and Mrs. Willis Pryor.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Ludlow of Monroe, Wis., have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Harriet, to Horace Gillette Lozier, which is to take place on Friday afternoon, May 22, at 1 o'clock, at Monroe. Mr. Lozier is from Oak Park.

The marriage of Miss Nina Noryne Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown of 5349 Michigan avenue, to Richard H. Colby is to take place on June 6.

The marriage of Miss Marie Cowley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cowley of 6033 Harper avenue, to Arthur E. Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Holland of East Orange, N. J., is to take place on June 3.

An interesting visitor to be is Mrs. John Fauntleroy McGill, who will be remembered as Miss Grace Collins, daughter of former Judge Lorin C. Collins. Mrs. McGill expects to come to the city during the summer while her husband, Capt. McGill, is in Mexico, and she will bring with her her two small daughters. Capt. and Mrs. McGill have been stationed at Bremerton, the navy station just across Puget sound from Seattle. On Monday Capt. McGill was ordered to leave Bremerton for Mexico, in command of a battalion of United States marines which will join the Fourth regiment under Col. Pendelton in Mexico. During his absence Mrs. McGill plans to be with her brothers, Dr. Lorin C. Collins and George R. Collins, both of this city, for a while at least.

Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, who has spent the winter in California, has returned and is staying at the Elms hotel until she takes possession of her new residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett C. Brown sailed from New York yesterday via the Mediterranean to Naples and Genoa, where they will spend a few weeks in the Italian and French Riviera before attending the International Federation at Lyons, France, on June 10, which will be immediately followed by the international Olympic congress at Paris, France, from June 13 to June 23.

Mrs. Edna Troll of Elmhurst will give a breakfast to twelve guests today. The decorations will be in spring flowers and Miss Edith Klen of Elmhurst and Miss Betty Overholt of Chicago will give solos.

Mr. and Mrs. James Daniel Callahan of 1129 Addison street announce the engagement of their daughter, Lauryne Frances, to William Henry Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Bryant of Evanston.

Suffragists Again Work in Harmony.

HARMONY was the keynote of the board meeting of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association yesterday at state headquarters in the Tower building. All storm clouds disappeared from the suffrage horizon last Saturday when the state board approved a message to congress which was practically identical in substance with the resolution which the National American Woman's Suffrage association had submitted.

Women who had taken sides in the warring factions and held opinions as far apart as the poles were named on the same committee at the board meeting and stood about talking and chatting happily after the meeting adjourned. Mrs. Medill McCormick and Mrs. Sherman M. Booth did not appear at headquarters until an hour or more after the meeting had been called, but they were among the last to leave the office.

Mrs. McCormick, chairman of the congressional committee of the National American Woman's Suffrage association, and Mrs. George A. Soden, first vice president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, were appointed as chairmen of the banquet committees for the dinner to be given in honor of the delegates to the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs by the state suffrage association on June 13. Mrs. Annie Wallace Hunt was appointed chairman of the finance committee for the banquet, Mrs. H. M. Brown of Peoria chairman of the committee on ushers, and Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout chairman of the program and speakers. Mrs. Frederick A. Dow, Mrs. George Bass, and Mrs. Trout will have charge of the invitations.

Plans were laid for a complete organization of the state of Illinois by congressional districts at the suggestion of Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Mary Codding Bourland of Pontiac, Illinois, congressional chairman.

Evangelical Lutherans Meet Today.

The triennial convention of the Evangelical Lutheran synod of Missouri, which is the largest Lutheran body in the United States, will begin a ten days' session today in the St. Luke's church, Belmont and Greenview avenues. The convention marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the coming to America of the Saxon immigrants, who founded the synod.

Women Admitted to Club.

As a result of an amendment to the constitution of the Cosmopolitan club of the University of Chicago women are eligible to become members.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Secretary McAdoo spent this evening at the White House going over with his fiancée the list of persons to whom announcement cards will be sent after the wedding on Thursday. The president and Miss Margaret Wilson, Miss Bones, Miss Gordon, and Dr. Grayson went to the circus, occupying a box after viewing the animals outside the show tent.

Mrs. Sayre, who will be matron of honor for her sister, will arrive at the White House tomorrow morning from her home in Williamstown, Mass., where she returned last week after spending several weeks with her mother at White Sulphur Springs and at the White House.

Many other relatives of the bride elect will arrive tomorrow and Thursday morning. The packing of the bride's trousseau began today. In the outfit purchased were clothes for a sea voyage, but it is a little indefinite now whether Secretary McAdoo can be absent long enough for that. He engaged passage for an outgoing vessel for next Saturday.

The marriage of Miss Wilson and Secretary McAdoo on Thursday will be the first instance of a daughter of a president becoming a bride in the blue room. There have been other weddings in this beautiful apartment, but not of daughters of presidents. All of these have been in the east room. A son of a president was wed in this room in 1828, when John Adams married his cousin, Miss Mary Hellen, before a distinguished company.

Officials Attend Pastor's Jubilee.

City and county officials attended the silver jubilee dinner to the Rev. Francis Gordon, pastor of St. Mary of Angels parish and publisher of the Polish Daily News, at the Hotel La Salle last night.

There was a conspicuous contrast in some of the guests. Mayor Harrison was separated from Roger Sullivan by Anthony Czarnecki. Mr. Czarnecki was absent at intervals. Judge John E. Owens and Judge Sabath sat at the same table and chatted. Judge Charles M. Foell was at the speakers' table. Just nearby was Julius F. Smietanka, school trustee, who on Monday was sentenced by Judge Foell to thirty days in jail.

The mayor and Mr. Sullivan had not conversed for some time.

"Mr. Mayor," Mr. Sullivan said, "you don't get any older."

"I don't see any more wrinkles on your face," the mayor rejoined.

At another dinner residents of St. Ita's parish presented the Rev. Father Timothy J. Hurley with $1,800 as an appreciation of his sixteen years of service among them. The occasion for the gift was his recent promotion to the rectorship of St. Patrick's church at Peotone, Ill.

Lumbermen Seek Lower Rates.

Better freight rates for lumber, a minimizing of the competition between the several lumber sections of the country, and a campaign to educate the public to the use of more lumber products will be sought by the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, which began its twelfth annual convention at the Congress hotel yesterday.

Landis Restrains "Movie" Show.

Judge Landis yesterday granted a petition for an injunction restraining Alfred Hamburger, "movie" producer, from showing the film entitled "Victory," now running at the Ziegfeld theater. The petition was filed by Edward Abeles, an actor. Abeles said his name had been used in advertising the film.

White City to Open May 16.

Announcements comes from White City that at 1 o'clock on Saturday, May 16, the gong will announce the tenth annual opening of the amusement resort.

Bossism and Egotism Hurts Tutors, He Says.

SCHOOLMASTERS of the nation are declared "subject to the plague of personality" by Prof. William McAndrew of Washington Irving High school, New York, in an article published by the School Review, University of Chicago Press.

Prof. McAndrew has returned a series of indictments against the school teachers. He charges them with:

Bossism. Oracularism.
Love of the limelight. General egotism.

"There are societies to rescue drunkards, to save sinners, to cure consumptives, and an association might do a great service in defending schools from their principals and school systems from their superintendents," the writer observes.

Prof. McAndrew argues the schoolmaster's faults, as he sees them, are in a degree a resultant of his occupation, his continual exercise of authority, his immunity from criticism.

Mrs. Meder for Welfare Head.

Indications of an organized effort to have Mrs. Leonora Z. Meder appointed head of the new municipal department of public welfare were seen yesterday. She is chairman of the Catholic Woman's league protectorate.

Church Slipping Back, Congregationalists Say.

STRONGER support from members of Congregational churches was asked yesterday by speakers at the sixty-first annual meeting of the Chicago Congregational association at the Green Street Congregational church.

Several pastors gave illustrations of the way they said the Congregational church is losing ground in Chicago and asked for stronger support, financially and otherwise.

"We are not keeping up with the growth of Chicago," the Rev. J. R. Nichols, pastor of the Rogers Park Congregational church, said, "and our membership is decreasing instead of gaining.

"Instead of trying to keep up our churches in the center of Chicago there is a tendency to take care of churches in the outlying sections, where the population is small, rather than still retain our hold on our churches in the congested districts of Chicago.

"The City Missionary society had to aid thirty-two churches, while forty-one were self-supporting, during the last year. The society received 58 per cent of its money from outlying churches, and the other 42 per cent came from the rest of the churches. We can not make further progress if we neglect the churches in the city. Why, we had to combine two into one recently to cover the expenses of one.

"Other denominations are progressing, the Catholic church, Presbyterians, Methodists, and so on; but they do not let anything hold them back. I think we ought to work harder on the financial end."

Nine pastors were appointed to confer with nine members of the City Missionary society to make the Congregational association and the City Missionary society coextensive. Another important innovation was the decision to divide the association into three sections. The meeting next fall will therefore be held in three sections of the city.

He Wears No 'Goggles,' Slips Reception Committee.

PROF. HERMAN HAHN, German sculptor, who designed the Goethe monument for Lincoln park, came to Chicago yesterday to superintend the erection of the statue. The dedication is set for June 13.

The professor is typically German, minus the thick eyeglasses usually worn by German professors. The absence of spectacles made him the victim of an amusing blunder on the part of the local committee that was to meet him at the La Salle depot to escort him to the Congress hotel.

Former Judge Michael F. Girten had been assigned to board the train at Englewood, while the other committeemen, headed by Dr. Otto L. Schmidt, waited at the main depot. Mr. Girten missed connections. The waiting committeemen knew Mr. Girten, but were puzzled when they didn't see him. Then they cast about for "a stockily built German, with the typical eyeglasses," but overlooked a dapper looking, exceedingly well groomed man 45 years old who was being hustled through the depot by a porter. Later the committee caught up and all proceeded on an automobile tour of Lincoln park. The professor took the "slip" as a good joke.

Woodmen Go to Battle Camp.

Two warring delegations of Modern Woodmen of America left yesterday for the state camp at Rock Island. The camp went into executive session last night and the crisis of the rate war which has caused the split was reached.

The trouble began three years ago. Officers said there was danger of insolvency unless the rates were increased. Thousands protested and declared the officers of the order were impelled by other than altruistic motives.

WOULD MAKE DRUG STORES AID TO INJURED STATIONS.

Editor of Trade Publication Writes Dunne Proposing Law Providing People Pay for Services to Injured.

Here is a plan to make every drug store a first aid station and to make the public share the costs.

Gov. Dunne recently made public a letter calling on the pharmacists of Illinois to give first aid to all injured persons. He said complaints had reached him that druggists had refused treatment to persons injured on the highways.

C. A. Mayo, editor of the American Druggist, New York, yesterday gave out a letter in which he asks the governor to have enacted a law to give the druggists compensation for their service. Mr. Mayo's draft says:

Be it enacted that where any registered pharmacist or druggist is called upon to render first aid to persons injured or incapacitated and where such persons are either unable to pay or refuse to pay for such services, the pharmacist shall be paid for the material used and for the service rendered by the municipality, township, or county in which the service is rendered, at a rate to be determined by the board of health of the state.

In his letter to the governor, Mr. Mayo remarks:

"In case of an accident the injured person is carried to the nearest drug store, where business is suspended owing to the crowd which collects. The druggist extends what aid he can, and he generally can give expert first aid, but rarely receives thanks, still more rarely receives pay for the material used, for the time expended or for the loss of trade."

CITY COUNSEL WOULD END CASES OF 35 WAITRESSES.

Recommends Entering of Nonsuit, but Members of Union Oppose Ruling as Preventing Action Against Police.

The cases against thirty-five waitresses who were arrested 119 times in the recent Henrici strike were continued in Judge Bowles' court yesterday. Each of the waitresses demanded a jury trial. The only open date on the court's calendar was June 5.

The expense to the city if jury trials are held caused the corporation counsel to recommend that the cases be nonsuited. Miss Carrie Alexander, president of the union, was in favor of this action, but other members of the union opposed the plan. They asserted the efforts of the corporation counsel to nonsuit the cases would prevent suits which the waitresses threatened to file against the police, several policemen being charged with roughly handling the waitresses.

The dispute threatened to disrupt the union for a while. Finally Miss Alexander's arguments prevailed, and it is believed the cases will be nonsuited. Attorney Masters, representing the union, declared it would save the union several thousand dollars.

Missing Kansas Heirs Sought Here.

Chicago detectives are looking for two sons of Fred E. Pierce, a horse trader of Topeka, Kas., who died on Saturday, leaving his estate to them. H. M. Bomgardner, an undertaker of Topeka, telegraphed instructions to acting Capt. Thomas Coughlin of the detective bureau to look for the missing heirs.

Wants Go-Cart for Twins.

"I AM writing in behalf of a worthy neighbor who has twin babies. She needs a go-cart for them, and if any Cornerite will donate or lend a twin go-cart, I will pay the freight. I have many of the best magazines I should like to give away, also some embroidery patterns for all purposes. "MRS. J. C."

We have not had a call for a "double header" in the form of a go-cart for so long we might have fancied twins had gone out of fashion. A year or two ago requests for such conveniences were frequent. If there is one laid aside from "old stock" in the gift of the H. H. C., you may expect it with some degree of confidence. Your donations are welcome and timely. There is a run upon magazines and patterns just now.

Pennants and Sleeve Bands.

"I should like to ask a favor. Have any of the readers pennants and sleeve bands to give away. By sleeve bands I mean the felt bands of different colors with the initials of schools on them, different shapes and sizes. I shall return the favor in the near future by helping the Corner. THERESA B."

Graduates from schools where the "bands" are worn will lend an indulgent ear to Theresa's appeal. I have noticed that pennants and bands are often consigned to the rubbish room when the really hard work of life engages the attention of whilom wearers and bearers of the decorations. Theresa has a better use for them.

In Need of a Truss.

"I read in the Corner some time ago of an offer of a truss. My husband would be grateful for it, if it is still to be had. Or if some one else has one not in use, he would be glad to get it. The rupture grows worse every day. We think a truss, if fitted properly, would be a great help. My husband is 78 years old, and I am 72, yet we both work. I am glad to do anything to help make a living, but if there was only something I could get to do at home! We live back in the country, three miles from town, and there is not much employment for an old woman. If a truss is sent to us, and it cannot be fitted to do any good, we will gladly pass it on to another who may be able to make use of it. I wish I might see the paper every day and read your "Helping Hand." I might see opportunities where I might help. I see a paper, by accident, now and then. H. M. W."

Now and then I draw out a letter from the heap upon my desk that carries a message to my heart as if I were face to face with the writer. The foregoing is one of these messages. The handwriting is exquisitely neat and clear—not in the least like that of an "old woman." The story is told with simple earnestness, alike removed from flippancy and from the tune of a whining suppliant. The wife would accept the offered truss for her husband, and wishes, naturally enough, not to be laid aside as a useless member of the home while she is still able to work, if work were provided for her. The truss was given away before we heard from her. Can, and will, we get another for her husband? And will not the women whose hearts are ever open to melting charity write to me for the address of the brave woman, and set wits to work as to the best way of enlivening her lot and proving their kinship with her?

Baby Cannot Walk.

I am sadly in need of a baby buggy. I bought one on the installment plan. My husband was taken sick, we could not pay, and they took it away. My baby cannot walk and I am unable to carry her. If one of your readers has one she no longer needs will she please give it to me? I will gladly call for it. MRS. S."

We rarely ask for two go-carts in one week. But this is for one baby alone. A baby bereft of the buggy taken from her by the inexorable installment ogre. Will our members inquire into the disaster? I hold the address.

Cream Frosting for Cake.

One large cup pulverized sugar, butter the size of a small egg. Cream butter and sugar well together and flavor with vanilla. Add enough thick cream to make of the right consistency for spreading. Less than a tablespoonful will be needed.—Kindness of Reader.

Crinoline Trend in Restaurant Frocks.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—No variety of frock, excepting of course the dance frock, equals in importance the restaurant gown. Informal dinners at the café where there is dancing and music have become so popular that the question of the gown to be worn is correspondingly vital. The chief distinction between the restaurant gown and the tango dance gown is that of difference in the sheerness of the material of which the dress is made. The dancing frocks must of necessity be more or less substantial if the wearer is to wrest more than two wearings from them, while the restaurant frock, being given no violent wear, can be of the most diaphanous and vaporish quality.

Hat of old rose straw and grosgrain ribbon. Black varnished straw hat with black and white feathers.

Many of these gowns possess a hooped skirt. Mme. Jeanne Lavin here is insisting on these crinoline skirts, fulled from the waist to the hem and with an ultra left side. modern touch given to the whole garment by a decided lift at the

Other gowns are shown with the actual Turkish skirt, the skirt which Poiret has insisted on for so long and which is now meeting with marked approval from many outside sources. Objected to primarily because of its alleged immodesty, it is now considered a model of propriety in comparison with the deeply slit skirts, the highly lifted ones, and the thin affairs which are positively misty in their bold transparency.

These Turkish skirts are not worn often on the streets. They are worn largely in the house and in the restaurant, most of the women owning them riding to and from the restaurant in their motor cars.

Doris Blake Says

"Dissipated acquaintances are not always fast friends."

"The Tragedy of Haste."

I HEARD the other day two sides of a love story which might well be called "The Tragedy of Haste." It recalled to me the recent remark of a man I know: "Women are largely responsible for their own love tragedies," he said. Sometimes we are. But—now for the story.

First, Jim confided in me. He is rather young and impressionable, but was devoted to Alice. At a recent week-end Alice telegraphed to him, asking him to come and see her for some very special reason.

That was Saturday morning. She got no reply to the telegram, so on Sunday called him up on the long distance. He wasn't in. She talked to his roommate. She asked the roommate if Jim had received a telegram. The roommate said Jim had received a telegram on Saturday, but he did not know from whom.

Without waiting to think of any probable mishap to her telegram, Alice immediately jumped to the conclusion that the message had been received and completely ignored. So she sat down and wrote him a letter——such a letter! It was the kind that only can be written by a thoroughly angry and jealous girl.

When Jim received it he was thunderstruck! To use his own expression, he was "knocked flat." The telegram he had received that Saturday was a business one. The one she sent was not received by him until two days later, when it was found in the wrong box at the hotel office. After a lot of cogitation he decided that a girl who would distrust him so unreasonably as her letter affirmed, was not a pleasing prospect as a life companion. So he sat down and wrote a letter which broke off the engagement. And now she is "the most unhappy of mortals," Alice confided to me.

I don't know why it is, but girls, generally speaking, will jump at conclusions much more hastily than men. A little of man's cold logic and calm reasoning would spare many an aching feminine heart.

Both Love Her.

"Dear Miss Blake: We are two young men in love with the same girl and all three of us are employed in the same office. This girl loves us both, but refuses to show any preference. When one of us asks her to go out she refuses to go unless the other also goes. We have tried several times to get her to make a choice, but she has refused, saying that she loves us both. Either one of us would be willing to drop out of the race for her hand as soon as she shows a preference. How can we overcome our difficulty? X. AND Y."

The number of letters received daily from correspondents who wish to be answered through the columns of "The Tribune" is so large in comparison with the space allotted to those answers that there is necessarily some delay in replying to many of the questions asked of Miss Blake. If you wish a prompt reply inclose in your letter a stamped, addressed envelope.

I am afraid she doesn't care for either of you except in a friendly way. If her company is enjoyable why not continue going about as in the past? The future will probably solve the problem for you.

School Is to Give Play.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young girl of 19 attending college. Our school is going to give a play in a few weeks. There is a certain young man, who has taken me out several times lately, whom I would like to ask to go. He does not go to the same school and does not know anything about our affairs. Would it be proper for me to buy two tickets and ask him to accompany me to the play? If he offers to pay for the tickets should I accept the money? "PEGGY."

I do not think it exactly proper, Peggy, for a girl to buy tickets for a young man, even to a school play. You might drop the young man a note and tell him that your school was giving a play and you hoped he would be able to attend. The question of whether there was a charge or not for the tickets would arise in his mind, no doubt, and he would make inquiries. Then the matter of taking you would be left entirely with him in a manner that would give you no cause for embarrassment.

He Owns a Bulldog.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 19 and am considered beautiful. I am deeply in love with a young man one year my senior. I am engaged to the young man of whom I have spoken. He is a great lover of dogs, owning an English bulldog himself, while I am very fond of my own Angora cat. As you know cats and dogs do not get along well together and as we expect to be married soon what should I do in this case? DISTRESSED."

You will have to decide this question for yourself. If you love each other you will not allow the question of dogs and cats to interfere with your happiness.

Garden Beans.

THE home gardener can revel in varieties of beans. In fact, when people depended upon their own gardens and fields for their beans, a far greater variety was known than today, when most people get their beans from the market.

There are reasons why the beans of Spanish speaking regions of the earth should interest us this spring. As meat is scarce in most such countries, and the people are too poor to buy it anyway, the bean does royal service among them. The humble "frijol" and the corn are frequently stewed together by the Indians of Mexico, and the Indians farther north used the same combination in that native dish which we have adopted, namely, succotash.

We have one of these frijoles in our gardens, the black bean (frijol negro), often called turtle bean, because we make "turtle soup" of it. Others of these climbing beans are always cooked in stews, a red one in particular. There are a good many varieties of these beans, most of which have dark colors, although there are white ones. All are rather small.

The best known of all our beans is not a garden but a field or bush bean. This is the navy bean, and is undoubtedly the original of the "Boston baken bean."

The favorite wax bean, of which there are many varieties, is being gradually displaced in favor of the green string bean, evidently because it does not market as well as some of the green varieties. The best wax bean from the garden is good, yet those who know string beans and are exiled from garden privileges will long for a panful of that beautiful pole bean called the "speckled cranberry."

The more quickly we can get these to growing and producing in our gardens the better it is for our health, for, except spinach, there is no green thing which yields so much of tonic iron as green beans.

What it is well to look for in buying seed beans is that, as regarding the crop, some are called prolific and give a more abundant yield. There is one which is recommended as 1,000 to 1, a "refugee." There is another, by the way, a pole bean, called "lazy wife," that grows in great clusters.

Those with "early" as part of their name are worth attention, for many of them produce a crop in six weeks.

The scarlet runner, of which we make an ornament, is used abundantly in England for the table and seems to be prolific in August and September. The pod is so large that it is cut diagonally across in many pieces and makes good eating.

There are two kinds of large beans, the Windsor and fava, which are worthy of the attention of growers. The fava we can get canned in Greek neighborhoods in our large cities. These are much used by orientals with meat in stews. The precaution is given that they should never be stirred in the process of boiling, except with a wooden spoon, as otherwise they turn black.

Some of the French beans are smaller, daintier of texture, and more highly esteemed as a meat accompaniment in France, or when cooked in meat juice, or served alone in fine sweet butter, than with us. Fine restaurants charge 40 and 50 cents an order for them, and, if you like green beans in perfection, they are worth it.

The French name for beans is used in England and somewhat in America for those varieties most used in France. This is "haricot." The green ones are called "haricots verts" and the ripe ones, "haricots flageolets," or simply "flageolets." The most esteemed of all the haricots, whether green or ripe, are called "soissons." The dry soissons are incomparably good when well cooked.

A recipe for soissons with leg of mutton says to serve with the leg of mutton and well seasoned with the roast. "Heat them up in the juice, and serve them in the same platter with the meat, in order that they may catch the last drop of liquid which escapes from the mutton while it is being carved."

The French and Germans both dry green beans, breaking them off the ends, threading them on strings, dipping them in boiling water for two minutes, and then plunging them immediately into cold, draining them on a cloth; then, when the water has dried off, hanging them in the shade in a dry place. When they are ready to cook them they treat the beans just as though they were fresh.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

By Lillian Russell

[Copyright: 1914: By Lillian Russell.]

YOU may gain a complexion as white as sugar, eyes as bright as diamonds, with hair a yard long and all pure silk, and yet be as expressionless as a face painted on a china plaque. You may try the virtues of electric baths and beautifying massage, eat wafers till your skin is translucent, and get the pink in your cheek and the dazzle in your eye—but one grain of genuine unselfish good will, absolute truth, and sympathy will outdo all else in making your charms felt and enduring.

The husbands and lovers of beautiful women find attractions wear off fast—and you want some quality that will last. The face expresses instantly the inner feelings; therefore how much more lovely is a face expressing a sweet and generous thought than one expressing jealousy, envy, or revenge. You should guard your telltale expression, and there is but one way—one real beautifier. That is your thoughts. You should never hate. No thought so quickly registers an ugly expression upon a countenance as the thought of hate. It positively disfigures the most beautiful features. Next to hate comes "jealousy"—truly called the "green eyed monster." The change in a face caused through jealousy is different from the fierceness of hate. It is a sickly, gone, gnawing expession most disagreeable to see. Envy gives still another expression—tight lips and bulging eyes are the reward for the thought. Contempt or sarcasm pinches a face out of all natural proportions and indifference leaves a face absolutely expressionless and flat.

Good will is the beautifier; just the pure thought of kindness toward all lightens up the plainest features. Appreciation puts sunbeams in the eyes and brings out the best in all. Love gives adorable softness and depth to the eyes and wonderful sweetness to the expression of the mouth. Gratitude is often a pathetic expression, but it is always beautiful, while generosity broadens the eyes, rounds the contour of the features, and gives a wholesome, sympathetic expression that indicates honest good fellowship.

Remember: You can make or mar your face by your thoughts. It requires only an education in thought control to beautfy any face—yes, any face.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

If you prefer to have your question answered by individual letter please send stamped envelope.

MRS. T. T.: I think the trouble is some skin infection and would advise you to consult a good physician. I cannot give remedies for eczema.

EDNA: By squeezing blackheads out you leave a mark on the face. Continue the use of the green soap treatment. This rarely if ever fails to remove blackheads. I cannot give you the name of a special brand of green soap, but you can buy it at any drug store. Do not get the tincture of green soap, but the kind that comes in a yellow paste form.

M. C. G. N.: Epsom salts is good for reducing flesh. You may add some of it to the bath water if you wish. However, I think a paste made of soap and salts is much better. I shall gladly send you this formula if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

GLADYS: I am sorry, but I cannot give you a formula for rouge. There are several good ones on the market and I would advise you to buy one.

F. S.: I am glad to know you have broken yourself of the dreadful habit of biting the nails. Nothing spoils the appearance of the nails more quickly than this. Take good care of them now and have them manicured by a professional.

MOTHER: The shampoo for blonde hair may be used for red hair to keep it light. I shall gladly send it to you if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope. Massage with a good skin food or cocoa butter wil develop the arms and bust. To massage the arms begin either at the wrists or shoulders and massage with a wringing, twisting motion. Do not do this too hard. I shall also send you instructions for using the cocoa butter for developing the bust.

MRS. L. B.: I shall be glad to answer any questions and help you all I can if you will write and tell me what you wish to know. If you wish a personal reply send me a stamped addressed envelope. These letters are answered promptly, but if you wish a reply through the column it will take about a week on account of the number of letters which must be published. Address me in care of this paper.

How to Earn Money at Home

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

DO you feel middle aged? Have you reached the point in your life where everything seems past, all of the joy and pretty things, and the fun? Do you have to rejoice in the happiness of your friends without ever having anything to let them rejoice over with you?

The other day I met an old neighbor of mine. She is a grandmother like me. She has everything to make her happy in the health and prosperity of her children, but she isn't happy. She stopped in with me to have some tea and to tell me how unhappy she was. "I can't help telling some one," she said, "and you were always so helpful I'm sure you'll be able to find some way out of the difficulty for me."

Then she told me the story of the lives of many other women as well as herself. Her daughter really can't afford to have her live with them and she won't accept board from her mother, so that out of self-respect the mother has to live with strangers. Her husband is dead. She has enough money to take care of herself, but not enough to spend in travel if she wants to leave anything for the little grandson's education. The only pleasure she has in life is spending the day with her daughter, and even then she isn't allowed to do as she likes, for she would love to spend all of her extra money on the baby and her daughter won't allow it. She envies women with something to do for themselves.

Many other things she told me, but the two things that were most important in her jeremiad were her daughter's refusal to accept money or gifts that she couldn't really afford to buy, and her loneliness.

I think she filled me with more pity than any one whom I have heard of or met for a long time. Perhaps it is because I can realize how unhappy I might be if I didn't have my home workers and my work. Perhaps it is because I see in her the tragedy of purposelessness. But I couldn't allow myself to waste time in pity when there were remedies for her unhappiness. I said nothing to her about her daughter's concern for her financial affairs—that was really something which had to be settled between them—but the real cause of her unhappiness I did have a remedy for.

"Why don't you find something to do?" I said. I shocked her. I intended to shock her—into action if possible. After I had explained to her that there were thousands of women as old as she, and many of them years older, who were just as happy as they had ever been because they had a purpose in life, she consented to try my remedy for unhappiness.

I think the evidence of my happiness and content was a stronger argument than the example of thousands of other women, because she could not seem to recover from the surprise of finding me practically unchanged after many years. I have kept young because I have been happy and busy. You'll be surprised how quickly you will stop feeling middle aged when you begin to have work to do. There will be a future for you—the past won't hold all of your joy. There will be fun and pretty things, and, most of all, you will be so happy you won't have time to worry about anything. Besides, if you long to lay gifts at the feet of your small grandson you'll be able to afford as many as you want—you can buy them with your own money.

FALLING CORNICE IN LOOP PERILS LIVES OF PASSERSBY.

Chunk Becomes Detached from Roof of Hartford Building—Fragments Slightly Injure Many on Sidewalk.

A small chunk of the cornice on the roof of the Hartford building, Madison and Dearborn streets, detached itself yesterday about 6 o'clock while the intersection was filled with people.

It fell and struck the ledge surrounding the fifth floor. There it broke into fragments and knocked a smaller chunk out of the ledge. Pedestrians were pelted with a shower of the débris and many were hurt, though none seriously.

One piece broke a window in a Madison street car and started a mild panic. Another particle knocked off a man's hat. The crowd around the building became so dense within a few moments that the policemen could not learn who had been hit.

JANITOR RETURNS LOST PURSE.

Employe of Criminal Court Building Proves Another Honest Man When Finds Savings of Couple.

Another honest man was discovered yesterday in the person of Lorenz Kohouse, 1020 Vine street, janitor in the Criminal Court building. Mrs. Tony Montore, 1529 South Wabash avenue, dropped a pocketbook containing $10.50, all the money which she and her husband possessed, on the Fifth floor of the building. Kohouse found the purse and it was returned to Mrs. Montore.

MYSTERY GIRL HOPES TO DIE.

Miss May Tournois Patient in West Side Hospital After Swallowing Poison Tablets.

"I hope to God I cannot live," is all that Miss May Tournois will say. She is a patient at the West Side hospital. Monday night, according to a mysterious woman who accompanied her to the hospital, Miss Tournois swallowed poison tablets in the saloon of George H. Pietz at 1800 Ogden avenue.

Mrs. A. B. Page of 2204 Washington boulevard, at whose home the young woman roomed, said she had come there three weeks ago with references, but not much was known about her.

Dr. H. W. Maltby of the hospital staff believes Miss Tournois is the daughter of wealthy parents.

TWO HELD FOR GIRL'S DEATH.

Engraver and Physician Bound to the Grand Jury in Case of Alleged Illegal Operation.

Charles Miller of 3315 Pierce avenue, an engraver, and Dr. Arthur Schulz of 6301 Wentworth avenue were held to the grand jury yesterday by a coroner's jury, which investigated the death of 18 year old Florence S. Lindquist of 1841 North Mozart street, who died of the effects of an illegal operation performed in March. Miss Lindquist is an ante-mortem statement accused the physician of having performed an operation. She said Miller was the cause of her condition.

TWO DIE FROM CAR INJURIES.

Girl and Woman, Struck by Trolleys, Expire and City Water Inspector Taken to Hospital.

Sophia Metzler, 16 years old, who lived at 1460 Melrose street, died yesterday from injuries received when she was struck by a street car on Monday at Lincoln and Barry avenues. John O'Malley, an inspector in the city water department, was struck by a street car in front of 1351 West Van Buren street yesterday. He was taken to the county hospital. He lives at 4050 Wilcox avenue. Emma Mowatt of 1249 Blue Island avenue, who was struck by a street car on Saturday, died yesterday at the county hospital.

TAKES CHILD FROM MOTHER.

Judge Baldwin Rules Woman Cannot Retain Custody of Girl and Case Will Be Investigated.

Mrs. Irene Collinet and her 3 year old daughter Evelyn wept yesterday when Judge Baldwin decided the mother could not keep the child. A few minutes later the girl was laughing with her father, whom she didn't remember. The father is estranged from his wife. The judge said he would ask the Juvenile court to investigate the case and report by Friday morning, when he will decide what final disposition to make of the custody of the girl. Neighbors made insinuations against the woman.

SELECTS PLANS FOR MEMORIAL

Jury of Award on George Washington Building for National Capital Now to Seek Approval.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—With architects from all over the country competing, the plans submitted by Tracy and Swarthwout of New York for the proposed George Washington memorial in Washington have been selected as "the most satisfactory."

In announcing this today, the jury of award of the George Washington Memorial association declared the selected drawings would be submitted to the National Fine Arts commission for approval.

The memorial was authorized by congress and is to be located in the Mall.

LEPER SECRETLY SENT ABROAD

Carl Wolgren Placed in Special Car by Immigration Officers in Starting Him to Sweden.

Carl Wolgren, a patient in the county hospital, suffering from leprosy, was removed secretly from that institution Sunday night and now is on his way to Sweden, his native land, it was learned yesterday. A special car was employed for him by immigration officers, and he is in charge of two attendants. Secrecy was necessary because of the dread occasioned by the disease. Wolgren was taken to the hospital on Feb. 16, was put in ward 13 when his affliction was learned, and was watched closely to prevent any attempt at escape.

How to choose lace curtains

THE durability of a curtain can never be judged by appearance alone.

The washing qualities depend upon the strength of a tiny, hidden bobbin thread which ties together the threads of the design.

In every Quaker Lace Curtain, the bobbin thread is the strongest that has ever been used in a lace curtain. That is why the beautiful Quaker Lace Curtains have a durability all their own.

You cannot make a better choice than from the wide range of beautiful Quaker designs.

It will be to your advantage to visit the curtain departments of merchants who feature Quaker Lace Curtains.

PURPLE CAPTAIN DRAWS DISMISSAL

FAILS TO CLEAR CHARGE.

Catcher Does Not Defend Himself and Is Let Out by Unanimous Vote of Faculty.

BY JACK PROCTOR.

Northwestern university lost its baseball captain yesterday when Catcher MacEmerson McCosh was dismissed from school because, it was alleged, he had guilty knowledge that two freshman students of the dental school had played on the varsity team. The action followed a unanimous vote of the faculty late in the afternoon.

McCosh received notification from the committee on general reference of the College of Liberal Arts to appear at its meeting and give an explanation. When the baseball captain failed to appear the committee in turn notified the faculty, which was in session in University hall, and after a short discussion a sealed ballot was taken. In this it was found that every vote favored his dismissal.

Freshmen Pose as Juniors.

The first news of the baseball scandal came a week ago, when it was learned two freshmen were parading as two juniors. They were Roy M. Kisner, who was playing under the name of Leo Rank, pitcher, and Abraham G. Schmidt, who assumed the name of Eugene Schmitt. Rank had pitched a one hit game against Minnesota and had given Northwestern its only conference victory in three games. All four students were dismissed.

Later it developed that others on the team and those associated with baseball affairs at the university had knowledge of the infraction of the eligibility rules. The investigation which was started last Friday, resulting in the cancellation of the Purdue and Indiana games, closed yesterday. Coach Denis C. Grady was dismissed and Fred Murphy, who was engaged to tutor the football men, was placed in charge of the baseball squad.

McCosh a Fine Athlete.

McCosh, whose home is in Mount Morris, Ill., was a senior student in the college of liberal arts. He was taking a pre-medic course at the university. He made a record as an athlete, being a member of the baseball and football teams. He was playing his last year of baseball and had completed two years' service as end on the football team. Twice he was rewarded for his athletic ability with "N's."

Because of the upheaval Coach Murphy was forced to make some sudden switches at the eleventh hour yesterday in order to put a team in the field against Wisconsin at Madison on Friday and against Minnesota at Minneapolis on Saturday.

"I guess I can find material for a catcher and several of the other positions," said Murphy when asked what changes he would make.

"I have nothing to say," came from Director Lewis Omer, athletic director. "It would be out of place for me to make a statement at this time."

"I have not been officially notified," said McCosh. "I have made no plans for the future and will not until I have been officially notified by the faculty."

Action against other students believed to be implicated in the mess may be taken by the faculty committee of the medical school in Chicago.

Student leaders in the dental school believe the faculty acted too hastily in the matter. They are agreed on the fact that, even if the two freshmen were guilty, others should not be made to suffer for their actions.

THE PEST.

DES JARDIEN TO PITCH TODAY.

Star Athlete to Be on Slab for Maroons This Afternoon When They Play Ohio State.

"Shorty" Des Jardien, all around star of the University of Chicago athletic teams, is slated to pitch for the Maroons against Ohio State this afternoon at Stagg field. Des Jardien twirled a no hit, no run game against Iowa last week. Ohio State has defeated Purdue, one of the most promising conference teams, and is expected to give the Midway nine a hard battle.

ILLINOIS BLANKS PURDUE, 7-0.

Halas of Chicago Holds Boilermakers Hitless Until Ninth—Also Receives Good Support.

Urbana, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—With Huff's Illini fielding faultlessly, batting hard, and running the bases like deer, Purdue was shut out, 7 to 0, today. With the infield performing like a well oiled machine, Halas was invincible, and not until the ninth inning were the Boilermakers able to connect safely. Weaver's single robbed the young Chicagoan of a no hit game that seemed probable. Jack Bradley's home run clout was the batting feature. Score:

HUBBELL TAKES NET HONORS.

Morgan Park Player Defeats Kittleman of Morton in Final for Western "Prep" Title.

Arthur P. Hubbell of Morgan Park Military academy won the Western Interscholastic Tennis association championship yesterday morning, defeating George Kittleman of Morton in four sets on the Morgan Park courts. Kittleman won the opening set, which went to 8—7, but dropped the following three, 6—3, 6—4, 6—3. Hubbell's back line play was the brilliant feature. Hubbell won the title by playing through a field of sixty preparatory school experts, representing twenty-five states.

JAHNKE WHIPS NINE MEN.

Carl Schurz Swamps McKinley by Aid of Heavy Stick Work.

BY PREP.

Crane opened the season in the central section of the Chicago High School Baseball league by blanking Marshall, 11 to 0, at Independence and Harvard avenues yesterday. Jahnke's pitching was the feature. He permitted only one hit and fanned nine batsmen. Jacobson and Hall were the offensive stars, each poling three bingles. Two of Jacobson's clouts went for extra sacks. Score:

In the Wake of the News.

BY R. W. LARDNER.

TWO FAILURES.

"I've got to let you out, old pal,
You'll never do for us," said Cal.

The athlete who was thus addressed
Looked greatly peeved and much distressed.

"O, tell me what I've done," said he,
"That you should tie a can to me."

And Cal replied: "I guess you know
Why I am forced to let you go.

"You're not our kind, because, my son,
You made a hit that scored a run."

On the other hand—

"Old pal, I've got to let you go;
You'll never do for us," said Joe.

The athlete whom he spoke to thus Appeared a most crestfallen cuss.

"O, tell me what I've done," said he,
"That you should tie a can to me."

And Joe replied: "I'm sorry, sport,
But you don't seem to be our sort.

"You've lost your batting eye, poor geek;
You hit but three home runs last week."

Mr. Weigle, the dandy little scooper, was interviewed yesterday.

"Wasn't you scared," he was ast, "when them marines and Mexicans was shootin' at each other and you was runnin' up and down the firin' line, lookin' for a chance to snap 'em?"

"Not me," said Mr. Weigle. "It wasn't worse than takin' baseball pictures. It just reminded me o' tryin' to cover my assignments on the west or south side while the opposin' team's pitchers was warmin' up. The U. S. marines, like the Sox or Cubs, quit firin' when I was in the way. The Mex, like the visitin' batteries, kept on shootin', but their aim wasn't good. I've been in more danger on the ball field than I was down there." He scratched his sun-burned face. "I'd have been scared, though," he continued, "if the marines had had Reulbach wanmin' up."

JUSTICE.

There was a ball player named Frits who belonged to the Athletics. He jumped to the Federal league. The Athletics then produced evidence to show that, before his leap, he had been sold to the Troy club of the New York State league. He didn't report to Troy, but a written agreement had been signed by the Philadelphia and Troy owners whereby he was to become Troy property for a sale price of $500.

Well, as said before, he didn't go to Troy. He jumped to the Feds. The case came up before the commission and that body ordered Troy to pay the purchase price, $500, to the Athletics, for a player it never got. The commission's decision undoubtedly was in line with the letter of the law. But how about the spirit? Which club was better able to stand the loss of player and money, Troy, which makes both ends meet by digging down in its pocket, or Philadelphia, which hasn't had a world's series since last fall and only three of them in the last four years?

Keene Gardiner has gone to Pittsburgh. We know that because he left on his desk the following memorandum: "Blanks, Paper, Pencils." We hope the memorandum did its duty and that he also took at least one change of collars.

We see by the papers that the St. Louis Feds played a benefit game for Arnold Hauser. Why shouldn't the Dayton Central leaguers or the Augusta club of the South Atlantic league pull off that oft-postponed battle for the benefit of Mrs. Jimmy Doyle? The Cub management seems to have forgotten it.

THIS ENDS THE ARGUMENT.

Wake: I don't know who this here C. V. M. guy is—to use your refined Riverside language—but speaking personally, and not for Charles Albert Comiskey, I should predict that the Sox would doubtless waive the irregularity in the parentage of the Chifeds and trim 'em after finishing the cursory Cubs. It will be discouraging, though, for those Chifed home run "hitters" to whang a "balloon" and find it an out instead of a four bagger.

F. D. V.

We could suggest some comeback for C. V. M., but we don't see the use of further words. If C. V. M. and F. D. V. want to fight a duel we'll do our best to arrange it. As for the Riverside language, we haven't learned it, but hope to. It must at least have the bug tongue beat (to use a south or north side expression).

TROT BOARD EXPELS LE MAR; ELECTRO HAL ALSO BARRED.

Indiana Man Found Guilty by Board of Appeals for Racing Horse Under Assumed Name.

J. C. Le Mar of Moreland, Ind., yesterday was found guilty by the board of appeals of the American Trotting association of racing a horse under an assumed name and expelled from the organization. The horse, "Electro Hal," will not be permitted to enter meets under the sanction of the association. It was charged that "Electro Hal" was entered in Missouri races in 1913 under the name of "Roy L."

Another important case before the board was that of Dr. J. E. Bailey of Sulphur, Okla., and E. F. Johnson of Mt. Sterling, O., charged with substituting a horse to win an important race. Dr. Bailey is said to have entered "Ula Russell" in the 2 year old futurity race of the Kansas-Oklahoma circuit. It was alleged that "Belle McGuire," owned by Mr. Johnson, was substituted for "Ula Russell" and won the race. Decision on this case was put over to the December meeting. The driver of the winner was suspended until final action is taken.

The board made a ruling on rule 51, one of the most discussed sections of the harness man's code. This rule would give a horse which went through 1910 without winning a race or lowering its record of the previous year, an added second in 1911 and a second each in 1912 and 1913 under the same conditions until three seconds are allowed. Many horsemen contended that when a horse had been allowed three seconds and then won a race it should lose its handicap. The board held that the mere fact that a horse won a race should not deprive it of its allowance.

Officers were reelected at annual meeting of the directors, which followed the session of the board.

BEACHEY TO FLY IN ANTIPODES

American Aviator, Who Will Perform Here, Engaged for Flights by "Snowy" Baker.

Announcement was made last night by "Snowy" Baker, the Australian sporting promoter, that he had signed Lincoln Beachey, the aviator, for a tour of Australia. Beachey will do his fancy flying stunts, including looping-the-loop and other daredevil tricks, and will appear in Melbourne, Sydney, Adelaide, Brisbane, Victoria, and Auckland.

Beachey also will give lectures on aviation as applied to warfare, appearing before the army and navy officers there, who have expressed a desire to confer with Beachey concerning this angle of the game.

Baker, who arrived in the city yesterday, says that Lincoln Beachey is the most scientific flyer in the game and that he will attract larger crowds in Australia than have ever attended an aviation meet in this or any other country.

Beachey will leave San Francisco for Australia on Nov. 15.

The first announcement of prize winners in the Illinois Bowling association tournament was issued last night when the officials gave out the list of out of town men who gathered in special prizes in the big meet now drawing to a close at the Randolph alleys. Wheaton landed first team prize with 2,803 for the outsiders, taking down $50. Aurora installed the Ten Pins in second place and had four clubs out of the eight that placed in the money. The five man event will be completed tonight.

H. Taylor, one of South Chicago's stars, landed the best mark of the day with a 647 for sixth place. Harry Steers with 620, the veteran Gus Sievers with 615, and C. Phillips with 611 were other high scorers.

Steers and Thoma Roll 1,167.

Harry Steers and Fred Thoma ran high in the doubles with 1,167, Steers giving his Desplaines partner a ride with 610. Joe Rivest and Ed Clasen drew 1,164 and Will Eggers and Al Leverens got 1,128 for the other big marks. Steers backed up his work in the minor events by piling up 1,821 in the all events that installed him in sixth place, while Charley Collier nosed into tenth with 1,812.

FIGHT ON MAY 25 OR

Williams Passes Through Chicago on Way to Coast to Meet Coulon for Title.

BY RAY C. PEARSON.

As was suspected by those in close touch with things pugilistic, Willie Ritchie is going to allow that large chunk of coin offered him by Promoter Tommy Andrews of Milwaukee to fight Charley White to get away from him. The lightweight champion yesterday telegraphed the promoter he would go through with the bout, at the same time accepting the offer of a guarantee of $15,000 with a privilege of 45 per cent of the gross receipts. It was the privilege proposition that caused the hitch, and as Ritchie has agreed to take 5 per cent more than originally offered, everything looks rosy for the event.

The bout will not be staged on May 30, as Andrews had planned. The new date will be either May 25 or 29.

White or Club Backs Up.

Nate Lewis, who looks after the managerial end of White's affairs, said yesterday that the club was responsible for the concession to Ritchie won. There are those, however, who believe that White had to take a bit less than the 22½ per cent originally offered in order to get the crack at the champion.

According to information from the Ritchie will start immediately for Chicago to do his training for the mill. The fact that he will be asked to do, however, to sign articles and name his choice of referee. There isn't likely to be any trouble over the weight. White wants the chance to make 134 pounds, 6 o'clock, but if he insists on 135 pounds, White will allow the notch.

Racine, Wis., which means John Wagner is going to stage another show tonight, is the windup of which will appear Joe Mandot, southern champion, and Johnny Griffin, the Jabber of Akron, O. Both boys are classy ones and the bout promises to be a humdinger. The usual "prelims" will be staged and a Chicago delegation will make the trip aboard a special train.

Williams Passes Through City.

"Kid" Williams, the Baltimore bantamweight who expects to take the title away from Johnny Coulon at Los Angeles on June 8, passed through the city yesterday on his way to the coast. Williams was accompanied by his wife and Sammy Harris, and it would be hard to judge that the returns weren't already in with the titleholder, to hear the pair talk. The latter went to a Baltimore printer before starting west and had some cards printed which announced "Kid" Williams, bantamweight champion.

Read why Chalmers "Porosknit" is so comfortable—so much for the money. Read of the Ideal behind "Porosknit's" manufacture and guarantee. Then judge if imitations will content you.

CHALMERS "Porosknit" has many imitations. But who can duplicate "Porosknit" comfort, durability, quality of yarn, elasticity, lightness, coolness?

Underwear can be made to look something like Chalmers "Porosknit." But the "look" is all. None may match the genuine in its real features.

The "Hidden" Quality

We have been told that the yarn in "Porosknit" is better than it need be. That we could use less costly combed yarn. That we could pocket thousands of extra dollars each year.

True. We might.

The same careful workmanship could be employed in finishing such less-good yarn—and Chalmers "Porosknit" would still look about the same.

Yet—the wear—would suffer.

Something would be lost in softness and elasticity.

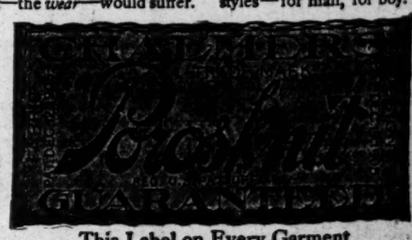

So—we take no chances with Chalmers "Porosknit" quality.

The yarn we use is the finest of long-fibre, combed.

Examine any Chalmers "Porosknit" Union Suit. Turn it inside out. Notice how strongly the seams are reinforced. Observe the triangular piece in the back. See how the stretch is opposite to the rest. This means full elasticity to the seat. It gives—at every turn or bend.

There can be no "cutting in the crotch." Our Closed Crotch is comfortable. It fits. It stays put.

"Porosknit" is made in all styles—for man, for boy.

BUFFALO DEFEATS TINKER'S CHIFEDS IN 12 INNINGS, 5-2

Two Errors, Walk and Long Two Bagger Give Visitors Three Runs in Final.

EACH SCORES ONCE IN TENTH

Flack Almost Steals Home When Beck Clouts the Ball to Shortstop for Third Out.

LANGE STARTS; WATSON FINISHES

BY SAM WELLER.

In one of the toughest combats of the season the Buffalo Feds raked a game out of the fog of the north side yesterday, beating Joe Tinker's aspiring boys, 5 to 2, in twelve innings of desperate baseball.

Vapor floated about the park with awful chill and dampness and kept the fans out in it for more than an hour after they should have been home eating meat and potatoes. It was worse than a fog. It was a regular Scotch mist. Nevertheless the combat was so intense that one couldn't leave until it was all over, and the end came in a horrible twelfth round blowup which let three visitors cross the plate before one was out.

It was the kind of contest from start to finish where the little inside things of baseball count and the north siders lost simply because they weren't up to snuff on the little inside things. It is true they might have won in nine rounds if it hadn't been for a rank muff of a thrown ball, but such things are liable to occur among the best of players, so the blame isn't placed there.

Lose Chance in Tenth Round.

Excusing the muff, which allowed the enemy to tie the score in the eighth, the Chifeds should have won in the tenth, and the only reason they didn't was because one of their members likes to clout the ball. The score was tied in the last of the tenth by a bully rally and Little Max Flack was on third base. Just because Max isn't known much outside of Peoria, Decatur, Springfield, and a few of those downstate towns is no reason why he doesn't know the old game.

He was using his head while standing on third. All he had to do was to get to that home plate and the game would have been over, with Chicago the victor. He saw the pitcher taking a big windup and when two men were out he figured it would be quite the proper thing to steal home with the winning run. Fred Beck, the slugging first baseman, was at bat and hits left handed. One strike had been called and two balls when Max elected to turn his spectacular feat.

Beck Spoils Flack's Steal.

He sort o' sneaked a lead of one-third of the distance before anyone realized he was going, then he lit out for the plate at top speed. The opposing pitcher was involved in a ponderous windup and had to go through with it, and when he cut loose with the ball, Little Max was just about ready to hit the dirt and end the game. But Fred Beck saw the ball coming right squarely over the plate and it was a beaut. Only one strike had been called on him, so there was no chance for him to be called out on strikes, but for some reason or other, probably because it was such a swell one to swing at, he couldn't refrain from swinging, and the result was a terrific line drive right into the shortstop's hands.

That made three out, and Little Max Flack had done all his thinking and clever footwork down the third base line for nothing. Not only that, but the fans had to sit in the fog and chill for twenty minutes more, until the big blowoff came which permitted Buffalo to romp away with the victory. It's possible, of course, that Flack would have lost the decision at the plate, but to every one who watched his daring attempt to steal the winning run it looked as if there was hardly a chance in the world for the catcher to put the ball on him in time to get him out. Flack would have been some hero if he had stolen home with the winning run, so he deserves considerable praise for his worthy attempt.

Lange Hurls Clever Ball.

Irvin Lange, a demure semi-pro, who has pitched on the lots of Chicago since a mere lad, was on the slab, and gave a deserving performance. He went through ten innings in big league fashion, and should have won in nine rounds, 1 to 0, if his mates had given him perfect support. Lange was on the training trip and hurled in impressive style several times, but always seemed to lack control. Yesterday he could put the ball over the corners of the plate and still put the hook on it with his curve or make it hop with his fast one, and it was a shame he didn't win.

Mr. Lange didn't lose, however. He was out of the game and in the shower bath when the crash came, because he had given way to a pinch hitter in the last of the tenth, and that pinch hitter got around with the tying run. Then Old Doc Watson, with his southpaw "stuff," went in to finish the game, and labored beautifully in the eleventh, only to see the game go to smash in the twelfth, partly through his ineffectiveness and partly through bum support.

Krapp Once with Cleveland.

Eugene Krapp, a small man, but alert both physically and mentally, was on the slab for the enemy. If he were six inches higher he might be a $25,000 beauty, for he knows an awful lot about pitching. He proved that three years ago, while with Cleveland, but his stature caused his return to the minors, and last year he was compelled to serve the public in Portland.

Because of the Scotch mist, there wasn't much of a crowd present. It was estimated there were at least 1,500 there, besides a couple of National league umpires, one Cub outfielder, and three west side scribes.

Chicago put a run over the pan in the fifth, and that should have been the only run scored. Wilson counted when he led off with a single, took third on Lange's single, and scored on Krapp's wild pitch. Lange evaded danger until the eighth, when Hanford opened with a single. Agler bunted and Lange tried for Hanford at second. A close decision went against Chicago and both were safe. Louden bunted and Lange shot to third in time for a forceout, but Zeider muffed the ball, letting it roll far enough away for Hanford to score the tying run. Bonnin and Downey flied out, then Agler tried to steal home, but was nailed.

Chifeds Tie Score in Tenth.

Buffalo went into the lead in the tenth, when, with one out, Hanford walked and stole second as Agler fanned. Louden singled to center, bringing the man home. In the last half the Chifeds tied the score, and should have won. With one out, Stanley, batting for Lange, walked. Flack singled. Both moved up on a passed ball, and when Zeider bounced to Downey Stanley scored, getting the verdict in a close decision. This put Flack on third, and, with the call two and one on Beck, what happened is related above.

The twelfth round blowoff was a heartbreaker. Allen led off with a roller to Tinker, who booted. Krapp walked. Then Hanford picked one out of the groove and lined it against the scoreboard for two bases, sending Allen and Krapp home. The ball was pegged home too late to get any one, so Wilson shot it to second, as Hanford had overrun the bag. His peg went to center field, and Hanford dashed home. Watson settled down to get out the side with no more trouble, and the Chifeds in their final assault went out in order.

Sam Wellerisms.

The Chifeds haven't postponed a game yet this year, but have played in rain, frost, and fog.

Two patrons with English manners and topcoats wore straw hats at the game, the first of the season.

Umps Eason and Quigley of the National league sat in the grandstand and watch the outlaw umps, Anderson and Cross.

It was reported that Dan Cahill, the loyal Cub rooter, couldn't resist longer than yesterday, and attended the north side game and cheered from the bleacher.

The only Cub player seen at the north side game was Frank Schulte, who arrived late and sat in a box with President Weeghman and his partner, William Walker. Frank said Hank O'Day made them stay at the west side and practice until after 3 o'clock, or a lot more of the boys would have been over.

A telegram from Mordecai Brown yesterday, in reply to a request from Secretary Williams, said the three fingered hurler would be on the slab in the game here on Sunday between the north siders and St. Louis. There are to be parties in motor cars, parties in tallyhos, and parties on foot, to give the former Cub star a great reception.

Three members of Tinker's team were turned loose yesterday. Leo Kavanaugh, the Chicago lad who performed at short during Tinker's absence, was turned over to Oshkosh, regardless of the fact that Oshkosh belongs to organized ball. Catcher Jim McDonough and First Baseman John Kading were unconditionally released. Both were members of the local Feds last season.

PITCHER JOHNSON KEPT ON BENCH BY ORDER OF COURT.

Hearing of Motion to Dissolve Injunction Against Indian Twirler Is Continued Until May 14.

George H. Johnson, the Indian pitcher, who broke his contract with the Cincinnati club and signed with the Kansas City team of the Federal league, will continue to warm the bench until May 14. Hearing of the motion to dissolve the temporary injunction obtained by the Cincinnati club was set for yesterday, but was continued by Judge Foell of the Superior court until Thursday of next week. The injunction restrains Johnson from taking part in games with the Kansas City club or with any other baseball organization.

GET APPEAL IN KILLIFER CASE.

Federal League Suit Against Catcher Will Be Given Hearing by Judge Sessions.

Cincinnati, O., May 5.—Judge Sessions of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals announced here today that he had granted an appeal in the Federal Baseball league's case relative to Player Killifer, which was decided against it at Grand Rapids several weeks ago. It was also announced that the hearing would probably take place in this city some time in the fall.

In deciding the case Judge Sessions, in a lengthy opinion, denied the application of the Chicago Federal league club for an injunction on the grounds that the Chicago club did not come into court "with clean hands." The reserve clause, however, was held not valid, but Killifer was allowed to return to the Philadelphia Nationals, after being severely scored by Judge Sessions.

Judge Sessions said that the general basis for the appeal was the claim that the lower court had erred in denying an injunction.

PACKERS GRAB CONTEST, 3 TO 2

Four Hits in Third Inning Beat Pittsburgh Team—Lennox Poles Triple and Home Run.

Kansas City, Mo., May 5.—[Special.]—Nick Cullop, who jumped from the Cleveland Naps, let the Pittsburgh Rebels down with four hits and the Kansas City Federals won their second straight game, 3 to 2. Not a hit was made off Cullop until the sixth, when Holly singled and scored on Lennox's triple. In the ninth Lennox hit one over the left field fence for a home run. The Packers scored three times in the fourth inning when Gilmore and Kenworthy singled and scored on Stovall's double. An infield hit by Tappan scored Stovall with what proved to be the winning run. A double play killed a Pittsburgh rally in the ninth. Score:

OAK PARK DEFEATS EVANSTON.

Western Suburbanites Profit by Errors and Vanquish North Shore Boys by Ten to Three.

Oak Park annexed another victory in the Suburban High School Baseball league, trouncing Evanston High, 10 to 3, at Mason park, Evanston, yesterday. The western suburbanites took the lead in the opener when it scored four runs. Although the north shore hurlers allowed nine hits, bases on balls mixed with errors and clouts gave Oak Park most of its runs. Score:

ALCOCK STAR OF GAME.

Russell Holds Browns to Five Bingles, but Error by Collins Averts Shutout.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

St. Louis, Mo., May 5.—[Special.]—In spite of the loss of a veteran star during the newly inaugurated morning road work, the White Sox wound up their tough trip today with an 8 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Browns, who formerly possessed their billy goats.

Cap Lord was the member of the outfit who was incapacitated for the final combat. He received a bump on the hand during the forenoon practice which caused his left mitt to swell up so he could not get a glove on it at game time. This gave Scotty Alcock a chance to break in at third base, where he acquitted himself with considerable honors. Alcock did something every time he came to bat except the last time, when it didn't matter, and defensively he was there on every chance except the first one he had, which he booted, fortunately without ulterior results of consequence.

Sox Clout Four Pitchers.

The White Sox won their game by smacking the offerings of four Brown pitchers for thirteen safe drives, while Tex Russell held the enemy down to a puny five, which would not have scored anything but for a muff by Collins.

Manager Rickey held the Sox in such contempt as batsmen that he started against them none other than Wylie Taylor, one of their former pals, who had a trial with Chicago two seasons ago and was dismissed. The Sox resented this so strenuously that they drove Wylie to the woods before the second inning was over. Mitchell, who tried to stop them, was only partly warmed up and had enough when he had finished the fourth round. Two probationers finished the scrap with fair success.

For quite a spell it looked as if the weather man was going to rob the Sox of the fruits of their toil, so strenuously earned by the sweat of their brows at morning practice. What started out to be a swell day finished with a bunch of typical St. Louis thunder storms. The more dilatory of the players got a wetting before reaching their hotel.

Players Loaf in Early Rounds.

The players loafed and stalled along through the early rounds, using up an hour to finish three innings, by which time the Sox had five runs and the Browns nothing at all. A bank of black clouds behind the stands was hidden from Manager Callahan's view.

By the fourth inning the brewing storm became so apparent that Cal started hustling things. The Browns started delaying. Changes of pitchers and players were resorted to with good results, and the orders to the White Sox to get out as fast as possible were not effective. It felt so good to get some base hits that they scored two more runs in the fourth.

In the first half of the fifth, by running themselves out on the bases, the Sox managed to get through quickly. Two Browns went out in their fifth, then big drops of rain, which usually presage a deluge in this town, began to fall. Shotten raised a tall fly to center for what looked like the third out. Collins caught a rain drop in the eye and missed the ball, which let a run score.

The rain drops pelted the players pretty hard, and it looked all over for the Sox victory, but Austin was compelled to hit, and a bounder to Weaver completed the essential five innings. Whereupon the rain ceased, the flood abated, and they finishd nine innings.

Chase Poles Four Bingles.

Chase and Demmitt were the leading sluggers. Between them they made more than half the Sox swats. Chase led with four in five times up while Demmitt was content with three singles in five opportunities. Collins and Blackburne rapped out two apiece, and Alcock made one double. The pinch third baseman scored a run with a sacrifice fly and his two bagger put over another tally.

The Browns had tough luck with their catchers. Rumler, who started, could not throw out anybody stealing. Agnew then tried to leave the hospital and resume backstopping, but twice in succession he let throws to the plate get away from him with costly results, so gave way to Jenkins, who proved the hitter of the Brown squad.

The Sox got the jump at the start. Demmitt opened on Taylor with a single, but Alcock's bunt forced him at second. Alcock proceeded to steal second. Chase skied, but Collins drove in the run with a single.

In the second inning with one gone Blackburne hit a low liner to right for a base and stole second. Mayer walked and Russell singled, filling the bases. Here Mitchell was called to the rescue and Agnew went behind the bat.

Hits Blackburne in Back.

On the first ball pitched Agnew tried to catch Blackburne off third and hit him in the back, letting Lena score. Demmitt sent a single through Leary's hands, scoring Mayer. Alcock hit a fly to center far enough to let Russell home from third, and when the ball got away from Agnew, Demmitt went to third, scoring on Chase's first single. Collins hit a liner to Wares.

Mitchell got by in the third round, but in the fourth, after two were out, Demmitt's single, Alcock's double, and another missed throw to the plate let in two runs. The eighth Sox tally arrived in the ninth as the result of Chase's fourth safety, a double by Collins, and Weaver's out at first.

The Browns scored their lone tally in the rainy fifth. Jenkins singled with one gone and was forced at second by Crossin, batting for Manning. Collins muffed a fly from Shotten, letting Crossin count.

Sox Sydelights.

St. Louis, Mo., May 5.—[Special.]—Home again tomorrow.

Lord's injury will not prove serious enough to keep him out of the battle for long, as it is his left hand, instead of the thrower that is swollen.

The Callahans have won only three out of twelve games on this trip, but they have not left any postponements to be doubled up later, and that will help some.

The White Sox left tonight for Chicago for a four game series with the league leaders from Detroit, beginning tomorrow, and winding up on Sunday, with an open date on Friday.

Mayer went behind the bat to give Ray Schalk a much needed rest and handled Russell's delivery like a veteran. One base was stolen off him by Shotten in the first inning.

Shotten pulled a three bagger into right in the third round, with only one out. Austin hit to Alcock, who cut off the runner at the plate, then Pratt struck out for the second time.

Manager Knabe of the Baltimore Feds was a visitor at Sox headquarters late last night and had a long visit with Manager Callahan, but no one was missing from the Sox roster today.

A heavy thunderstorm broke over the city before all the players got back to the hotel after the scrap. It would have raised havoc if it had occurred before the fifth inning could be finished.

Leary might have got Demmitt out at first in the second inning, after the batsman's rap had handcuffed him. Pratt recovered the ball in time to have pegged to first ahead of Demmitt, but Leary did not cover.

Chase made a spectacular play on Leary in the second inning. Hal stabbed a hot roller with one hand, saw Russell had not expected it, so was not covering first base, then made a diving slide for the bag himself and reached it with his bare hand just in time to make the out.

GLEASON AFTER A BALL PLAYER

Sox Coach Is Absent from Camp, but Outcome of His Mission Is Kept Secret.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

St. Louis, Mo., May 5.—[Special.]—Coach Gleason was missing from the Sox camp this morning and inquiry developed the fact he was on a mission to buy a ball player. Where Gleason went or what player he is after Manager Callahan would not confess, but the Kid did not go far, for he was around the hotel until after 9 o'clock last night and called up Manager Callahan on the long distance telephone before noon today. Nothing definite then had come of Gleason's mission and the only information Callahan would allow to be pried out of him was that the player sought was not a Federal leaguer. Callahan stayed away from morning practice so as to keep in touch with Gleason in case of a later call, but none came.

CLEVELAND STOPS TIGERS, 4-2; LAJOIE'S SWATTING FEATURE.

Two Plays by Turner in Ninth Avert Trouble When Leaders Threaten—Hagerman Scatters the Hits.

Cleveland, O., May 5.—The fielding of Turner and Cobb, the pitching of Hagerman, and the hitting of Lajoie were the features of today's game, which Cleveland won from Detroit, 4 to 2.

In the sixth inning Cobb ran in back of second base and made a wonderful diving catch of Graney's pop fly. In the ninth inning, with Detroit threatening a rally, Turner started a double play on Moriarty's hard grounder, and a moment later robbed Stanage of a hit by fast work. Covaleskie pitched splendidly after the first inning. Score:

CUBS LEAVE FOR LAIR OF PIRATES

Gen. Hank O'Day Takes Whole Army for Four Battles at Pittsburgh.

LEADERS OUT FOR FLAG.

Invaders Must Brace to Cope with Clarke's Crew and Keep Out of Last Place.

BY KEENE GARDINER.

Gen. O'Day marshaled every member of his team into line last night and left for Pittsburgh, where the weary Cubs are slated to engage the leading Pirates in four combats, starting today. Saturday night both teams will jump back to Chicago for a single game here on Sunday. Then the Cubs hop to St. Louis for two clashes on Monday and Tuesday.

After the St. Louis trip the Cubs are slated for nearly a month's stay at the west side park. Brooklyn will open the invasion of the eastern teams next Wednesday, and before the Cubs start east on June 3 every club in the league except Cincinnati will appear here.

Manager O'Day sent his charges through a stiff workout yesterday morning, then dismissed the athletes for the rest of the day. Several of the players seized the opportunity to visit the Federal park and watch Joe Tinker's Chifeds battle the Buffalo aggregation.

Stiff Task for Cubs.

It is in keeping with the way things have been breaking for O'Day this year that he should be forced to meet the Pirates in five games at this time. Clarke and his pennant mad underlings have lost only two of their fifteen league combats and have won seven straight games, three of them from the Cubs. Clarke has his men keyed to such a pitch that they go after every game as if it were a world series contest, while the repeated reverses suffered by the Cubs have taken most of the life out of the team.

Only a slight margin separates the Cubs from the Boston Braves and the cellar championship position in the race. Manager Hank is pursued by the fearful prospect of dropping to the bottom of the standing, and for that reason he took with him to Pittsburgh every man under his command. It would not surprise any one if Hank should make another shakeup in his team in the near future. Bill Sweeney has been showing so poorly both at bat and in the field that O'Day is seriously contemplating benching the former Boston slugger and inserting either Phelan or Corriden at the middle station.

Schulte Expected Back Soon.

Frank Schulte may be returned to the lineup soon, and Jimmy Johnston also is likely to break into the pastime at any moment. Unless the present outfield arrangement shows superior skill with the war club, both Schulte and Johnston will be stationed in the outer garden before many days have passed.

A temporary reorganization of the infield seems almost certain. As constituted at present, the Cub quartet is about the deadest that has graced a major league diamond in many moons. "Ginger" and "pep" are absent qualities with Saier, Sweeney, Keating, and Zim guarding the inner works. The injection of either Corriden or Phelan may help some, and when Sweeney starts to hit, as he is certain to do, he may be reinstated. At present Bill is in a horrible hitting slump and the lack of the old base swats is affecting his fielding considerably.

Jess Barnes, the husky twirler secured from Davenport last week, may get a chance to show his "stuff" in Pittsburgh. Nearly every member of the Cub slab corps is suffering from some ailment, and Gen. Hank is more than anxious to find a pitcher able to take a regular turn on the mound without conceding the victory to the opposition in advance. If Barnes gets away to even a fair start he will be given every opportunity to display his skill during the long home series.

JOHNSON BLANKS YANKS, 6 TO 0

Allows Visitors Only Four Hits and Refuses to Issue Pass—Losers Make Triple Play.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Johnson shut out New York, allowing only four hits. Not a Yankee reached first base until the seventh inning. The fielding of the visitors was ragged at the start, but they executed a triple play in the third inning, which cut off several runs. With the bases full, Morgan hit to Maisel, who threw to Sweeney, forcing Gandil at the plate. Sweeney then threw to Williams, putting out Morgan. Williams hurled the ball to Maisel, who tagged Ainsmith. Neither pitcher gave a base on balls. The game was played on a soggy field. Score:

That Lacy Transparency Which the Belle of Forty Years Ago Chose for Her Hat Is Chosen Again by La Belle Parisienne of Today.

QUAINT, old fashioned millinery laciness is with us once again—that delectable feminine laciness which makes a woman look charmingly young. Paris has declared in its favor. All the newest hats will soon be showing it. And of course we have it—sooner, we think, than you will find it elsewhere.

For our Opening of Midsummer Millinery, therefore, we feature a—wherein will be shown exquisitely tinted hats of lace, chiffon, tulle, silky maline and other delicate fabrics.

Wreaths of Lacquered Gardenias Basket Hats
Crin de Cheval Over Shadow Lace
Poke Bonnets Crowns of Tiny White Roses

Brides' and bridesmaids' hats are in a great majority—lovely things of creamy lace and tinted ostrich, or tailored hats in striking blacks and whites.

ILLINOIS AT WORK TO PROTECT FISH AND GAME BIRDS

State Commission Pushes Plan To Establish a Series of Reservations.

FEDERAL LAW IN FORCE

STRICT LAWS AGAINST POACHING

WHERE 'WE WILL' THERE'S A WAY
—Chicago's New Proverb.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

Down in the southern end of Cook county, midway between Harvey and Blue Island, there is a tract of 800 acres of land on which has been located a considerable flock of prairie chickens. Some of the land is wooded, much of it is grown up in brush and there is comparatively little under cultivation.

In addition to the prairie chicken—few of the present generation have ever felt the thrill of excitement as these splendid birds boom up from the stubble—there are several good sized coveys of quail on the same tract of land.

This is not, however, an invitation to ambitious hunters to take their breech-loaders and dogs and go down there after birds when the season opens next fall. On the other hand this tract of land is under the particular protection of the state fish and game conservation commission. It is, in fact, the first of a series of game reservations which the commission hopes to establish, one in each of the 102 counties in the state.

Signs have been posted all about the land, warning off trespassers and it is regularly patrolled by deputy game wardens who will see that the birds are not molested at any season in the year. The penalty for poaching on the reservation may be either a fine or imprisonment or both.

SIMILAR refuges for prairie chickens, quail, and other birds and animals have already been established in Kankakee, Will, and Lake counties. In each case a big tract of more or less unproductive land has been rented and posted and will be regularly patrolled to keep out hunters and other depredators. And in each instance land has been selected on which the few remaining prairie chickens and quail have made their homes.

During the nesting season and all through the summer and fall they will be able to look out for themselves, if protected against their human enemies. By way of furnishing food for the birds during the cold weather and particularly in case of heavy snows, the commission will plow a few acres of land in the center of each tract and plant corn, wheat, barley, and buckwheat. The crops will be left to ripen on the stalk and so there will always be food within reach, even when the snows are deepest.

Not only game birds but all sorts of insectivorous birds, which do so much to keep down the ravages of insect pests, will find safe nesting places and plenty of food in these reservations.

IN most states which have any policy at all of game conservation, the plan is to establish one or more game farms, where, at large expense, birds are raised in a semi-domesticated environment and later distributed to various parts of the state. This is not only costly but it has not resulted in increasing the game supply to any notable extent.

The scheme of the Illinois commission seems to follow more natural lines and the work can be done in many parts of the state at very little expense. It is hoped that the results from these four experimental reservations will be so good that in another year the plan may be carried out in every county in the state.

To allow the remaining game and other birds to breed in safety and comfort within these reservations and then, as their numbers increase, to spread out over the surrounding country, certainly sounds like a more practical scheme of conservation than to ship crates full of clipped winged birds around the state and turn them loose in unaccustomed surroundings, perhaps to be shot within a few days by waiting hunters.

THE situation is complicated by the federal game law, which went into effect last July and which protects both game and insectivorous migratory birds in all parts of the United States. This national statute differs in some of its provisions from the state law and is, on the whole, much stricter. It forbids all spring shooting, declares a closed season for several years in several Illinois districts, and cuts down the open season on certain game birds.

The federal game warden in Illinois is George M. Clark of River Forest and hunters who wish to keep out of more or less serious trouble will do well to consult him before starting out this fall. The penalty for violation of the federal statute may run as high as a fine of $100 and ninety days in jail.

The state fish and game commission, which has an appropriation of $193,000 for the current year, devotes most of its time and money to the propagation and protection of the fish in Illinois waters, the commercial value of which will surprise most people. Last year there were shipped from the towns along the Illinois river alone fish to the value of about $1,000,000—a total of nearly 24,000,000 pounds. Most of the shipments were of carp and other coarse fish and went, strangely enough, to New York, Philadelphia, and other eastern markets.

THE commission, which consists of C. J. Dittmar of Freeport, Henry V. Meeteren of Chicago, and J. S. Blackmar of Paris, has on its staff six fish and game wardens, sixty deputies, who are employed all the year round, and sixty specials who work only two months in each year.

It has declared "closed," indefinitely, except for fishing with hook and line, Rock river, Kankakee river, Desplaines river, and Lake Calumet. No net fishing will be permitted in any of these waters until the stock of fish has largely increased.

It maintains at Havana on the Illinois river a hatchery for stocking the surrounding streams with fish which are caught commercially and bass ponds at Spring Grove, McHenry county, which now cover twenty-five acres. Here black bass will be raised for restocking the more than fifty lakes in Lake county and other waters in various parts of the state. This summer about fifteen acres more of water will be added to the Spring Grove plant. In these new ponds wall-eyed pike will be propagated.

In contemplation are the building of a second bass hatching plant in the central part of the state, probably on the Kankakee river, and, still later, another plant for lake trout and white fish somewhere on Lake Michigan.

CITY EMPLOYE MURDERED WHILE WORKING ON STREETS.

Two Brothers Are Held for Killing of Michael Smiles, an Attache of the Sewer Department.

Michael Smiles of 1334 South Oakley avenue, employed by the city sewer department, was shot under the left eye yesterday while working with a gang of men at Washtenaw avenue and Van Buren street. He died on the way to a hospital.

"He was killed by Maurice Danaher of 736 North Winchester avenue," said Police Capt. John J. Ryan. "It was a premeditated murder. Maurice confessed. I am holding him and his brother Philip. They drove the team of John Brady, 528 North Leavitt street. It was their duty to carry away the refuse. Smiles was a sort of boss. John Caulfield was the foreman. The Danahers didn't like the idea of working under Smiles. They went to Caulfield's house last night and said they were going to kill Smiles.

"In the morning the brothers hitched their team a short distance away from the gang. Caulfield heard a shot and went running to where the gang were at work. He found Smiles dying."

TIMETABLE GIRL STARTS SCHEDULE

Catherine Condict Begins Life as Papa and Mamma's Child Alternately.

WILL KEEP HER ON GO.

Miss Catherine Condict began to order her life yesterday to conform to a time table as inflexible and almost as complicated as those by which the railroads run their trains.

The time table, devised by Judge O'Connor, went into effect in the morning, when Catherine's mother, Mrs. Charlotte Condict, was granted a divorce from Wallace R. Condict, wealthy real estate dealer. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, according to schedule, a motor car stopped in front of Mrs. Condict's residence at 2219 Lincoln street, Evanston.

Catherine's father was in the tonneau, and he opened his arms to her. That was hint enough. Six hours later, to the minute—also according to schedule—the same machine stopped in front of the same house. Catherine kissed her father goodby and went indoors.

"Remember—Thursday!" he called after her.

Catherine's Time Table.

Before she went to bed Catherine, who is 13, had her time table by heart and for reference had prepared a memorandum something like this:

WITH MAMMA.	WITH DADDY.
Monday,	Tuesday afternoon,
Wednesday,	Thursday afternoon,
Friday,	Every other Saturday afternoon,
Every other Sunday,	Every other Sunday,
Every other Saturday,	Half summer,
Every night,	Easter or
Half summer,	Christmas.
Easter or Christmas.

The time table was arranged because Catherine, when asked whether she preferred to live with her father or her mother, emphatically replied: "Both!"

Leans a Little Toward Father.

The little girl admitted that if she had to make a definite choice she would just a little rather be with her father, because he took her motoring and bought much candy for her.

Because of the provision in the will of her mother-in-law that she receive for life the income on property valued at $51,000, no alimony was awarded to Mrs. Condict.

MAYOR PAYS HIS INCOME TAX; HOW MUCH? DECLINES TO SAY.

Collector Fitch Mails Back Receipt in Thirty-two Minutes, Which Causes Harrison to Comment.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a messenger from Mayor Harrison's office dropped into the Stock Exchange building. He registered a letter carrying to S. M. Fitch, collector of internal revenue, the mayor's check for his income tax. At 4:32 a receipt for the payment was laid on the mayor's desk, having been handed to his secretary by a messenger from the federal building.

"Well, I'll be jish swizzled!" exclaimed the mayor, "I wish we could get some of that speed into city hall affairs."

The mystery of the rapidity of communication could not be solved after the day employés of the federal building had finished work, but it was suspected that representatives of the postoffice and internal revenue department conspired to establish a record as a demonstration of efficiency for the mayor's benefit. The mayor declined to satisfy curiosity as to how much it was.

FRANCIS JOSEPH NO BETTER.

State of Austro-Hungarian Emperor's Health Unchanged, According to Bulletin.

VIENNA, May 5.—The condition of health of Emperor Francis Joseph had not undergone any change today, according to the bulletin issued at the palace of Schoenbrunn. It was stated yesterday that he had suffered a recurrence of the coughing fits.

MRS. YOUNG'S JOB DECLARED SAFE

School Board Attorney Says There Is No Legal Loophole for Ousting.

DIBELKA READY TO QUIT.

The position of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young as superintendent of schools was declared secure yesterday, at least for the present. A. R. Shannon, attorney for the board, said there is no legal loophole through which she could be removed. The ousted members, who will be recognized next Wednesday, said they had no concerted plan of action against the superintendent, and knew of no proposed attempt to unseat her.

James B. Dibelka, one of the ousted four who is listed as opposing Mrs. Young, said he probably would resign immediately. He said it is no honor but a disgrace to associate with some of the present members of the board. Furthermore, the faction opposing Mrs. Young has not at present enough votes to do anything.

Only Nine of Opposition.

Dr. Peter C. Clemensen, said to be antagonistic to Mrs. Young, is in Europe and will not return until the first week in June. Thomas Kelly is ill and will not be able to attend meetings for some time. This leaves only nine votes against the superintendent.

The other faction has ten who are solid. They include the eight members found in contempt of court, and Mrs. John McMahon and Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton.

"There is no possible chance of ousting Mrs. Young," said Mr. Shannon. "She was elected for a year by a board that was at least de facto. She also is a teacher. As such she is protected by the pension law. She cannot be ousted without charges brought against her. Then she would be tried by the trial committee and the finding of that committee would be passed on by the board.

Suit Would Outlast Terms.

"I doubt if the four men to come back will attempt to remove the superintendent. They would not have a chance in the courts, and the suit, anyway, would take more than a year. The terms of the members end in July and hers ends in December."

The trial committee is composed of Julius F. Smietanka, Jacob M. Loeb, and Mrs. Britton, all friendly to the superintendent.

The wrath of the anti-Young faction may be used against Richard S. Folsom, general counsel. His term expires on June 30. Mr. Sonsteby intimated the return of the old men would mean the loss of his job. The trustee is anxious to do away with the position of general counsel and turn over the work to the attorney for the board.

Mrs. Young continued her policy of silence.

ARREST BLOCKS WEDDING PLANNED ON SHORT NOTICE.

Peoria Broker Held on Complaint of Girl with Whom He Says He Quarreled While Picking Trousseau.

Marion Lathrop of Peoria, a grocery broker, locked in a cell at the detective bureau on a charge of abduction, admits two mistakes—first, when he was unhappily married ten years ago; second, when he tried to get married on short notice yesterday.

A young woman with auburn hair is held at South Clark street station to tell her side of the story. She says her name is Pearl Simpson. The police say she complained of Lathrop to a member of the Committee of Fifteen, who caused his arrest.

"I met her in Peoria," Lathrop said. "She said she was an orphan and agreed I would make her a good life companion. We started to Chicago to be married. I planned to take her to my sister's home in Aurora.

"When we got here we went out to buy her some clothes. I insisted on picking out her hat. She got angry and said she'd go her own way.

"A little while later two detectives came and arrested me at the Saratoga hotel."

LEGISLATORS TAKE STEP IN COLORADO TO PREVENT STRIFE

Constitutional Amendment Proposed to Provide Compulsory Arbitration.

THREE MEASURES OFFERED

Republican and Progressive Central Committees Urge Support for Ammons.

MAY REGULATE SALE OF WEAPONS

Denver, Colo., May 5.—The first steps were taken today by the Colorado legislature to pay the expenses of the seven months of industrial warfare in the state and to prevent any similar outbreak in the future.

Three identical measures were introduced in the house and senate to provide a constitutional amendment giving the legislature authority to enact a compulsory arbitration act and laws giving the governor authority to close saloons and regulate the sale or purchase of firearms in times of internal disorders.

In addition a bill to establish a state police force was offered in the senate, and a measure for a bond issue to pay the militia and the expenses of the military campaign was introduced in the house. These bills were referred to committees and an adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning.

All Parties Support Ammons.

Administration leaders expressed satisfaction at the law and order appeals of the Republican state central and the Progressive state central committees.

The Republican appeal urged "all good citizens to unite, regardless of party ties, to obtain peaceful settlement of all industrial disputes."

This was taken as an indication that the Republican legislators will support the program of Gov. Ammons.

The Progressive appeal in part follows:

"The Progressive party urges all good citizens who condemn these conditions and the influences creating them, to join in giving to the state a strong government based upon broad and stable principles, equal justice, and fair treatment to every one alike.

"We also urge the Progressive members of the legislature to the support of constructive measures to remedy the conditions which confront the state."

Confer on Surrender of Arms.

Trinidad, Colo., May 5.—The question of delivering the arms of striking coal miners to the United States army will be put up to the men themselves, according to announcement made by union officials here tonight. The announcement came at the end of a confeence between William Diamond and Robert G. Bolton, strike leaders; Col. James Lockett, and Maj. W. A. Holbrook.

Maj. Holbrook said after the conference that the union officials had agreed to use their influence to persuade the strikers to comply with the requirements of the government.

With the arrival of Col. Lockett and the United States cavalry in the Trinidad district today, twenty-two troops of United States soldiers are now quartered in Colorado's scattered coal fields.

INCENDIARY TALKS DENOUNCED.

New York, May 5.—"Spectacular actions and ranting speeches" indulged in by so-called Socialists are disavowed and persons indulging in "loose talk of assassination, insurrection, and the like" were repudiated in resolutions adopted today by the executive committee of the Socialist party of New York county.

The committee, although it does not mention the name of John D. Rockefeller Jr., expresses implied disapproval of recent demonstrations directed against him individually.

It declared that a violent outburst of resentment against individual capitalists would give the authorities a pretext for drastic measures of repression throughout the country, bringing disaster upon the organized working class of the nation.

MINERS' LEADER IN CHICAGO.

Donald MacGregor, who commanded the miners in the two day battle of the "Hogback," near Walsenburg, Colo., in which Maj. Lester of the Colorado state militia was killed, was smuggled into Chicago last night by his friends.

MacGregor is a former newspaper man. He was working for a Denver newspaper when the present trouble between miners and mine owners started. He was sent to "cover" the story.

He got to Walsenburg about the time of the burning of the tents at Ludlow, where two women and several children—strikers' families were killed.

"Then," he said, "I decided to cast my lot in with the miners near Walsenburg, and prevent another Ludlow. There are thirteen nationalities among the miners. They needed to be organized. I whipped them into shape."

Urges Antidote to Socialism.

James C. McShane, candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, suggested the advisability of securing a legal antidote for socialism, in view of the labor troubles in Colorado and Michigan.

Speaking at St. Paul's hall, Twenty-second place and Hoyne avenue, last night, Mr. McShane said:

"The Colorado labor war, the Michigan and West Virginia strikes, and the frequency and magnitude of these and similar occurrences, clearly indicate the existence of an alarming condition of social unrest throughout the country.

"In my judgment the future peace and welfare of the country depends largely upon the enactment of laws that will tend to restore some sort of equality in these respects. Such laws need not be socialistic, but rather an antidote for socialism."

WIFE OF BELMONT WINS SEPARATION

New York Judge Sharply Rebukes Banker's Son for Reckless Spending of Money.

MONTHLY ALIMONY $100.

Court Fixes Amount, Asserting Husband's Refusal or Neglect to Work Has No Bearing in Case.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—In a decision awarding a decree of separation and $100 a month alimony to Mrs. Ethel Lorraine Belmont in her suit against Raymond Belmont, son of the banker, Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum today commented sharply on young Belmont's mode of living. The judge said he would not permit young Belmont to escape with a small payment of alimony because of his refusal to work when able to do so.

Justice Greenbaum, who has had the Belmont case under consideration for several months, not only upbraided Belmont for the reckless manner in which he spent a large part of his inheritance, but criticised Mrs. Belmont for aiding her husband in squandering his money. He gave her to understand that the amount of alimony she could recover was in no way affected by the wealth of August Belmont or by his generosity toward his son.

Court Holds Separation Is Right.

"Upon the undisputed acts the plaintiff is entitled to a separation," the court said. "The only question at issue is the amount of alimony to be awarded. When the defendant attained his majority in 1910 he was possessed substantially of a capital of $143,328, accumulated through the prudent management of his father. He spent $90,000 in three years and gave his wife, the plaintiff, $20,000 in one payment and additional sums at other times.

"It is evident that of the balance of the $90,000 the greater portion was spent in the company of his wife in a life of pleasure and reckless squanderings. The present market value of his securities remaining at the time of his desertion of his wife a few days after the marriage, on Dec. 1, 1912, is about $42,000. His capital was thus reduced about $100,000. It also appears that his father has discontinued his voluntary annual allowance of $3,000, and he is not engaged in any occupation and is now living abroad on his capital.

Rules Out Father's Wealth.

"It is clear that the wife's alimony should not be affected by the impairment of the husband's ability to support her, brought about by his voluntary or deliberate disposition of his capital. It is equally clear that a husband may not accomplish a diminution in the wife's alimony by a refusal or neglect to work if it appears that he has the physical or mental capacity to work. It is also evident that an award of alimony may not be based upon the assumption that a generous parent possessed of large means may be expected to continue his voluntary bounties upon his son.

"His career of idleness, stimulated by the plaintiff, has not been conducive to a healthy preparation for the serious problems of life. The amount of alimony must be based upon existing conditions. With an assumed earning capacity of $900 and a possible annual income of about $2,000, I am of the opinion that a monthly allowance of $100 is adequate. The plaintiff may have leave to apply for an increase upon submitting proof of her husband's improved financial condition."

ADMITS EMBEZZLING $2,964; CAN'T TELL WHERE IT WENT.

Former Oswego, Ill., Postmaster Pleads Guilty to Theft and Gets Eighteen Months' Sentence.

Judge Landis yesterday sentenced Harley S. Richards, a former postmaster at Oswego, Ill., to eighteen months in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas. Richards pleaded guilty to embezzling $2,964 of postal funds.

Assistant District Attorney David D. Stansbury, in charge of the prosecution, told the judge the case was peculiar. The defendant said he had no knowledge of where the money went, but was willing to take the penalty. More than twenty residents of Oswego appeared ready to testify to Ricards' good character.

Richards is about 50 years old, married, and has five children. He has lived in Oswego all his life. A shortage of $100 was discovered in 1912. A friend made up the deficit. Later the shortage of $2,964 was discovered. Friends again made up the shortage, but this time Richards was indicted.

WILL ASK FOUR INDICTMENTS.

Attorney for Brinkerhoff Stamping Machine Company Takes the Warpath.

Delavan B. Cole, attorney for the Brinkerhoff Stamping Machine company of Clinton, Ia., declared yesterday that he will ask the indictment of four men on charges of burglary and larceny in connection with the alleged theft of $10,000 worth of stamp vending machines from the Brinkerhoff factory on April 18.

"The machines were loaded into four auto trucks at Clinton and taken to Chicago," he said yesterday. "We suspected three men because they own stock in an operating company which has a contract with us and another man who is a stock salesman for the Minnesota concern.

"Our detectives learned through the auto truck company that the property was stored in a loft at 215 West Illinois street. We got writs of replevin and recovered our property."

TWO BATTLESHIP PLAN UPHELD

Lower House in Two Separate Votes Stands By Program of the Administration.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—The administration's two battleship program for next year was sustained in the house today when the one battleship proposal in the naval appropriation bill was voted down, 91 to 148, and a motion to strike out the two battleship provision was rejected by a vote of 41 to 188.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE AND PROHIBITION BILLS IN CONGRESS

Committee Reports Two Measures to Permit Amendments to Federal Constitution.

DOES NOT URGE PASSAGE

Drys Assert They Want Only Chance for States to Give Their Decisionon Question.

VOTE ASSURED IN THIS SESSION

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—The resolution proposing to submit to the states constitutional amendments prohibiting the sale of liquor in the United States and the resolution for the enfranchisement of women were reported to the house today by the judiciary committee. Both resolutions were submitted without either a favorable or unfavorable recommendation.

In letting go two of the most bitterly disputed issues before the public, the committee inaugurated a season of political nightmares for those members, wets and drys, prosuffragists and anti-suffragists, who are hoping to escape committing themselves upon these questions before the congressional election next fall.

The announcement of the action of the committee wrought consternation in the ranks of these "pussyfooters," who are numbered by the score, for many members who are fire eaters on every other question are dodging these issues, particularly that of prohibition.

Vote on Both This Term.

That there will be a vote on both prohibition and suffrage at this session is practically certain. The leaders of the wets profess to be as eager for the division as are the drys, and both factions are prepared to ask the rules committee to report a special rule for the consideration of the resolution if the judiciary committee fails to obtain consideration of the measure in the regular way. Similar procedure applies to be suffrage resolution.

The prohibitionists and the suffragists have inaugurated their campaign with a promise and a threat. If the house votes to submit the questions to the states the forces of the drys and the suffragists will not seek to punish at the polls those members who vote against such action. But if the house refuses to indorse the submission of the amendments the proponents will oppose the reelection of members voting in the negative.

This policy applies also to the senate, which already has rejected the suffrage resolution.

Position Defined by Hobson.

The question of the prohibitionists was set forth in the following statement by Representative Hobson, author of the dry resolution:

"Our argument for prompt action by congress will be that the people want to pass upon this question, and it is the duty of congress to allow them to do so without further delay. We will not ask the members of the house or senate to go on record for or against prohibition. We will simply ask them to pass this resolution along to the voters of the country.

"If this is done no congressman need fear that prohibition will be made an issue by the temperance people in his district. We will drop the fight so far as members of congress are concerned. We will not even oppose those members who vote on the floor of the house against submitting the resolution to the people. All we want is that the members of the house act promptly. We will then concentrate all our forces on the various state legislatures and leave the congressmen alone, since the matter will be forever out of their hands.

"On the other hand if congress smothers this resolution and continues its past scheme of delay, I am confident that prohibition will be made an issue this year in every congressional district in the country, in the primaries as well as in the elections."

Text of Prohibition Amendment.

The prohibition resolution proposes to submit to the states the following constitutional amendment:

"Section 1. The sale, manufacture for sale, transportation for sale, importation for sale, and exportation for sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof are forever prohibited.

"Section 2. Congress shall have power to provide for the manufacture, sale, importation, and transportation of intoxicating liquor for sacramental, medicinal, mechanical, pharmaceutical, or scientific purposes, or for use in the arts, and shall have power to enforce this article by all needful legislation."

Text of Suffrage Amendment.

The proposed suffrage amendment, carried in a resolution, introduced by Representative Mondell of Wyoming, is:

"Article 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.

"Section 2. Congress shall have the power, by appropriate legislation, to enforce the provisions of this article."

Representative Mondell said he would ask a special rule for the consideration of the suffrage resolution. The rules committee indicated its opposition to suffrage by refusing to recommend the creation of a suffrage committee of the house a few weeks ago and the Democratic caucus went on record against national suffrage legislation.

STONE DENOUNCES SUBSIDY IN TOLLS

Senator Who Led Clark Campaign Urges Repeal of Exemption Clause.

VIOLATION OF TREATY.

Letters Read to Show Views of Legal Experts Upon the Question.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]— Senator Stone of Missouri today urged the senate to repeal the exemption clause in the Panama canal act because the exemption provides a subsidy for the coastwise shipping trust.

Senator Stone announced that he had voted for the exemption of tolls in 1912, but since then had concluded there was no reason for the United States to grant a subsidy to the coastwise shipping monopoly, and consequently he had decided to reverse his vote now.

In making his speech the Missourian, who was campaign manager for Champ Clark in 1912, denounced the attacks on the president inspired largely as a result of Clark's speech against repeal in the house.

Monopoly Already Absolute.

"On the merits of the pending question I can find no satisfactory reason why the American people should grant a subsidy of millions to this special interest, the coastwise merchant fleet, which now enjoys an absolute monopoly of the enormous traffic carried on along the coasts of this continent," he said. "None but American vessels can enter into this coastwise business. It is a monopoly enjoyed by the American ships engaging in it.

"The construction of the canal has cost the American people $400,000,000 and it will require millions annually to maintain and operate it. Every vessel passing through the canal will entail an expense. Why should these already favored ships be permitted to utilize this waterway without contributing a farthing toward its maintenance or toward the creation of a fund for the gradual reimbursement of the public treasury for the enormous outlay it has been put to in the construction of the canal?

"The corporations operating these vessels have not shown any great appreciation of the favors already bestowed upon them.

Ship and Rail Combine.

"I hear talk now to the effect that transcontinental railroads are backing the movement for the repeal of the free tolls provision. Nothing has come to me to convince me that this statement is true. But I heard something the other day down at Norfolk that would seem to prove that there is some kind of combination between the Atlantic coastwise vessels and the railroads south of the Potomac river.

"I was informed that these coastwise ships refuse to convey any passenger from Norfolk to any port south of that city. They will not carry any person from Norfolk to Charleston, or Savannah, or Jacksonville, or any other point on the South Atlantic coast. This looks very much like a ship-railroad combination.

"I see no good reason why this subsidy should be given to the owners of these ships; and if it is given it will be a subsidy pure and simple. No man will deny that it is a subsidy. That is admitted on all sides.

Letters Proof of Subsidy.

"In the correspondence between Secretary Knox and representatives of the British government on the subject of these canal tolls, I find this expression in a letter sent by our secretary to our embassy at London to be shown to Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs:

> The exemption of the coastwise trade from tolls or the refunding of tolls collected from the coastwise trade, is merely a subsidy granted by the United States to that trade, and the loss resulting from not collecting or from refunding those tolls will fall solely upon the United States.

"I also find the following in a letter addressed by the British secretary for foreign affairs to the British ambassador at Washington to be shown to Secretary Knox:

> If the United States exempts certain classes of ships from the payment of tolls, the result would be a form of subsidy to those vessels which his majesty's government consider the United States is debarred by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty from making.

Conflict in Baltimore Platform.

"I was a delegate to the Baltimore convention. I heard the platform read and concurred in adopting it. I did not understand, or for one moment imagine, that the tolls resolution was intended to commit the Democratic party to the policy of subsidizing American ships—a policy which had been distinctly denounced in the preceding resolution. Both resolutions were embodied in the same group of resolutions and under the same caption.

"I understood then, as I do now, that the convention only meant to uphold and indorse the act of congress in asserting the right of the government of the United States to regulate the question of tolls on coastwise vessels according to its own untrammeled judgment.

"Surely no Democrat will contend that the convention intended to commit the Democratic party to the policy of ship subsidies, and certainly not to make subsidies a fixed and permanent party policy."

COST $25,000 TO CONVICT JELKE

Counsel for Chief, Sentenced to Two Years, and Aids Renew Fight in Thirty Days.

Cost of the prosecution of John F. Jelke and seven associates, convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government of taxes on colored oleomargarine, amounted to $25,000, according to figures compiled yesterday by District Attorney James H. Wilkerson. Counsel for the convicted men began preparing a bill of exceptions to be filed within thirty days.

EDITORS FAVOR TOLLS REPEAL

Effort to Oppose Wilson Has the Opposite Effect.

MEXICAN POLICY ALSO O. K.

Illinois Democratic Writers Stand by the President.

President Wilson's plan for the repeal of the Panama tolls exemptions was indorsed yesterday by the Democratic editors of Illinois in annual session at the Hotel Sherman.

In spite of quiet efforts made by outside interests to prevent a specific declaration in favor of the tolls policy, the report of the resolutions committee, carrying the "cordial approval" of the Democratic newspaper men, was adopted unanimously.

Indorse Mexican Policy.

The original draft of the resolutions contained the usual sentiment of approval of national and state administrations, until members of the resolutions committee were approached by representatives of a Democratic newspaper opposed to Wilson, with the suggestion that the canal tolls matter might be "overlooked" in dealing with the president's course. The result was that the editors immediately agreed the indorsement should be specific and strong and should include a hearty commendation of the president's Mexican policy. In the amended form the resolutions were adopted.

The resolutions read:

Resolved, That we indorse the address of John M. Rapp as setting forth in appropriate sentiments our approval of the national and state Democratic administrations, and that we recommend publication thereof.

Resolved, That we view with pride the magnificent accomplishments of the Wilson administration, and that we give cordial approval to the policy of the president in the Panama canal tolls proposition and in the controversy with the powers now in control of the government of Mexico.

Forty Editors Present.

Forty Democratic newspaper men, representing the leading daily and weekly downstate newspapers, participated in the convention. John M. Rapp of Fairfield, collector of internal revenue in the East St. Louis district and member of the state legislature, the retiring president, was in the chair.

Representatives in the general assembly and representatives and senators in congress will be urged to obtain the amendment of the public utilities act in Illinois and of the interstate commerce act, so newspapers may get transportation in exchange for advertising without violation of either statute, it was agreed. Similar action doubtless will be taken by the membership of the Illinois Press association, which begins its annual convention today at Hotel Sherman.

These Editors Elected Officers.

The Democratic editors elected officers as follows:

President—E. E. Campbell, Alton Times.
First vice president—Fred Le Roy, Streator Independent-Times.
Second vice president—E. O. Barnes, Raritan Reporter.
Third vice president—T. B. Shoaff, Shelbyville Leader.
Recording secretary—J. M. Sheets, Oblong Oracle.
Corresponding secretary—M. P. Kelly, Watseka Times-Democrat.
Treasurer—J. M. Bush, Pittsfield Democrat.

W. E. Cass Clifford of Champaign, now assistant state treasurer and candidate for the Democratic nomination for state treasurer, was at state Democratic headquarters and in conference with the editors during the day.

OLNEY DECLINES PLACE ON BOARD

President Must Look for Another Man as Federal Reserve Leader.

HOUSTON MAY BE NAMED.

President Would Have Chosen Him Before Except for Cabinet Needs.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—President Wilson is again searching for a governor of the federal reserve board. After four months of painstaking inquiry he had determined on Richard Olney, former secretary of state, as the man to head the board which will regulate the nation's system of twelve regional banks, but the latter has declined, being unwilling at his advanced age to undertake new responsibilities.

Many administration officials were disposed to believe that Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture would be the man finally chosen in Mr. Olney's place.

Opposes Loss in Cabinet.

It is known that the president has wanted to appoint Mr. Houston to the federal reserve board, but did not wish to make any changes in his cabinet, which he refers to as "a team."

Mr. Houston favorably impressed those who came in contact with him when he toured toured the country as a member of the organization committee of the federal reserve board, and his name was suggested for the board then.

May Name New Englander.

It is known that since Mr. Olney's declination the president has not fixed on any one, but is looking over the field for another member of the board. He is said to be anxious to get a New England man, so that all sections may be represented.

Col. William A. Gaston and Joseph O'Neill, prominent Boston bankers, have been suggested as possibilities for the board, but it is believed the president will choose a business man with legal training.

REPRIMAND FOR ERICSON SEEN.

City Civil Service Board Hesitates to Blame Four Bridge Repair Foremen Because of System.

An unusual entry in the records of the city civil service commission yesterday was considered a reprimand for City Engineer John Ericson and Bridge Engineer Thomas G. Pihlfeldt. It was entered in the cases of four bridge repair foremen, Walter R. Carmody, James B. McKinlay, John Heinen, and Jacob Olson, who are under charges of neglect of duty.

"The commission stated," read the minutes of the meeting, "it was of the opinion that, although the men charged were not blameless for conditions in the repair division, as shown by the evidence and admitted by the employés under charges, it felt that the system and organization, as shown by the evidence, were in a measure responsible for the conditions found and for this reason it was not able to definitely fix full responsibility therefor at this time."

The four cases were taken under advisement for sixty days, during which the efficiency division will keep an eye on the repair gangs.

Wood Pulp Rate Hearing Begun.

A hearing was begun in the federal building yesterday on the protests of the Pulp and Paper Manufacturers' association, composed of forty companies, operating fifty mills in Wisconsin and Michigan, against alleged exorbitant freight rates charged.

RESERVE DISTRICT GROUPS BROACHED

First National Bank Suggests Classification Plan for Chicago Territory.

INTERPRETS NEW ACT.

Finds Grand Total of 956 Institutions with Capital of $140,875,000.

The First National Bank of Chicago has figured out a classification of the national banks in the seventh, or Chicago federal reserve bank district. It has made this classification in accordance with its interpretation of that paragraph in the federal reserve act which provides that the banks, for the purpose of electing Class A and B directors, shall be divided into three groups, and continues:

"Each group shall contain as nearly as may be one-third of the aggregate number of the member banks of the district, and shall consist as nearly as may be of banks of similar capitalization."

The bank adds: "In order to gain a clearer survey of the makeup of these groups in the Chicago district under the foregoing rule, we have compiled a statement indicating the number of banks which, upon the basis of their capital, must, as we understand it, be gathered into one group."

Total Banks in District, 956.

In the Chicago district the bank finds a grand total of 956 banks with capitalization of $140,875,000.

In group 1 there are 335 banks, having a capital of $100,000 and over. Of this number 190 banks have a capital of $100,000 each, or a total of $19,000,000. The Continental and Commercial National with its capital of $21,500,000 has a larger capital than 190 other banks in group one. Group 2 has $18,668,000, and contains 346 banks. The Continental's capital is greater than that of all the banks in group 2.

In group 3, having 275 banks, there is a total of $7,433,000 capital. The First National bank with its capital of $10,000,000 has more capital therefore than all of the banks in group 3.

There will be a board of nine directors elected to control the federal reserve bank of the Chicago district. Six of these directors will be elected by the banks of the district, and three will be appointed by the federal reserve board at Washington.

Groups to Elect Directors.

Each one of the three groups of banks will elect two directors, one representing the banking interests and one representing commercial, industrial, or agricultural interests. The elections will not be held until after the official classification into three groups is made by the organization committee at Washington. But it is assumed that the appended grouping by the First National will represent approximately, if not actually, the final grouping.

The statement shows the member banks in each group and the principal cities of the district, as also the total capital of each group and of the states and principal cities in the district. The compilation follows:

GROUP NO. 1.

Capital, $100,000 and over—335 banks.

President J. B. Forgan says in the circular which is issued to members of federal reserve district No. 7:

"Thinking that it might be of interest to our friends in this district to be informed of the result of our compilation we take pleasure in appending the same for your perusal and study."

Lake Shore Sells Notes.

It is announced that the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway company has sold in London and Paris a total of about $20,000,000 one year notes to be dated May 15. The proceeds will be used to meet the $10,000,000 sterling notes due in London on the date mentioned and to reimburse the treasury for cash used in meeting earlier maturities of the year, and in various outlays for improvement.

The notes sold abroad do not carry interest and are not coupon notes, but have been sold at a price which, considering the exchange transaction involved, is equivalent to about a 4½ per cent basis in the New York market.

New Incorporations Increase.

New incorporations for the month of April were the largest of any month in the current calendar year, though not so large as in April, 1913. Following are comparative figures compiled by the New York Journal of Commerce of companies incorporated in the eastern states during the last three years with an authorized capital of $1,000,000 or more:

Clearings at Chicago were $62,377,118. New York exchange sold at 20c premium.

Dividends Declared.

Directors of the Lindsay Light company declared the usual quarterly dividend of one-half of 1 per cent on the common and of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stocks, payable May 20 to stockholders of record May 15.

The American Cotton Oil company declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on its preferred stock, payable June 1. Books close May 15 and reopen June 2. The board took no action in the matter of a dividend on the common stock at this time.

In the Curb Market.

There has been considerable buying interest in the local bank stock market, as compared with a ... Continental and Commercial National advanced from 284 to 287. First National sold at 415; Standard Trust and Savings, 162; Lake and State, 125; Edgewater State bank, 187.

In the unlisted stocks Stewart-Warner Speedometer common changed hands at 49, an advance of 1½ points. The preferred is in demand at 99, with stock offered for sale at 99½. Butler Brothers sold at 311, an advance of 5 points above last sales. Linde Air Products continues strong, advancing to 159. There has been a little demand for National Grocer; the common sold at 50¼.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Cotton goods were quiet today. Yarns were dull. Clothing manufacturers reported fall orders a third less than a year ago up to this time. Raw silk continued strong.

NEW YORK STOCKS LACK IN SUPPORT

Prices Rise and Fall in Narrow Range; Net Changes Are Unimportant.

HILL SHARES ARE HEAVY.

Northern Pacific Loses 2 Points, but Recovers; Oil Issues Tumble.

New York, May 5.—Speculation was slow and irresolute today. The confidence with which prices were bid up on the recent rise was missing. Outside buying fell off greatly and professional traders shifted from one side of the market to the other, with the result that quotations alternately rose and fell within a narrow range. Net changes were unimportant.

The market's hesitation reflected the attitude of traders, who considered the outlook too uncertain to permit of entering upon heavy commitments. The improvement in Mexican affairs brought about by mediation appeared to have been discounted in the rise of the last week, and there was no disposition to push the advance further pending this settlement. In none of the other factors bearing upon the speculative situation was there any important change and the market drifted idly through most of the session.

London Prices Barely Changed.

London prices were barely changed, and foreign representatives did little here. Perhaps 5,000 shares were sold for London. This selling, together with realizing sales, sent prices lower at the outset. The Hill shares led the decline, Northern Pacific losing 2 points on the report that a new bond issue of the stock was to be put out. The report met with prompt denial, followed by a recovery in the stock.

Missouri Pacific made a temporary showing of strength, owing to the expectation of an early announcement of new financial backing for the road, but it sold down in the last hour, after it became known that no definite action had been taken by the directors at today's meeting. The whole list eased off in the late dealings, after various shares had made net gains of a point or more, and last prices were near the day's lowest.

Further cuts in crude oil prices and reductions in dividends by pipe line companies caused a tumble in oil stocks on the curb. In some cases the declines ran to 20 points or more.

Bond Market Is Steady.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $2,300,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Call money steady, 1¾@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1⅞; closing bid, 1¾@2. Time loans weak; sixty days, 2⅝ per cent; ninety days, 3; six months, 3@3¼. Mercantile paper, 3¾@4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady; sixty days, 4.8535; demand, 4.8765. Commercial bills, 4.84⅝. Bar silver, 59⅛c. Mexican dollars, 45⅝c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds steady.

DALLAS COUNTY is located in the north-central portion of Texas and contains 859 square miles in the black waxy belt noted for its fertility. According to the 1910 Federal census, Dallas County had a population of 135,748, which exceeded by 15,000 the population of any other Texas county. Dallas, the county seat, on Trinity River, is served by nine steam railroads and is connected with Fort Worth, Sherman and Denison by electric interurban cars. It is known as one of the largest manufacturing and distributing centers southwest of St. Louis, its jobbing business exceeding $150,000,000 annually. The city is served by fourteen banks with combined deposits exceeding $32,000,000.

These bonds will bear the certificate of the Attorney-General of the State of Texas that they are lawful obligations, will be registered in the Office of the State Comptroller in accordance with the requirements of the Texas laws, and when the bonds are so issued their validity cannot be questioned except on the ground of forgery or fraud.

WHEAT DECLINES; CORN ADVANCES

Coarse Grains Strong on Light Receipts and Bullish Argentine Advices.

PATTEN BROKERS BUYERS

Delayed Plate Shipments a Factor; Shipping Demand Is Slow for Cereals.

Wheat failed to show much snap yesterday in spite of the fairly strong tone of the foreign markets and the upturn in corn. Offerings were light early, but near the close there was free selling by commission houses which encouraged local selling, and the tone was heavy. Resting prices were unchanged to ½@⅝c lower. May held firm, and shorts were nervous at times, as the market responded easily to any buying.

Liverpool lost part of the early advance, closing unchanged to ¼d up. The firmer tone was due to the continued light shipments and offers from Russia, and the countries in the southern hemisphere, and because of the less favorable European crop reports, and the big decrease in the European visible. Paris was ½c higher; Antwerp, ⅝c up; Berlin, ¼c higher, and Budapest, ¼c off.

Foreign Crops Less Promising.

Light rains were reported in Hungary, but not enough to do much good. Generally the reports in regard to foreign crop conditions were less favorable than they have been. The demand for spot wheat abroad was fair. Local dealers reported a slower demand for cash wheat, and there was little export business reported. Some of the local exporters said they had had no bids for two days. From this it would appear that foreign buyers are ready to buy only on the reactions, as they do not seem inclined to follow any advance at present.

Total sales here were only 55,000 bu. There were unconfirmed rumors that some Minneapolis wheat would be brought here. However, judging from the liberal shipments from Chicago, if stocks are maintained it will take liberal purchases from other points.

Weather Cold Northwest.

Weather conditions continue cold and rainy in the northwest and in Canada and it is now late enough in the season so that the unfavorable weather is causing more anxiety. Winnipeg was relatively firmer than domestic markets. Receipts northwest were 134 cars, against 300 cars a year ago, and Winnipeg had 445 cars; last year, 560 cars. Total primary receipts were only 275,000 bu, against 851,000 bu a year ago. Local receipts were 95 cars, with 123 cars the estimate for today.

World's stocks showed a decrease for the week of 9,793,000 bu, against a loss for the corresponding week last year of 11,261,000 bu. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 400,000 bu for three days and Duluth decreased 447,000 bu for two days. Kansas City shipments were liberal. Clearances for the day of wheat and flour were fair at 412,000 bu.

Corn Closes Sharply Higher.

Argentine news was again the buying influence in corn. Prices at the finish were ⅜c to ⅞c higher. Bartlett-Frazier brokers were credited with buying and James A. Patten wired a lot of bullish information in regard to the Argentine conditions that caused some buying support. Patten wired that Plate shipments would not be heavy for some time. Buenos Aires, which has been advancing rapidly on corn recently, closed ¼c up to ⅝c off, evidently longs taking profits.

Rains were reported in Argentina, and pessimistic reports were received in regard to the damage done to the quality of the corn. Small receipts here and at western points had a good deal to do with the strength of the market also. Receipts were 161 cars, with only 32 cars inspected yesterday. Primary arrivals were 320,000 bu, against 572,000 bu a year ago.

The cash market here was not much changed, but prices were generally higher at outside markets. Local sales were 175,000 bu. Charters were made for 130,000 bu corn at Buffalo at 1c. Liverpool was ⅝@¾d higher at the close. World's stocks showed a decrease for the week of 3,261,000 bu.

Oats Market Rallies.

The oats market reflected the strength in corn and at the finish prices were ⅛@⅜@½c higher. Cash prices were not much changed, but there was a fair demand and sales for shipment were 310,000 bu. Receipts were 129 cars, with 99 cars the estimate for today. Western receipts were 312,000 bu, compared to 571,000 bu a year ago. Offerings from the country were moderate. Crop news was favorable and reports from most sections indicate the acreage will be approximately the same as last year.

Hog Products Steady.

Products were moderately active and prices generally were a little firmer. Buying was scattered, and there was no heavy selling pressure. Receipts of hogs were 11,000, with 22,000 expected today. Prices were firm to a little higher at the yards. The cash trade was moderate in volume. Receipts of hogs at western points were 67,800, compared to 78,900 a year ago. Hog packing for the week was 375,000, against 486,000 a year ago, according to the Drovers' Journal. Liverpool prices were 3d higher for lard and 6d off for Cumberland cuts and backs. Receipts of products here were 43 cars, with shipments of 128 cars.

Rye Market Inactive.

Rye was inactive and prices were nominal, with No. 2 at 63c and No. 3, 59@61c. Receipts, 3 cars.

Barley was steady with sales of malting at 52@62½c; feed, 44@49c and screenings, 24@48c. Receipts, 33 cars.

Timothyseed was unchanged at $2.75@4.50 for cash. Cloverseed held steady at $8.00@12.50 for cash.

Duluth flax closed ¼@½c lower, with cash on track, $1.58⅛; May, $1.57⅝; July, $1.59⅛; September, $1.60⅞, and October, $1.58¼. Receipts, 3 cars. Minneapolis was steady to 1c higher at $1.56⅛@1.58⅛ for cash on track. Receipts, 4 cars. Winnipeg closed ⅛@⅜c higher, with May, $1.36⅝; July, $1.39⅞, and October, $1.41½. Receipts, 67 cars.

AMERICAN GRAIN MARKETS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 5.—The wheat market opened stronger today on firmer cables and reports of an over-abundance of moisture in the northwest. A good cash demand tended to add strength in mid-forenoon, but prices eased off again temporarily. The options were inactive a greater part of the day. BOARD OF TRADE GOSSIP.

James A. Patten wired from New York: "Argentina is trying to cancel or postpone shipment of more corn. I am afraid there will not be free arrivals of Argentine corn till late June or July. Unless the western farmer sells freely after corn planting we are not going to see much of a break. Argentine paid 1c per bushel this morning to extend time of shipment five days on one lot of corn. Four cents per bushel was paid this morning to extend time of shipment from first half of May to last half of May. One buyer told me that he had two cargoes bought from Argentine, April shipment; one said to have been loaded on April 12 and the other April 14, but neither vessel has actually sailed from Argentine yet. They are waiting there taking on more freight. Our American corn is going to be wanted for some time yet, in my opinion."

At a caucus of the members of the open board of trade yesterday James Webster was named for president and E. J. Sherwin for vice president. The election will be held next Tuesday.

Cleveland, O., wired: "Better outlook for the trade in corn and oats. Fairly brisk inquiry was reported from the east, with farm deliveries light."

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 123 cars; corn, 82 cars; oats, 99 cars; rye, 3 cars; barley, 83 cars; hogs, 22,000 head.

Minneapolis wired: "Understand Duluth has sold some wheat to eastern mills. Nothing for export reported so far."

Minneapolis reported 350,000 bu cash wheat sold from there to come to Chicago.

Slaughter had a cable from Braila, Roumania, saying Hungarian crop was damaged.

Deliveries on May contracts were: Wheat, 10,000 bu; corn, 165,000 bu; short ribs, 300,000 lbs.

Shipping sales yesterday were 55,000 bu wheat, 175,000 bu corn, and 310,000 bu oats.

OUTLYING LEASE AT HIGH FIGURE

John W. Bohan Takes Wenzel Property at 331-35 East 51st for 99 Years.

RATE OF $1,818 A FOOT.

Lessee Will Erect Building to Cost Not Less than Thirty-five Thousand Dollars.

A noteworthy deal in outlying south side property is the long term lease by Gustav A. Wenzel of the property at 331-35 East Fifty-first street, at the southwest corner of Calumet avenue.

The lot fronts 66 feet with a depth of 100 feet, with frame improvements, and has been leased by Mr. Wenzel to John W. Bohan for ninety-nine years from May 1, 1914 at a straight annual rent of $6,000, the lessee to pay taxes, insurance, etc. Capitalizing the ground rent on a 5 per cent basis, gives a leasing value of $120,000, which is at the rate of $1,818 a front foot and $18.18 a square foot, a stiff figure for property in this location.

Under the terms of the lease the lessee is to improve prior to May 1, 1934 with a building to cost not less than $10,000, but he is said to be planning the erection of a building to cost about $35,000, the larger part of which he will occupy with a saloon. Mr. Wenzel has owned the property for over twenty years, during which time he has occupied it with a saloon and restaurant. Recently the Fifty-first street frontage has been occupied with stores.

Buys Eighteen Flat Building.

Record was made of the purchase by Frank C. Rathje from Elizabeth H. Lothgren of the eighteen apartment building at the southwest corner of Clifton and Sunnyside avenues, with 100x112 feet, east front, and 121 feet on the south line; also the property at the northwest corner of the two streets, lot 103½x110 feet on the south and 105.8 feet on the north; also improved with an eighteen apartment building.

A consideration of $10 is given in the transfer, subject to an incumbrance of $87,400, but the actual consideration is said to have been about $110,000 in the form of western lands for the greater part.

Central Transfer Recorded.

There was also filed for record the transfer by the estate of George G. Newbury to Nina B. Jenny, a stepdaughter of Mr. Newbury, of the property at the northeast corner of Wabash avenue and Eldridge place, 39x100 feet, improved with a seven story and basement fireproof building; also the property in Harmon place, 139 feet west of Michigan boulevard, 52x124 feet, south front, nominal consideration being given in both transfers. The transfers are said to be in connection with the settlement of the Newbury estate.

Herbert E. Bucklen has sold to Harry Zidman the property at 2128 Indiana avenue, 25x161 feet, east front, for $10,000.

Jacob Blumenthal has sold to Joseph Lewis the property in Milwaukee avenue, 225 feet northwest of North Paulina street, 25x100 feet, northeast front, with improvements, the consideration being nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $15,000. Mr. Lewis susequently quitclaimed an undivided half interest to Joseph G. Sackheim, subject to an incumbrance of $25,000.

Archer Avenue Property Conveyed.

Henry M. Goldsmith who recently took title to the property at the southwest corner of Archer avenue and Thirty-fifth street, 75 feet, southeast front, has conveyed the same to Thomas J. Healy and Edward R. Litzinger. It is said they took title for a bank which will improve with a fine bank building.

E. C. Brownlee of Mallers & Co. has leased for the Cawston Ostrich Feather company to the Wood Confectionery company the store and basement at 108 South Michigan avenue in the new Monroe building for eight years from May 1 at a term rent of $93,000, or $11,000 a year for the first three years and $12,000 for the next five years. The Cawston concern has assumed for the lessees the lease on their former store, 75 East Monroe street, for a term at an annual rent of $5,000.

West Talks on Taxes.

Roy O. West, president of the board of review, who talked on taxation in Cook county at the weekly luncheon of the Cook county real estate board yesterday, declared there was no reason for the increase in the state tax rate made by Gov. Dunne and expressed the opinion that had Mr. Deneen been reëlected governor there would have been no material increase in the rate. He referred to Mr. Deneen's statement that there was enough money in the hands of the state at the close of his administration to make any material increase unnecessary.

He also said he had voted against all the proposed bond issues at the recent election without any reference to their merit and for the sole reason that he had grown sick and tired of additional bond issues, which mean additional taxes. He referred to the fact that under the original Juul law the rate of taxation was only a little over 1 per cent on the full cash value of the property, while now it was about 1.75 per cent and probably would be higher next year. He said the Juul law had been so amended as to bear little resemblance to the original law.

He declared the proper classification of property with reference to taxation purposes was the only solution for the lack of uniformity which prevails now, and that it can only be secured by an amendment to the constitution along the lines recommended by the recent tax commission.

DISASTERS BRING FIRE SAFETY LAW

R. D. Kohn, Head of Protective League, Says Catastrophes Roused People.

LOCAL FIGHTERS PRAISED

Frank M. Drake Wants Women and School Children Taught Use of Flame.

Praise for Chicago's fire fighters was given yesterday at the eighteenth annual meeting of the National Fire Protective association, which began its three day session in the Insurance Exchange building. More than 200 members from all parts of the country and Canada listened to addresses on "Fire, Our Common Enemy."

President Robert D. Kohn in opening the convention said the public was beginning to wake up to its responsibilities in fire prevention. He asserted the man who preaches the need of vigilance in fire prevention work no longer is suspected of ownership of insurance stock or of an interest in a patent fire extinguisher.

Aided by Catastrophe.

"It is a fact our cause has been furthered by great catastrophes," Kohn said. "In New York a series of terrible fires resulting in an enormous loss of life shocked the people to an awakening. I doubt that even a great loss of property could have accomplished this. The snuffing out of lives stirred the people. It resulted in the appointment of special investigating commissions and the passage of drastic laws in a number of states looking toward the correction of the conditions that made the losses possible.

"In the preparation and support of these laws and ordinances, first forced on the attention of our legislators by an aroused public opinion, the members of our National Fire Protective association have been of invaluable service during the last year."

Wants Lessons for Children.

Education of women and school children in the use of fire was urged by Frank M. Drake in his report on state fire prevention associations. "The awarding of valuable prizes to school children for essays on the subject by state branches of the organization would be money well spent," he said.

According to H. W. Forster of Philadelphia, more than 65 per cent of 14,000 fires were quickly extinguished by the sprinkler system.

Robert Adamson, fire commissioner of New York City, will speak on "Municipal Fire Prevention" at this morning's session.

CATTLE MARKET STEADY.

Plain Quality Keeps Prices Low; Sheep and Lambs Make 10@15 Cent Gain.

Hog receipts of 10,000 head at Chicago yesterday met with a brick demand from all classes of buyers at strong to 5c higher prices. The trade was active, and only 2,500 hogs of inferior quality were left unsold at the close. Top sales were made at $8.55 and the bulk cleared at $8.40 to $8.50, with the average at $8.47.

Cattle trade was quiet and steady on fresh receipts of 2,500 head. The quality of the steers offered was plain and $8.95 was the best price secured. Calves held on a firm basis, with the bulk of the choice vealers at $8.75@9.00 and a few assorted lots at $9.25.

Sheep and lambs made strong to 10@15c higher prices. Packers appeared to have orders for all the 17,000 head received and an early clearance was made. Best lambs topped at $8.60 for Colorados and $7.65 for clippers. Sheep sold up to $6.35 for prime shorn wethers.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET

BOSTON, Mass., May 5.—[Special.]—Trading in mining issues continued quite active today, but prices were generally irregular under the influence of heavy profit taking. Alaska, Winona, and Butte and Superior were all prominent in the day's business. The latter lost a full point, but the other two gained fractionally. Other issues showing strength were Wolverine and Smelting issues, Ray, and Arizona Commercial, while Greene, Granby, Centennial, Calumet and Arizona, and North Butte were lower. Shoe machinery continued strong. Rails were firm and improvement was shown in American Telephone and East Boston. Call money, 3 per cent; time loans, short dates, 3½@4 per cent; time loans, six months, 3¾@4½ per cent; time loans, year, 4@4½ per cent.

IN THE PRODUCE MARKET.

Butter market had a buoyant undertone at Chicago yesterday and prices were advance ½c a pound, bringing extras in creameries to 25½c. Receipts were 8,364 tubs. The warehousemen's report made cold storage stocks of butter 9,679,000, or 8,834,000 lbs in excess of holdings at this time last year.

Egg market was easy and prices averaged a shade lower. The trade was surprised at the showing of cold storage holdings, which were placed at 1,077,000 cases, against 1,962,000 cases a year ago. The general impression had been that reserves were smaller than at this time last year.

Receipts of potatoes were increased to 62 cars, but the demand proved equal to the offerings, and prices were supported on a steady basis, with sales at 67@73c a bushel on track.

Poultry values held unchanged. Receipts were smaller, 4 cars and 1,005 coops.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, May 5.—Money was plentiful and discount rates were firm today. Paris secured most of the $3,750,000 new gold offered in the open market. There was keen competition for the metal and the price was advanced ⅜d to 77s 9⅜d per ounce, the highest since 1909. The budget statement, proposing an increased income tax and a raid on the sinking fund, displeased the stock market, and gilt edged securities declined at the opening. Later consols regained a part of the loss, but the other sections were quiet and easy and Paris continued to sell its favorites. Mexican rails were weak on poor monthly statements, but Canadians had a better tone.

CENTRAL.

STATE ST.
The Natural Route for the SUBWAY

SHREWD INVESTORS agree that STATE-ST. should be the best business street in Chicago, as it is the main artery of traffic on the South Side—100 feet wide—running without obstruction right through the heart of THE NEW SOUTH CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT direct to the GREATEST RETAIL BUSINESS DISTRICT IN THE WORLD. Recent conditions in this zone of business activity have not been sufficiently understood to materially affect prices, so that the opportunities on STATE-ST. for safe and profitable investment are unexcelled. We own the best property on the street that is for sale. Send for our Special List of State-st. Property. FRED'K H. BARTLETT & CO., OWNERS, 59-69 W. Washington-st. Telephone Randolph 3751. BUILDING MATERIAL.

USE FLEX-A-TILE SHINGLES OF WEATHER-PROOF ASPHALT
If you want a roof that will lastingly resist the wear and tear of the elements and always retain its original beauty. A Flex-a-Tile roof is really inexpensive, when you consider its durability and the fact that it requires fewer shingles. You'll find the owner of every Flex-a-Tile roofed home entirely satisfied in every way.
Flex-a-Tiles are built for satisfactory service because we doubly safeguard their quality by our own rigorous factory tests. All the materials used—the wool, the asphalt, the slate, and gravel—are the finest procurable. Our facilities for manufacturing high grade roofing are unequaled — we know how because we have been at it for years and years. If you cannot obtain Flex-a-Tile Asphalt Shingles, let us know. Ph. Kedzie 2365. The Heppes Co., 1041 Kilbourn-av.

Summery Blouses and Tub Frocks

SUMMER is in the air. It is also in this Blouse Section on the Fourth Floor. Radiant summer, blooming with sheer organdies, thin to transparency, with gay-colored summer silks, with voiles and crepes—smart in every line and trimming.

May Blouses Have Taken On an Added Sheerness

Two are illustrated. To the right a crisp, cool-looking waist of organdie, much tucked, trimmed with dainty embroidered collar and cuffs, and edged with picot frillings in delicate tints, such as pale blue, lavender and rose—Special, $5.75.

To the left is a blouse of foulard—brilliantly flowered in high colors on a dark background. Collar and cuffs are of white organdie—Special, $5.75.

Fourth Floor, North Room.

Tub Frocks—Specials at $3.95 and $5.75

To the right is a waistcoat frock—of "snowflake" crepe as to skirt and sleeves; crepe imprime for waistcoat, $5.75.
